Dr. Purdy referred again and again to the country, as a "land of opportunity," citing fortunes made on what would be a very small outlay in our country, and he spoke of the agricultural aspect as the finest in the world, the Argentina wheat fields are now noted, with a much greater promise for the future.

Dr. Purdy closed his address with an earnest plea for missionary work among these countries and a hope that even our little town will be one day be represented in this work or along some other useful lines.

Rev. Buell gave two saw solos with Mrs. F. J. Kiskaddon accompanist and Rev. H. J. B. Marsh favored the club with two beautiful vocal solos.

A rising vote of thanks was extended Dr. Purdy and the home ministers for their delightful program.

On Monday, April ninth, the year's work will formally close with a one o'clock luncheon at the club rooms. Mrs. Chas. Mattis will cater for the luncheon and that alone promises a splendid feature for the afternoon. Music and a short program will add to the pleasure of those attending. You are requested to buy your ticket before Friday night as they are now on sale at Coller's Music Store and Pulver's Drug Store. This is necessary to know how many to plan for.

BAD MORNING FIRE.

Last Saturday morning fire broke out at the home of Elmer Blesing on S. Pearl St. and destroyed nearly the whole house.

The fire is supposed to have started from sparks from the chimney falling on the roof and had quite a headway before discovered. However, Geo. Field, a near neighbor, came to the rescue and had checked the blaze on the roof when the fire department arrived which was slightly delayed in reaching the fire on account of not getting the location properly.

As soon as the department arrived the fire was vigorously attacked and subdued after the whole upstairs had burned and the roof was almost entirely destroyed. Much of the contents was badly damaged by fire and water and nearly everything up stairs was lost. The house is almost a total loss.

Mr. Blesing has been very sick for some time and Mrs. Doty, his mother-in-law, was just recovering from pneumonia which made it doubly hard. Friends and neighbors took hold gallantly and one man known for his giving aid in time of need rented a house for two months nearby and helped to get the family moved there with what goods were saved from the fire. Other men of equally good will contributed to the relief of these distressed people and altogether they were made as comfortable as possible.

Geo. Field in some manner fell from the roof while fighting the fire and was badly jarred up but no serious injury resulted as far as could be learned. The damage is estimated at from $2500 to $3000 with insurance on the building of $1800 and on the contents $900.

ENTERTAINS AT DINNER.

Miss Edna Taylor entertained a party of friends at a dinner party Thursday evening at her home on West Kilbuck street. The table was attractively decorated in a color scheme of yellow and easter favors. A large basket of yellow daffodils centered the table and rabbits and chickens were placed about the table. Yellow tapers lighted the dining room.

A four-course dinner was served covers laid for the Misses Katheryn Reed, Mildred Haynes, Leila Woerthner, Luella Lowry, Ethel McIntyre, Gladys Bowen, Lillian Kennedy, Ruby Reckner and Mrs. Fay VanValkenburg.

After dinner cards were enjoyed.

GIVEN A SURPRISE.

The members of the Dorcas class of the Methodist Sunday School pleasantly surprised one of their members, Mrs. Emma Day, at her home on Thursday afternoon, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

A social time was enjoyed, after which a pot luck supper was served. Mrs. Day was presented with a beautiful fern.

GOOD FOR TECUMSEH.

We are glad to know that business is steadily growing among the progressive retail merchants of Tecumseh and from what we can learn it is getting better every day.

Yesterday, Leon Rosacrans, a member of the firm of Fred Rosacrans & Sons, stated that they are having the biggest rug and linoleum sales as well as the largest trade in women's ready-to-wear suits, coats and dresses that they have ever had in their history and this firm is certainly doing a very large and growing business built strictly upon merit of their goods, honest representation and fair dealing with every customer who comes to them. This most excellent business policy always has and always will win the support of the trading public.

It is surely gratifying to us to know that all loyal progressive Tecumseh merchants can say the same and that the future of our splendid town is one of stable growth that makes for a better town and a better trading center for everyone.

193 1-2 Eggs Per Hen Per year

LeClair Whelan, a Poultryman, of Tipton, Mich. certainly makes a strong bid for championship honors for his flock of White Leghorns. The 100 hens averaged 193½ eggs per bird for a whole year, a great record for so large a flock and for such a long time.

If any one doubts this record let me say right here that this egg sheet shows figures were kept from November 1, 1921 until November 1st, 1922. You can see at a glance that they are year around layers. He has flock after flock, from 20 to 100 and 250 birds that are never let out of the house the year around, that average from 183 to 167 eggs per bird. There are several reasons for this high record. The fowls were bred right, were fed right and were handled right. It is not the pen of five birds that counts, it is the whole flock that we are looking for. Whelan has 300 hens under Government Supervision where you can secure hatching eggs at a very reasonable price. The flock is never let out of the laying house......Write for information.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

Errors of vision may be broadly divided into three classes—far-sight, near-sight, and astigmatism. A fourth condition called presbyopia or old sight, is not an error of vision, but a condition which even the person with normal vision experiences, or begins to experence, along about middle life.

The Optometrist's usual patient is numbered among one of the above classes. Or the errors of vision may be combined, in which case the lenses or glasses which are supplied are called compound lenses, because they correct more than one error of vision.

Our next article will be on far-sight.

To be continued next Thursday.

An Addition to Our Line

In offering to you the Waterloo Boy, we believe we have selected the most practical, economical and reliable farm tractor on the market. The Waterloo Boy has been a success on farms for more than five years. Its ability to give you real service has been demonstrated fully.

JOHN DEERE
WATERLOO BOY TRACTOR

The Waterloo Boy is a three-plow tractor—the most economical and practical size to use. A special manifold, built to gasify the kerosene, converts this fuel into the proper condition for complete combustion. All the fuel is turned into power. The spark plugs are not fouled. Cylinders remain free from carbon. The lubricating oil is not diluted.

The two-cylinder, heavy-duty engine furnishes full 12 H. P. on the drawbar, and 25 H. P. on the belt. The Waterloo Boy handles a three-bottom plow under practically all field conditions, pulls a 26 inch separator, and does other field and belt work in proportion.

The simplicity of the Waterloo Boy makes a special appeal to its owners. Every part is easy to get at and easy to adjust or repair. You don't have to be an expert to care for a Waterloo Boy.

In its construction, the Waterloo Boy is especially strong and rugged. Its gears are heat-treated, steel cut. Its frame is of channel steel, strongly braced. Twelve Hyatt Roller bearings, heavy-duty type, carry the drawbar and belt loads, and reduce friction to the minimum.

The Waterloo Boy is dependable. You can count on it to take care of your farm power jobs, both drawbar and belt, in a practical and efficient manner. It gives you the kind of power that means the most to you—the kind you want.

The first time you are in town, come into the store. We want you to see the Waterloo Boy.

The parents, one sister, Mrs. Sadie Miller of Northville and three brothers, Roy and Ray Covell of Northville and Harold, who lives at home, survive and keenly feel their loss. The funeral services were held Saturday March 17 at eleven o'clock at the home and were private. Rev. J. C. DeRemer officiating. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery. The grief stricken family have the sympathy of hosts of friends. The sister and brothers were here from Northville for the funeral services.

Buick Authorized Service

A Valuable "Part" of Every Buick

Equally important with the universally admired performance ability of Buick cars is Buick Authorized Service.

The insurance that the nation-wide Buick Authorized Service system provides for every Buick owner increases the confidence that comes through testing Buick dependability in every kind of motoring.

Buick Authorized Service of the same uniformly high standard, no matter where it is found, has resulted in conviction on the part of automobile owners that Buick Authorized Service is in itself a valued part of the Buicks they purchase.

CLASS ENJOYABLY ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Mrs. Wm. Routson, Mrs. Ed Harper and Mrs. J. M. Artman whose birthdays occur in April entertained the Dorcas Class and the Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Church at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, on Tuesday evening, sixty being present.

Each class held a short business session, after which visiting and games were enjoyed. A potato race was one of the interesting numbers on the program, and many other stunts were enjoyed.

The following program was given and very much appreciated by those present: solo by Mrs. Ed Braun accompanied by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron; reading by Mrs. S. Wyman; solo by Mrs. Mulvaney who also responded to an encore; reading by Rev. H. J. B. Marsh and another one by Thos. Bridges; Walter Abbott closed the program with a mouth organ solo, playing his own accompaniment.

Refreshments were served, warm biscuits and maple syrup being especially worthy of mention, and the crowd left at a late hour, reporting a fine time.

B. Y. P. U. BANQUET.

Friday evening of last week the ladies of the church tendered a banquet to the B. Y. P. U., at which there were about 70 present. The room was beautifully festooned and decorated with flowers of various kinds.

After enjoying a bountiful supper, the following program was rendered. The toast-mistress, Miss Mina Lamkin, announced prayer by Mrs. Buell, which was followed by a violin solo by Paul Beard and a few remarks by the pastor. She then very delightfully introduced Mrs. Hurd of Jackson, who is Missionary Educational Director for the State.

She spoke of the great need of leadership, and the necessary qualifications, which are sincerity, tact and knowledge. These are gained by reading the literature and also by attending the various gatherings provided by the denomination for this training. Christian life and the church activities are the biggest things in life. She suggested several methods for the developing of this life and these activities.

Miss Charlotte Lamkin sang a couple of solos that were greatly enjoyed. After a rising vote of thanks to the committee and singing a hymn, the meeting adjourned with the Mispah benediction.

WESTMINSTER GUILD.

Mrs. Franc Gillespie and Mrs. Wm. Cubitt entertained the Westminster Guild at the home of the former on West Pottawatamie St. Monday evening.

Mrs. Stella Billings conducted the devotionals after which reports on the chapter for study were given by Mrs. E. C. Heilman and Miss Grace Gillespie. A piano duet was played by Miss Alice Heilman and Miss Madaline Boyce and Mrs. E. C. Heilman sang a pleasing solo accompanied by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson.

A social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served. During the social hour Miss Beard gave an interesting account of her life in China, where she was born and lived for a number of years.

The Guild will be entertained in two weeks at the home of Mrs. B. J. Pulver.

FINAL MEETING OF BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans entertained the Bridge Club at their final meeting for the year, Tuesday afternoon at her home on W. Shawnee street.

The prizes were drawn, and Mrs. Louis Schneider drew the prize for winning the highest scores during the season. Miss Robinson of Clinton was among the guests.

MONDAY CLUB CLOSES THEIR YEAR'S WORK WITH A DELIGHTFUL ONE O'CLOCK LUNCHEON AND MUSICAL PROGRAM.

The Monday Club held their final session on Monday afternoon when the members gathered in the club rooms to enjoy their annual one o'clock luncheon.

The rooms were very attractive in their decorations of spring flowers, large baskets of daffodils were placed about the rooms and on the tables.

The guests were seated at long tables which were prettily arranged with lighted candles in crystal holders and bud vases containing a single calendula. Dainty hand painted place cards containing the flags of the different countries of South America marked the places; these were the work of the President of the club.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served, Mrs. Chas. Mattis being the caterer. At the close of the luncheon the President, Dr. Bredow appointed the program committee for the following year as follows, Mesdames Fred Dickinson, P. B. Hardy, W. D. Reed, H. S. Bredow and Miss Alice Wimple. The secretary, Mrs. Dell Cairns, then gave a resume of the year's work and the treasurer, Mrs. Jay Morse gave the yearly treasurer's report.

The program was then presented under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Moore as follows:

Cornet solo—Lester Coller.

Folk Dance, "The Vineyard Frolic"—Eight students from the Junior High School.

"The Highland Fling"—Misses Marion Jones, Teresa Deery, Sylvia Sanderson.

Vocal solo, "LaPaloma"—Miss Edna Taylor.

Dialect Readings, "Interrupted Devotions," "Poor Little Lamb"—Mrs. S. Wyman.

Soprano solo, "The Open Secret" by Woodman, "Pierrot" by Winter Watts—Miss Minota Lancaster of Clinton.

Miss Lancaster kindly consented to sing another selection to fill in the program and it was much appreciated as she has a charming voice of splendid range. Miss Florence Kennedy of Clinton acted as her accompanist. Other accompanists were Mrs. Edward Harper, Miss Alice Heilman and Miss Edna Taylor.

Mrs. Moore closed the program with a beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Alfred James and Mrs. C. A. Wright who were both devoted club members.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. F. B. Wood it was necessary to change the program from what was originally planned by the music committee.

This closed a very successful years work and the club adjourned to meet in the fall at their regular time.

C. E. ENTERTAINS RAISIN CENTER AND ADRIAN SOCIETIES.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wood on South Evans street was the scene of a merry party Tuesday evening when the C. E. society of the Friends church entertained the societies of Adrian and Raisin Center, fifty-five being present.

A short business meeting was held, after which a pleasant time was spent in getting acquainted. Games, music and stunts were enjoyed. The variety store caused much amusement, the boys proving their ability to handle awkward articles to a better advantage than the girls.

Rev. H. H. Green of Raisin Center, who is C. E. president of Ohio Yearly Meeting was present and gave a short talk, telling of the work of the Yearly Meeting, which was greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a late hour, everyone reporting an enjoyable evening.

NEW AUTO LINE PROVING SUCCESS.

The new auto line put on by L. E. Temple between Jackson and Adrian is proving a success as far as keeping up the schedule and other matters are concerned.

The auto line between Detroit and Adrian will be resumed in the near future as soon as the roads are in good condition and arrangements can be made.

On the Adrian-Jackson line Mr. Temple tried out an old Hudson car and was so well pleased with its performance making 1200 miles per week that he has just put on a new Hudson now and is prepared better than ever to make this line a popular one with the traveling public.

The Merry-Go-Round Club enjoyed one of their many delightful evenings Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Heesen entertained the club at the home of the former on West Kilbuck Street.

Potted plants and baskets of spring flowers added their varied colorings to the attractive rooms. At six o'clock a delicious chicken dinner was served. The tables were centered with baskets of roses, tulips and daffodils and with the soft lights made a charming springlike scene.

After the dinner the gentlemen enjoyed the usual smoker and the ladies a social hour. Later nine tables were filled for 500, and after the usual number of games the following held high scores, Mrs. E. E. Hendershot, Mrs. John Heesen and Mrs. R. A. Heesen, in cutting Mrs. R. A. CELEBRATES WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Frantz celebrated their [illegible] or silver wedding anniversary [illegible] Sunday. They entertained at a family dinner, covers being laid for thirty-five. The table was very pretty with American Beauty roses and silver, and a most delightful dinner was served.

Music and visiting were enjoyed during the afternoon, and the happy couple received many lovely gifts.

The out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Clare Miller and baby of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hines and children of Albion, W. E. Bly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mattach and Mrs. Lena Schwartz of Adrian.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION WILL START THIS WEEK.

According to advice from the contractor, the construction of the new concrete boulevard will start on W. Chicago Street the first of next week.

The machinery for the work is expected the last of this week and the work will commence at Pearl Street and move west to the concrete road three miles west of town.

When this road is complete there will be a solid concrete or macadam road from Tecumseh clear through to Adrian which will be kept open the year around and put the county seat within 20 minutes of Tecumseh by auto at any time.

Tecumseh should wake up to this fact at once if it expects to hold the trade that rightfully belongs to us here at home.

In 1873 the family moved to Tecumseh, and Miss Elvira and her sister Miss Julia have made their home in the present residence on Maiden Lane for the past fifty years.

Miss Luce had been in failing health for the past three and a half years, and had been confined to her bed for about a year. All this time she was [illegible] cared for by her sister.

She was a faithful member of the Methodist church all her life, and a great worker in all its activities, especially the Foreign Missionary Society. She was a true Christian and greatly loved for her many deeds of kindness.

She leaves one sister, Miss Julia Luce, one brother, Chester Luce of Tipton, one niece, ten nephews, ten grand-nieces, ten grand-nephews and nine great grand-nieces.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh officiating. Rev. Marsh also gave some appropriate musical selections. Burial was made at Brookside.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Luce and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Luce and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brown of Napoleon; Ralph Luce of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Luce and family, Mr. and Mrs .Roy Luce and son, Miss Alma Luce and Mrs. Irving Luce and sons, Fay and Lamont of Tipton.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted me during the sickness and death of my beloved sister; the Minister for his comforting words and songs and the friends for the many floral tributes.

Miss Julia Luce.

W. C. ROGERS OF CLINTON CELEBRATES HIS 88th BIRTHDAY.

W. C. Rogers of Clinton reached the 88th anniversary of his birth last Wednesday, April 4th. In honor of the event his daughter, Mrs. E. S. Tate invited a few of his friends and relatives to her home to enjoy the day with him. Beautiful flowers and a birthday cake made part of luncheon table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Waring and Mrs. W. L. Jones and son Dean of Tecumseh were among the guests.

Mr. Rogers is in good health, does some work, reads a great deal and is keenly interested in current events.

DROPS THE PRICE OF BREAD.

Elsewhere in this paper is found the announcement that Nevison's Bakery under the new management has dropped the price of bread from 11c to 6c and 9c per loaf.

This will be welcome news to the housewife and it certainly makes a vast saving during the year when many loaves of bread are used. This bakery will put out the old time quality of bread and at such a drop in price as stated will doubtless receive the hearty support of everyone.

A SPLENDID ADDITION.

The Ridgeway Community Club has just purchased a chemical fire extinguisher consisting of two 35 gallon tanks mounted on a trailer so that the same can be towed to a fire by the first auto available or by any other mean.s

These tanks are ample to fight a serious fire and cost the Club $550 F. O. B. factory but the protection afforded will repay the cost in a very short time.

All subscribers to the fund from Tecumseh are very heartily thanked for the assistance they gave. Our sister village is now equipped to stop what easily could have been a very serious loss through fire starting in any quarter. Its a splendid idea put to a practical conclusion.

HILARITY CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Russell entertained the Hilarity Club at their home Friday evening, the occasion was also Mr. Russell's birthday. A bountiful dinner was served, the table being attractively decorated with pink and white tulips.

"500" was played during the evening, Mrs. Fred Dickinson and Eugene Rosacrans winning high scores and Mrs. Norman Taylor and Leon Williamson low scores.

Mrs. Fred Dickinson will entertain next week.

COMPARISON with other cars in the same price class as to materials, construction, riding qualities and economy of operation is but further evidence of the reason why there is such a demand for Overland and Willys-Knight cars.

75% of all automobiles sold today are of but three different makes! Overland is one of them. 90% of all automobiles sold today are of eight different makes! The Willys-Knight is another of them.

INVESTIGATE the used car market and you will discover that used Overlands of present design move at good prices and Willys-Knight cars are rare among used car stocks.

REMEMBER THE ANIMALS.

This is a week devoted to spreading the gospel of "Be kind to Animals" and we hope that every person who can speak the English language will say a word that will help make this a place where grown-ups and kids are more kind and considerate of the feelings of our dumb friends.

Preachers and teachers should hear the call of this national duty and preach and teach concerning the need for better treatment of our friends who serve us so faithfully yet are dumb to reply to punishment or ill treatment of any kind.

We say that any person who is wantonly cruel in their treatment to a dumb animal is such a cowardly low down skunk that he deserves to receive equally cruel treatment for every cruel deed he does. A person certainly is cowardly who will illtreat a defenseless dumb animal. There is no bigger coward ever breathed than such a one and nothing short of pure diabolical devilishness will prompt a person young or old to torture a defenseless dumb animal.

So use this national week to do your part in preaching and teaching the young and old to be thoughtful and considerate of the feelings of our dumb friends who are really the truest and best friends man has.

Won't you do your part to help these true friends to enjoy the life the great Creator gave them and which he who wantonly tortures will surely ride the rack of torture himself whether he thinks so or not.. You cannot wantonly torture God's creatures and get away from a just punishment properly inflicted so think of that as well.

COMMENTS ON "HITS AND BITS OF 1923"

A bevy of talented young ladies and a lot of clever comedians "put across" a very creditable and enjoyable show at the Washington Theatre last night. It was a typical "Follies" performance entitled "Hit and Bits of 1923".

Time and space prevents a lengthy review and individual mention. Costuming and scenery was gorgeous, yet tastefully selected. Stage settings adequate and appropriate.

Justin McCarthy, Cincinnati Enquirer.

Holmes and Jordan's new show "Hits and Bits of 1923" is a worth while attraction. Pretty girls who can sing and dance; good clean and wholesome comedy that anybody can enjoy and appreciate; the scenic embellishment and stage effects nicely carried out; novel ideas that bigger shows should try to emulate. I'm for 'em strong. Clarence Dusenberry, Pontiac, Michigan.

STRENGTH AND SAFETY IN THE BODY OF STEEL

If you could see the main body structure of Dodge Brothers Business Coupe before the enamel is baked on, and before the interior is furnished, you would be profoundly impressed by its strength.

You would see that every panel, every pillar, and every rib is steel—that even the door sills and window mouldings are steel.

You would see that all of these parts and sections are electrically welded together into one staunch steel body, with no bolts or rivets to work loose, nothing to rattle or squeak or warp.

And you would realize that, like the all-steel Pullman coach, this unique construction—originated by Dodge Brothers for this car—represents the last word in protection to passengers—the ultimate achievement in closed car sturdiness.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Of Interest To

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I Will Build a Car For the Multitude"
Said Henry Ford in 1903--Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal Family car--to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers---more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months ---and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it---father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you to get started toward the ownership of a Ford Car.

SOME FISH.

John G. Wilson just received a letter from his son Robert who lives at Deland, Florida, describing a fish recently caught in the ocean which a printed circular says weighs 15 tons and is the largest fish ever caught.

The pamphlet gives a truly enormous fish story of this specimen and if accurately described is a most wonderful creature or creation of some wonderful fisherman's vocabulary.

At any rate, it certainly must be the champion fish of the season and is rated by noted taxidermists as the largest ever caught.

GOD STANDS FOR JUSTICE

Chinese Deity is Highly Venerated for Mission Which It is Supposed to Have.

A god, said to be 300 years old which has changed its place of residence on a number of occasions and still retains its original dignity and appearance, attracts the attention of persons who attend the sessions of the Mixed Court in Shanghai, China About twenty years ago the god was transferred to his present position from the Nanking Road temple. He is known as the Tu De Shun (the God of Earth) and is guarded by nine smaller images.

In the olden times the yamen runners took the place of the present day court officials and detectives. It was their duty to serve warrants and summonses as well as to arrest robbers, murderers and criminals. Before they went out on their mission, they were sure to prostrate themselves before Tu De Shun and ask for his blessing and aid in securing success. Whenever they succeeded in their missions and returned to the yamen they offered their thanks.

Tu De Shun sits facing the courtrooms, because, it is said, he wishes to see justice properly meted out He will frown whenever there is an injustice done to anybody. Litigants make their offerings to the god and may be seen at various times asking Tu De Shun to give them the power to win the lawsuits in which they are involved. When a magistrate assumed office in the olden days he always prayed to this god for assistance before he dared take over the office.

LITTLE PLEASURE IN THIS

Camel Litter Probably Most Uncomfortable Conveyance That It Is Possible to Imagine.

"All of the passengers across the Syrian desert save only ourselves made the journey in camel litters than which no more uncomfortable means of transport could possibly be devised," relates Alexander Powell in the Century Magazine.

"A litter consists of a pair of shallow wooden boxes, slung one on each side of the camel like panniers and held in place by a network of stout cords. On each pannier are a thick mattress and a number of bolsters and cushions, on which you half sit, half recline, hanging on for dear life to the cord network or anything else that offers. When the camel kneels or rises, unless you have tight hold of something, the chances are that you will be thrown violently to the ground.

"The litters used by the women are covered with slatted sides, and look like chicken coops. These litters necessitate a very cramped position on the part of their occupants, whose legs, incased in gaudily striped stockings held up by pink or yellow garters, frequently protrude unblushingly; for the only part of her person that a Moselm woman is particular about concealing is her face."

Natural Smoke Screen.

The artiseus, a deep-sea prawn has a method of lighting that gives the appearance of a multitude of smoke rings. When excited by the nearness of an enemy the prawn ejects respiratory water in tiny squirts and into this stream the luciferin is forced from countless glands opening into the stream by fine ducts. As the chemicals combine, puffy clouds of luminescent particles float in the sea. This is the "smoke screen" provided by nature.

The species of luminous fish, called "photoblephron," has a dimmer system in an inside chamber that burns continuously. When the fish wishes to shut off the light he causes a black pigmented curtain to slide down over the light cell opening like an eyelid. The light organ preserves its luminescence even when removed and is used by fishermen of the islands of Banda, about 800 miles southeast of the Philippines as bait for night fishing. —Indianapolis News.

Artistic Faculty.

There is beauty in the moral world and in the intellectual world; but there is also beauty which is neither moral nor intellectual—the beauty of the world of art. There are men who are devoid of the power of seeing it. . . . There are others in whom it is an overpowering passion; happy men, born with the productive, or at lowest, the appreciative, genius of the artist. But, in the mass of mankind, the aesthetic faculty, like the reasoning power and the moral sense, needs to be roused, directed and cultivated; and I know not why the development of that side of his nature, through which man has access to a perennial spring of ennobling pleasure, should be omitted from any comprehensive scheme of university education.—Huxley.

Not "Only Man in the World."

I was visiting a girl whom I had not seen for some time, although we corresponded by mail. Her friend invited us to a show with him. When he arrived he had a friend with him for me. He seemed very nice, and by the time we said "good night" I thought he was the only man in the world. He asked me to telephone him next day at his office. I did. "This is Lizzie," I said. The flame of love was quenched when he answered: "What else do you want me to bring home, dear, besides the baby's shoes and thread?"—Chicago Journal.

Etiquette.

Mr. Tomkyn—Brown was very short in his manner to everybody tonight!

Mrs. Tomkyn—Yes, but we must forgive him, as I hear he's just had some heavy business losses.

Mr. Tomkyn—My dear, a real gentleman does not give vent to that sort of thing till he gets home to his wife.—London Opinion.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

We were very much interested to learn that our progressive firm of Braun & Bridges have just received orders for flowers from four states, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Of course we knew that these boys handled excellent flowers and were pleasing the people but to learn they received orders from so far away was interesting. We asked how it came and they smilingly replied that in each case it came in response to their ad in the Herald. Good, we knew the Herald went far and wide and we are certainly glad to hear it brings results from far points as well as nearer home.

And by the way, these two boys are a mighty welcome addition to Tecumseh for they are taking an active part in all matters for the good of the town, are pleasant and affable and up-to-the-minute in their merchandise. Good people drop in and see if our opinion isn't right for you will sure be welcome at our furniture store at all times.

QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE ENTERTAINED.

The Queen Esther Circle of the Methodist church were entertained at the John McIntyre home Monday evening, a large attendance being present.

A business session was held, after which the mite boxeswere opened. A social time was enjoyed after which refreshments were served.

WALKED RIGHT OFF.

The big stump left in front of the Bradley Theatre when the big tree was taken out was a problem to move but not after Hoyt V[illegible]an hitched on to it with his Waterloo Boy for this tractor started right off as slow as a camel but never faltered a step as it dragged the big stump along like it had no load at all.

It sure is certain that this tractor has a mighty powerful pull and it does it so easy with no fuss or flareups that it must be a machine of nearly perfect balance to take such a heavy load from a dead lift and handle it with such ease.

TO GIVE PLAY.

A very clever cast of the Christian Endeavorers arew orking on a one-act play to be given at the Presbyterian church soon.

The title of this Japanese play which shows a stage of missionary work in Japan is "Sunlight or Candle Light." It is being put on by this young people's association for the purpose of raising money to give as their share toward the new heating plant which the church soon plans to install.

Some musical numbers are also being planned wich are bound to please all. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

Far-sight is perhaps the commonest of all errors of vision, Nature is able to overcome this defect in many cases in young people, which explains why a young person may suffer from far-sight without its being suspected.

But when the muscles of the eyes overcome far-sight a greater strain than normal is imposed upon the eyes, and what results depends upon factors that are hard to determine.

The health and temperament of the patient, and the amount of near work done must also be considered.

Being so prevalent and liable to be overlooked, far-sight is a common cause of many bodily ailments.

Our Habits

There's a saying, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

Why?...

Because his habits are formed,—he's set in his ways—he can't change.

A good habit once formed,, sticks.

There's no better one than the habit of saving.

UNION MEETING AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

There was a large attendance at the Union meeting at the Baptist church Sunday evening. Mrs. R. S. Moore sang a beautiful solo, "My Jesus, I Love Thee," which was greatly appreciated.

Mr. P. L. Adams of Big Creek, Ky. gave an illustrated talk on "Educational Work in the Mountains." The people of the mountains are of pure anglo saxon origin, but have moved into the mountains and become isolated from civilization and remain in the same condition they were in when they moved there. They respond to training, and there are all sorts of possibilities in them, if they are given an opportunity.

The lack of transportation is one of the great hindrances to the work. The roads are for the most part thru old river beds, which at many times of the year are impassable, thus holding up the mail for a week at a time. Mules are used for traveling to a great extent.

The three great divisions of the work the people are trying to accomplish, are education, religion and welfare training. The teachers are not the best, because of lack of money to pay a suitable salary. In this wy the children are not able to secure the best of an education.

The preachers, of the natives, are mostly converted moonshine whiskey makers and ex-convicts, who have their own ideas and preach them. It is very difficult to teach the people true religion. They believe if their time to die has come they will die, if not, nothing can kill them.

Red Cross workers and doctors often give their services free to these people, coming in for a short time to hold clinics. This is a wonderful work giving many of the children a chance in life which they never would have if the faults in sight and hearing and other defects were not corrected.

Mr. Adams is a very interesting lecturer and is truly connected with a great work. Everyone present enjoyed the pictures.

GIVES EXCELLENT CONCERT.

Friday evening at the Methodist church a splendid orchestra concert was given, which merited a much larger audience than was present. Each number was perfect in itself, and everyone present appreciated the effort of the players.

The orchestra was composed of director, C. D. Wilcox who played the saxophone; Archie Boyd, solo violin; Elwin May and Raymond Austin, Contra Melody violin; Edward Harper, first coronet, Mrs. Margaret Deniston, first clarinet; Maurice Coller, drums; Lester Coller, bass viol and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, piano.

The following program was given: "Bright and Gay Overture" orchestra; "Faust," orchestra; saxophone solo, C. D. Wilcox; "Dream Face," orchestra; Reading, Mrs. Seber Wyman; "Tannhauser," orchestra; cornet solo, Lester Coller; piano solo, Webster Conklin; "Il Travatore," orchestra; vocal solo, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh and "Reverie" by the orchestra.

CARS COLLIDE.

A bad accident occured last Sunday when two Ford cars, one driven by Ed Hoag who was going east and a car driven by Floyd O'Hara going south on Evans St. collided at the corner by the Vendoma Hotel.

Both cars were badly dented and one of them went into the ditch. Hoag had his shoulder dislocated and will be laid up for some time. An electric pole was knocked over by the impact of one of the cars which shows that considerable speed was being used by someone when the crash came.

The roof was completely destroyed, and the rear of the house was damaged the most. There was $600 insurance carried on the house, which will not cover the loss.

Nearly all the furniture was saved, some of it being badly blistered. The furniture was covered by an insurance of $1000.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dinse, a bride and groom of last week, were given a miscellaneous shower at their home southwest of town Friday evening. A large number of friends and neighbors were present.

A pleasant evening was spent in playing cards and other games after which a delightful pot luck supper was served, everyone doing justice to the heavily ladened table.

The couple received many beautiful gifts, which will aid in making the new home attractive, and always be a pleasant reminder of the happy evening.

SUPERINTENDENT ENTERTAINS SCHOOL.

John T. Boyce, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School entertained the senior departments of the school, the pastors and their wives and the superintendent of the other schools in town, at a social in the church parlors, Tuesday evening, about seventy-five being present.

A selection was played by the orchestra, after which Mr. Boyce in a few well chosen words, welcomed the crowd. The following program was then given, and each number was equally as good as the previous one, and everyone enjoyed it.

Prayer by Rev. Kiskaddon; a song, led by Mrs. Billings, with Mrs. F. C. Dickinson at the piano; piano duet by Alice Heilman and Madaline Boyce; remarks by Rev. Kiskaddon; song, "Can He Count On You," by Mrs. S. W. Boyce's class of girls; reading, Mrs. Seber Wyman; vocal solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, accompanied by Rev. Buell; remarks by Miss Nannie Kyle and Rev. Edward Escolme. Miss Mildred Boyce gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on the subject of "Sunday's Abroad." The pictures were splendid and her descriptions were so vivid, one could almost imagine they were there. Rev. Henry A. Buell then gave a few remarks and another selection was played by the orchestra.

A social time was then enjoyed and the crowd was served with ice cream and wafers. Everyone voted Mr. Boyce an expert host.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE.

At the regular meeting of the council held last Monday night several changes were made in the personel of the village officers.

Wm. Bennett was appointed night watch in the place of Geo. Rubadou, Henry VanDuser was appointed fire truck driver in the place of John McCaughen and Andrew Wonders was appointed street commissioner in the place of Jas. Kennedy. B. W. Mominee was re-appointed Marshall.

The members of the various committees were named and these are given in the official proceedings of the council. Cut them out and lay aside for reference and you can then know at any time what members of the council are on each committee by referring to your list.

Pres. Heesen in accordance with his published notice ordered the water works engineer to turn off the water of all who have not paid their rent to date of last period.

The council confirmed all of the appointments and they are now in effect. White paint was also ordered to mark off the parking spaces which will be an immense improvement if put into force. Mr. Heesen is to be congratulated upon putting into operation a regular parking arrangement and the people should appreciate it very much as it gives much more room and prevents mix-ups and hogging the street by those who never have a thought of how or where the other fellow is going to park his car. It is presumed that some attention will also be given to parking in front of hydrants and in the entrances to alleys etc all of which is much needed.

The bonds of Louis Jones and W. L. Coller were accepted and everything perfected for the coming year's work. Atty. Geo. Rathbun was again apnointed village attorney.

WESTMINSTER GUILD.

Mrs. B. J. Pulver assisted by Mrs. W. L. Jones entertained the Westminster Guild at their final study meeting of the year, Tuesday evening at the home of the former.

During the business session the guild decided to raise one hundred dollars toward the new heating plant the church will soon install. They also decided to have their summer picnic at the Smith-Pulver-Jones beech at Sand Lake.

A social time was enjyed and refreshments were served.

GIVEN A SHOWER.

A party of fifteen friends spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Melvin McWilliams and daughter, coming to give the little miss a shower. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in visiting and being entertained by the little folks that were present, which was no small number.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Better Than Ever

There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.

Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.

For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto unhoped for.

Red Crown Is Made by the Burton Process

Red Crown vaporizes to the last drop. There is no waste—it produces instant starting Winter or Summer — a quick get away — a smooth running engine—tremendous sustained pulling power and racing speed if you want it.

OLDEST STOCKHOLDER.

Sometime ago the Penn. R. R. located the oldest stockholder in their organization and it proved to be Mrs. Sarah Yarnall of Philadelphia who is 104 years old.

This is of interest to Tecumseh folks as Mrs. Yarnall used to live on W. Kilbuck St. fifty years ago and she is a distant relative of Albert Comfort one of our well known citizens.

Truly she has been blessed with long life and has seen a wonderful change in affairs since her youth. Many of the old citizens will remember her. She is very spry at this time and is enjoying good health.

The PRICELESS INGREDIENT

IN THE CITY OF BAGDAD lived Hakeem, the Wise One, and many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking nothing in return.

There came to him a young man who had spent much but got little, and said, "Tell me, Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for that which I spend?"

Hakeem answered, "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contain that which cannot be bought or sold. Look for The Priceless Ingredient."

"But, what is this Priceless Ingredient?" asked the young man.

Spoke then the Wise One, "My son, The Priceless Ingredient of every product in the market-place is the Honor and Integrity of him who makes it. Consider his name before you buy." SQUIBB.

A PROCLAMATION.

For more than half a century our people have been accustomed to observe in appropriate ways a day proclaimed as Arbor Day. This year we are asked also to name the week which begins on April 29th Tree Planting Week. The purpose of these observances is, of course, to call attention not only to the economic value of our forests, once the pride of the commonwealth though now sadly depleted, and to the need of reforestation, but to encourage the individual planting of trees, shade trees, fruit trees, nut trees.

We need a comprehensive, workable forestry program, and our State Department of Conservation is intelligently and steadily working toward that goal.

It is fitting too, since birds and trees are intimately associated in our minds, that Bird Day should be combined with Arbor Day.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate Friday, May 4th, 1923, to be set apart as Arbor and Bird Day, and I urge it upon the people of Michigan in general and the teachers of our schools in particular that suitable Arbor and Bird Day programs be arranged for that day.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this seventeenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

Alex J. Groesbeck, Governor.
By the Governor:
Charles J. DeLand,
Secretary of State.

GOOD NEWS.

According to all available reports of a reliable nature, the U. S. A. is now just entering upon the crest of a wave of prospertiy that will fill the horn of plenty to the brim.

This is evidenced by the heavy increase in demand for all kinds of steel and iron work, while the textile industries are working to full capacity and every other allied industry is putting on full force to meet the heavy demand for their products.

This is good news and means much to every business and if now we can solve the farming problem and put the basic industry of producing what we eat and wear, on the same footing, this grand old country will ride a wave of prosperity seldom if ever equaled.

The trouble with settling the farming question is the fact that no one but the farmers seem interested in that and they won't or can't bring pressure enough to bear on our professional law makers to get a hearing. However, it will ajdust itself someway but probably not the best way in the near future, for you can't make men work farms at a loss for a very long period until they or their resources are exhausted and they will quit no matter how much they desire to carry on or what they have at stake.

Let the old wave of prosperity grow until it reaches champion proportions is our wish and it now looks very much as if it were decidedly on the way.

will not increase prices until May 1st

Firestone Prices on Fabric and Cord Passenger Car Tires and Tubes, also Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Will Advance May 1st

The postponement of this price revision is possible only because of our realization of the price danger in the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act which became effective November 1, 1922. We were fortunate in our rubber purchases before the Restriction Act increased the price of crude rubber 150%.

We have always endeavored to champion the cause of better made tires delivered at lowest cost to the tire user by economic manufacturing and distribution. And we are glad of the opportunity to give the car-owner the additional saving at this time.

Firestone Cords embody certain special processes which result in their producing mileage records, heretofore unheard-of in the industry. Among the more important of these superior methods are blending, tempering, air-bag cure and double gum-dipping.

Firestone Dealers are co-operating with us in our movement to supply your needs at present prices as long as their stock lasts and we have advised our dealers that we will supply them with additional tires this month only so far as our output will permit.

See the nearest Firestone Dealer, Purchase a set of these Gum-Dipped Cords. Prove for yourself their remarkable mileage advantages and easy riding qualities.

GOOD YEAR Service Station

IN the long run, the only way any tire manufacturer can afford to give a "special discount" is to price the tire above its worth in the first place, or take the discount out of the quality. Either way, the customer pays. Better buy Goodyear Tires, and get Goodyear Service and Goodyear Quality.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend Goodyear Tires and back them up with standard Goodyear Service

Don't Trust to Luck--

The mere fact that you have been lucky so far and have not felt the pinch of poverty, is no sign that your luck will continue. Many things happen sometime.

Ever stop to think that your wife may get sick? That there will be a hired girl in the kitchen? That there will be doctor's bills to pay? That the rent may come due? That there are installments on the furniture? That you might break a leg? That taxes are sure as death? That you might be burned out of house and home? That your stock might die? That there is no limit to the bad luck that might come? That such events require ready money? BE PREPARED by saving a little now. You will never regret it.

WILLYS-OVERLAND, INC., is the only manufacturer that produces two of the eight most popular cars in the world—the Overland—the Willys-Knight.

COMPARISON, with other cars in the same price class as to materials, construction, riding qualities and economy of operation is but further evidence of the reason why there is such a demand for Overland and Willys-Knight cars.

75% of all [illegible] sold today are of but three different makes! Overland is one of them. 90% of all automobiles sold today are of eight different makes! The Willys-Knight is another of them.

WILLYS-OVERLAND, Inc., is the only manufacturer which, in the Overland and Willys-Knight, produces two out of the eight most popular cars in the world.

INVESTIGATE the used car market and you will discover that used Overlands of present [illegible] at good prices and Willys-Knight cars are rare among used car stocks.

UNLESS you are familiar with the splendid performance records of the present-day Overland and Willys-Knight, you cannot fully appreciate the reason for the public preference for these two cars.

Facts About Optometry
By
KARL A. BRAMAN

Far-sight results because nature in building the eyes made them shorter than they should be. There is a spot near the back of the eye upon which all rays of light entering the eye should focus. It is called the retina. In far sight, the eye being too short, light is focused behind the retina, and as the eye automatically strives to overcome the error, the far-sighted person is subjecting his eyes to constant strain.

This applies for both far and near seeing. Of course the strain is much greater for close work. But in many cases it is sufficient in distant seeing to cause more or less distress.

To be continued next Thursday. (adv)

Live Longer in the South.

The climate of the sunny South, a newspaper article says, is more favorable to longevity than are the rigors of the North. In 1920, according to government records, nine people in Memphis, Tenn., had attained the age of 100 years or more, while Boston had only one centenarian. Other cities of North and South had similarly contrasting records. "In Mexico," the article continues, "there are more than one thousand living centenarians, and that amazingly large ratio of one in every seventeen thousand, perhaps not exceeded by any other country on the globe, probably is due to the mild highland climate and the easy-going habits of the great generality of the people, with their custom of an after-lunch nap or siesta."—From the Outlook.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Tecumseh

Scores of Tecumseh people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

Thomas Russell, retired farmer, 209 Pearl St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions and always found them very beneficial. My back at times has given out, due to heavy lifting when working on the farm and my kidneys wouldn't act regularly. They showed signs of disorder in other ways. I suffered from rheumatic pains in my lower limbs, too. Whenever I have felt these symptoms coming on, I have gone to Pulver's Drug Store and gotten a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. It has never taken them long to relieve me of my trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Russel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE makers of Eagle Shirts have been making good shirts for fifty-five years. They design their own patterns, dye their own yarns, loom their own fabrics, exclusively used by them, and give each one a trade-marked name woven in the shirt-label.

It's no wonder that the well-dressed men who know good fabrics want Eagle Shirts. They ask for them by the name of the make and the name of the fabric as well. It's a double identification—a double guarantee.

C. E. GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society gave a splendid entertainment Friday evening, for the purpose of raising money towards the new heating plant. They cleared a nice sum for which they are grateful.

A musical program was given first as follows, vocal solo by Miss Ruth Bailey assisted by Eleanor Beard and Marion Whelan. She sang "I Once Had a Sweet Little Doll, Dears," in the costume of a grandmother. Miss Marjorie Boyce and Wilbur Boyce sang a vocal duet and Mrs. E. C. Heilman a vocal solo; a violin solo was given by Archie Boyd accompanied by Rev. Henry A. Buell; Miss Mildred Haines sang a Japanese song in costume and C. D. Wilcox gave a saxaphone solo, accompanied by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson. The orchestra also played several selections during the evening. Each number was well rendered and very much enjoyed.

A one act play, "Sunlight or Candlelight" was next given. The characters were Mrs. Richard Grotton, the wife of an American Consul to Japan, Geraldine Gillespie; an American heiress and niece of Mrs. Grotton, Cora Collins; Hoshi, a villager, Philip Ketcham; Mura, wife of Hoshi, Alice Beasley; Mito, a student, Festus Davidson. The scene was laid in the interior of Japan in the house of Hoshi San.

The story was of the visit of Miss Tower to her aunt in Japan, and while there she felt it her duty to become a missionary. Her aunt and Mito, a Japanese who had been in America to study and returned to teach his people tried to persuade her it was not her duty. They finally came to the conclusion that if they returned to America and told the people of the needs of Japan, and acted as missionaries to the Japanese people in America, they would be able to accomplish more.

Each one did their part well, and the play showed much work on the part of the players and by Miss Boyce who assisted them in preparing for it.

Mrs. Chas. McDermot of Adrian was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Cummins, Thursday.

Mrs. Bower has returned to her home after spending the winter with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Nyland.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schreder entertained at a family dinner today in honor of the seventy-seventh anniversary of her father, H. J. Sweet.

The Junior-Senior Domestic Science Class visited the Purity Bake Shop Tuesday morning and were given a demonstration of the entire process of bread making.

Dr. Pauline Bredow gave a talk to the class in Home Economics at the high school Monday morning. Her subject was "First Aid" and she gave them many helpful suggestions.

For Many Years He Passed and Never Once Turned In

For many years a Tecumseh man has passed the door of our bank daily.

Had he just once a week turned in and deposited no more than a dollar he would now be independent,—or nearly so.

If you've been doing it, "turn in" tomorrow and start the account that will, in years to come, insure you against dependence.

Big Senior Play Will Be Event Of The Season. Said To Be Best Ever Presented At High School. Tickets Now On Sale. People Should Buy Seats Early. Big House Expected.

The annual senior play to be given this year by the high school senior class will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, May 1st and 2nd.

The play is one of unusual merit and the caste has worked hard to perfect themselves in each part so that the people are assured of a splendid evening's performance.

It is a play worth going miles to see for the theme and the humor of the whole affair is so interesting and enjoyable that everyone young and old will be most highly entertained.

And besides, it is our senior class that is giving it. That sounds just like something that deserves the very best of support, and in this case it deserves even more for the people will not only be highly entertained but everyone owes it to our schools and especially the seniors to support their worthy endeavors to the highest possible degree. That gives them courage and a feeling that their efforts in school work is worth while and they surely are.

Now is the time to register in as a booster by buying that ticket early and assure the young folks that we are with them in every worthy endeavor. It stands for loyalty to our community and an active interest in things worth while. We believe our people will respond heartily to the invitation and fill the auditorium to capacity so that our young people who have done so well thus far may realize tat their final efforts are worthy of our best support.

GAVE SPLENDID PROGRAM.

The Commence Club put on one of the best programs last Tuesday night that has ever been given in the high school and it is unfortunate that more did not hear and see it.

The Ladies of the M. E. Church served an elegant dinner at 7 o'clock to about 75 men(it ought to have been 175) and everyone there remarked upon the splendid feed and the excellent service with which it was served. These good ladies certainly deserve great credit for their efforts.

The community singing was led by Wade L. Jones, Pres. of the club, in his usual spirited manner and the boys all joined in a genuine old time sing that does one good to hear.

After the feed and singing, the crowd adjourned to the high school auditorium where Rev. F. A. Perry delivered one of the best speeches it has been our privilege to listen to in many a year. It was full of the best thought carried by a language that was simply superb and emphasized by a personality that drove home the thoughts with terrific force.

Rev. Perry spoke on the work of the American Legion in crystalizing a truly American spirit that stands for the highest and best things in our national life. He pictured the necessity for such a movement and the results, that would surely follow it and his hearers were greatly impressed with the splendid thoughts he presented so truly and so accurately with an invincible argument to back them up. R. K. Anderson introduced the speaker in a few but well chosen words.

Geo. Ziehr then introduced Mr. Armstrong who represented the C. P. RR and who showed four reels of moving pictures of the scenery along the C. P. RR. thru the great western mountain ranges and they were certainly an inspiring sight to behold. Those who missed this program surely missed seeing and hearing some of the best things ever presented in this community and everywhere we heard expressions of utmost delight at the program as given.

Pres. Jones is to be congratulated upon giving the people of the community such an opportunity to hear and see the best things to be obtained and he surely did it this time.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Helen Sanford was pleasantly surprised by a party of nine little friends Friday evening, who came to help her celebrate her sixth birthday anniversary.

A delicious birthday dinner was served, a large birthday cake being especially worthy of mention. Games and fun were enjoyed after dinner by the little folks. The little hostess received many nice gifts.

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES AWAY.

Will Meyer was born April 9, 1858 at Nashville, Ill. He was the son of D. R. and Sara E. Meyer. His childhood and early manhood was spent at Nashville and at an early age he entered the mercantile business with his father.

On November 20, 1889 he was united in marriage to Honah Heesen and in the fall of 1899 they moved to Tecumseh where he was connected with different industries.

In the year of 1911 they moved to Detroit where he was connected with the Detroit Creamery Co. up to the time of his death. He was ill but one week, the end coming suddenly but he was conscious to the last. He passed away April 20, 1923 at his home at 8045 St. Paul Ave., Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, one son B. M. Meyer of Atlante, Ga., one daughter, Mrs. Leon Rosacrans of Tecumseh; three sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Sawyer of East St. Louis, Ill.; Mrs. Frances Pence of Indiana, Pa., Mrs. C. W. Purdy of DuQuoin, Ill., and by a score of nieces ant nephews.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rosacrans on North Union Street, Monday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. Kiskaddon officiating. Burial was made at Brookside. R. A. Heesen, a brother-in-law of the deceased, delivered the Masonic service at the grave.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Meyer of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Robert Pence and daughter, Miss Hellen of Indiana, Pa.; R. E. Pence of Harvard, Ill.; Will. M. Sawyer and D. M. Purdy of DuQuoin, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. M. Meyer of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Trann of Peoria, Ill.; Geo. Heesen, Mrs. Louise Engfer, Mrs. Grace Baldwin, Mrs. Arthur Hall of Toledo and Mrs. Geo. Adamson of Chicago.

GEN. FRANK C. BALDWIN PASSES ON.

The following article clipped from one of the state papers gives an intimate account of two of the heroic acts of Gen. Frank C. Baldwin for which he was each time voted the Congressional Medal of Honor. As stated he was the only American to ever receive two of these medals.

Gen. Baldwin was well known in Tecumseh having lived on a farm west of Clinton for some time and his father is buried in the cemetery just north of Carzelere's corners on the Clinton pike. Gen. Baldwin was a distant cousin of Mrs. R. K. Anderson, Mrs. Newton Satterthwaite and of Joe Osborn all of this place. The General was a frequent visitor here and a most amiable man to meet. He was a typical soldier of the old school who served his country with extraordinary distinction and ability.

Major General Frank Dwight Baldwin, U. S. A., retired, 81, noted Michigan soldier, a veteran of the Indian, Civil and Spanish-American wars, it dead at his Denver, Col., home, according to word received here today.

He was the only American to whom congress awarded two medals for distinguished gallantry, it is said.

Born in Manchester, Mich., June 26, 1842, enlisted in the Union army when 19, became a captain at 20 and a lieutenant-colonel at 21.

Defied "Fighting Joe"

Leading 100 men, which encountered a southern force of 3,000 men, led by "Fighting Joe" Wheeler, Baldwin was called upon to surrender by the Confederate general.

"Go to hell!" Baldwin told "Fighting Joe."

In the fight which followed 75 of Baldwin's men were killed, wounded or routed. As his last man fled across a bridge Baldwin set fire to the structure, was cut off from flight and captured by the enemy.

Brought before General Wheeler he offered the famous Confederate his sword.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The first annual meeting of the Northeast District of Lenawee County Sunday Schools consisting of Tecumseh, Clinton, Raisin, Ridgeway and Macon townships, was held at the local Baptist church Saturday afternoon and evening. On account of the stormy weather the attendance was small, but the addresses were full of inspiration and the convention on the whole was successful.

The addresses of the afternoon were given by Rev. W. J. Prestige and Rev .H. J. B. Marsh, following a song service conducted by Rev. Buell and the devotionals by Rev. B. A. Warren. Rev. Presitge spoke on the "Sunday School Problems." He lamented the fact of the lack of bibles in the average school, and the extensive use of the lesson helps, or as he said, hindrances. We should study the beek. Rev. Marsh also gave a splendid address.

Mrs. Floyd Preston gave a very interesting report of the State convention which she attended at Lansing. She brought back many helpful suggestions along the line of children's work. Following her report Rev. Edward Escolme sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Hobart Mitchell.

Rev. T. J. Hopkins of the Baptist church at Adrian, gave a splendid address in the evening session on "The Personal Equation." The success of an undertaking depends on each individual who is connected with it. Each teacher should consider her class in the term of individuals rather than as a whole, and try to reach each member personally.

The closing number of the convention was an illustrated talk by Rev. Henry A. Buell, on Baptist work in Porto Rico. The pictures were fine, and the lecture was interesting, showing what a great work is being done in this place. The churches and chapels are numerous, many of them being small, but a great number of people are being reached.

During the business session it was decided to hold three meetings during the year, the next one to be a picnic sometime in August. Officers were elected and plans made to make this years work successful.

ROAD IS CLOSED.

The Chicago Pike west of town is closed as far as the Franklin town line and operations are under way to put it in condition for laying the concrete as soon as possible.

The big culvert two miles west of town is torn out, completely blocking the road and detour signs have been placed warning the people to use the detour.

The road will now remain closed until the concrete is laid and ready for use so plan to use the roads southwest of town for ging in that direction and northwest of town for travel that way.

The contractors and the resident engineer are anxious to complete the work as soon as possible and they are certainly extending every possible courtesy and assistance to the people to do away with as much inconvenience as possible while the road is under construction so lets do our part and help the good work along.

UNIVERSITY TEAM AT METHODIST CHURCH.

A group of five University students conducted the services at the Methodist church Sunday. They were Earl Wright, Mr. and Mrs. O'Mara, Miss Margaret May and Miss Bessie Divine. They had complete charge of the meetings both morning and evening and a large audience was present at each service.

At five-thirty Sunday evening a large group of Epworth Leaguers met at the church and enjoyed a splendid pot luck lunch, and a social time. Considerable enthusiasm was awakened among the young people to attend the district E. L. convention at Ann Arbor, Friday and Saturday. At least twenty-five from here and Tipton are planning to attend in a body. They are to be chaperoned by Rev. and Mrs. H. J. B. Marsh.

The party also conducted the service at Tipton Sunday morning.

ENTERTAINS "500" CLUB.

Mrs. Ella Glover was hostess to her "500" club and a number of friends last Thursday afternoon at her home on West Chicago street.

Seven tables were filled for the games and a very pleasant afternoon was spent in playing "500." At six o'clock a delicious two-course luncheon was served.

GIVEN DIPLOMA FOR SERVICES.

At the regular meeting of the K. of P. lodge held in their hall last Thursday night, Earl Haughn was presented with a Past Chancellor's diploma by the lodge in recognition of the faithful services he has rendered the lodge.

Mr. Haughn responded in a very fitting manner and was greatly appreciative of the honor thus conferred upon him at the hands of the brothers with whom he has served so faithfully and so pleasurably.

The lodge conferred the second rank work during the evening and held a very enjoyable communication.

SOPHOMORES GIVE PLAY.

At the assembly Monday morning at the high school the Sophomore class gave a humorous play entitled, "First Day of School." Miss Alice Barber was teacher, and the scene was a country school. The fond mothers brought their children and explained to the teacher all their good points and the best way to deal with them.

Some musical numbers were included in the program and the little play was very successful and enjoyed by the students.

A Household Reserve Fund

Many times a housewife is called upon to make expenditures outside of the usual routine of her home.

At such times, she will find it greatly to her advantage if she has a reserve fund upon which to draw.

The practical way of building such a reserve fund is to open a Savings Account at the Lilley State Bank and add to it with regular deposits.

Make this friendly bank your bank by opening such an account. Your money is always available and will draw 4% compound interest.

A CHALLENGE.

In last week's issue of the Hudson Post-Gazette the editor called the attention of the people to the fact that the smaller towns were in serious danger of losing much of their former trade owing to the quick means of transportation over the stone roads which are now year around roads and all leading right to the cities.

In support of this statement he said, "Come into the office and we will take you in 25 minutes to a town where there are more empty store rooms in it than there are ones filled with merchandise."

And we know he can do it. The town in question before the stone roads were put through it, was a prosperous growing town with a bright future and the merchants felt very secure in holding the trade that had been theirs for many years. BUT

When the stone roads did come, business went elsewhere with the above result. It was not due to loss of any manufacturing interest but purely and truly the direct result of putting the larger towns within easy reach of the trade that used to buy nearly all their goods there.

Toledo and Detroit together with Jackson and other cities are making strenuous efforts to capitalize this very ease with which anyone who owns a car can reach their stores. Other towns are doing likewise. In fact it is purely a matter which every town now realizes and every person doing business in the smaller town must sooner or later realize, that every possible effort should be made to join forces in a united co-operating plan to offset this tendency which sooner or later will be keenly felt. We belive the editor of every home paper is ready to co-operate with the home town people energetically but they cannot do more than the rest of the people wish to educate the buying public that the place to spend their money it at home where the value of every foot of property within ten miles of the town is increased because of the home town being a good town.

Volumes can be written on this subject which is urgently necessary at this particular moment and the far sighted people of the community should take active steps to set in motion a system of co-operation and education that will become immediately effective and continue to be a dominant power for years to come. It doesn't take more proof nor argument to show the necessity of this, it does take action on the part of the men who are interested in keeping the small towns on the map. It can be done easily by a vigorous, united co-operation along the right lines if done very soon and very thoroughly.

DODGE BROTHERS
TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

DR. JAMES S. McGAW GIVES ADDRESS.

Dr. James S. McGaw, America's rapid-fire civic evangelist, gave a splendid address Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church to a large audience, on the subject of "The Banished Book and the Bad Boy." He is a member of the National Reform Association which has its headquarters in Pittsburg, Pa. and has speakers all over the United States working to put the bible back on the teacher's desk in every school.

He stated that America is now passing through the most critical hour in its history, and America has had many great hours. Some people state that it is due to the fact that we have just passed thru a great war, but this is not the cause. The fact that the bible has been banished and that the Sabbath is made a day of pleasure is responsible for the great crime wave that is sweeping the country.

The new crop of bandits ranges from the ages of fifteen to twenty-five, and all carry guns and do not hesitate to shoot to kill, if necessary. The United States has the record of leading the world in crime. This is because the bible is not on every teacher's desk and the continental Sunday is in vogue.

We ask if Uncle Sam is doing nothing? He is, building more jails, asylums, hiring more police and plain clothes men, taking care of the finished product but nothing to prevent the cause.

There are thirteen million boys and girls of school age who are listed as spiritual illiterates, or who have had no training along rtligious lines whatever. Our schools are not only to teach the students to earn a living and how to enjoy life, but the main purpose is to make citizens out of every student. We have no right to tax the people for the two above purposes only.

We have the right on graduation day to ask if each graduate will make a true, sincere, liberty loving American. What is an alien? An alien is any man or woman, home born or foreign born who are out of sympathy with American principles. Our nation declares its relation to God on every coin that is issued, "In God We Trust." The genius of our nation is Christianity, making this nation different from any other.

The conservation of national Christianity is the greatest battle yet to be fought. The bible made America, and Americans can be made with the bible.

We also have the right to ask if they will make law abiding citizens. If the children are never taught where the law came from or a reason for obeying it, the state is as much to blame as the child, if they fail to live up to it. All laws of the U. S. are based on the ten commandments, and if these are taught in the schools, we cannot help but have a generation of law abiding citizens.

The ministers of the town were present and heartily endorsed every statement made by Dr. McGaw. The large audience present were unanimously in favor of putting the bible back in our school, and pledged their willingness to do all in their power to bring this to pass.

About Coal!

Smokeless vs. Red Band

I believe there is not $3.00 difference in the price between the so-called Pocahontas and the genuine RED BAND coal. When you consider the slack of the smokeless coal between now and fall and that much of the so-called Pocahontas is not the genuine and the fact will not be discovered until you come to burn it, believe the RED BAND either lump or egg is the best buy and will ultimately prove to be the most satisfactory to you.

Please call and talk it over.

WASHED NUT

We have an exceptional good so-called "washed nut" that we are selling for $8.00 per ton and really are surprised how is satisfies.

"Fighting Joe" not only refused the sword, but told Baldwin to return to his own forces.

As an Indian fighter he was a close friend of General Custer, next to whom Baldwin was said to have been the greatest Michigan soldier, and an intimate of "Buffalo Bill Cody. He was closely associated with the noted scout when the path of the Union Pacific railway was being blazed through the western wilderness.

Fame came to Baldwin when he rescued two young women who had been kidnaped by Indians after the savages had killed their parents.

Accompanied by one volunteer, Baldwin rode by night into the camp where the girls were prisoners, rescued them and escaped midst the rifle fire of awakened Indians.

For that congress awarded him a medal. Another medal was awarded him during the Civil war, when the colors of his troops, outnumbered 20 to 1 by the Confederates, were captured and his men routed.

Dashing alone on horseback into the ranks of the enemy, Baldwin rescued the flag and escaped with it.

Baldwin was the commander of the first civilized troops to reach the south shore of Lake Lanao, island of Mindanao, Philippines.

Retiring in 1901, General Baldwin, from 1917-1919, was adjutant general of Colorado.

Firestone

Will Not Increase Prices on Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Until May 1st

Never has Firestone been so well situated to give operators the greatest measure of Cushion, Traction and Mileage at the lowest cost.

Today, economical manufacturing and distribution are showing the fullest results. Our favorable purchases of rubber, in advance of the 150% increase brought about by the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act, aid further in maintaining the old price levels.

Whatever the Truck Service—the Firestone Dealer Has the Right Tire

Firestone developments of the past two years have made pace for the industry and set new records in sure, economical performance. Five tires—the Heavy Duty Cushion, the Truck Type Cord, the Maxi-Cushion, the Giant Solid and the High Type—cover the needs of motor haulage in all its forms. Each has a distinct work which it does best. Each possesses a definite and special value for the operator.

Truck owners, using pneumatic tires, will find the answer to every demand of rapid, economical transportation in the Firestone Truck Type Cords with the tread that increases carrying capacity and improves traction, and the powerful gum-dipped carcass construction.

Let the Firestone Service Dealers Keep Your Trucks Moving

There are 800 Firestone Service Dealers, located in the principal trucking centers, fitted by natural ability and a thorough knowledge of trucking, to help you choose the right tire for your roads, loads and service.

Price Protection as Long as Stocks Last

Additional tires will be supplied to Service Dealers only so far as our present output will permit. Consult the nearest Firestone Service Dealer at once regarding your truck tire needs. He is in an advantageous position to give you an unusual tire—a specialized service—and prices which may not be duplicated in months.

The New Goodyear Cord with the Beveled All-Weather Tread

THE "special discount" is tempting, but not when you understand who pays for it. The tire dealer doesn't pay for it. The manufacturer cannot afford to. Chances are it comes out of the quality of the tire, so, after all, you pay for it. None of the quality of Goodyear Tires ever is sacrificed to "special discounts" or anything else.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend Goodyear Tires and back them up with standard Goodyear Service

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

Some people overcome considerable far-sight with less annoyance than a small degree imposes upon others. That is where the factor of health and temperament enters.

As a general proposition it may be stated that every far-sighted person would be better physically and often mentally if the error were corrected.

Far-sight, like every other error of vision, varies in intensity. Some are deficient to only a slight degree, others to a phenomenal extent. A suspicion of far-sight should prompt a person to consult the Optometrist at once.

To be continued next Thursday.

Red Crown is the best, most economical gasoline you can buy. Once you have the right carburetor adjustment you can go and keep going without a sputter—you will have an abundance of sustained pulling power and all the speed your engine can develop.

Ask to see them!

In America there are two classes of people. Those who know Styleplus Clothes—those who should.

Clothing merchants who study what's happening in the clothing world acknowledge the pace-setting progress of Styleplus Clothes.

They are pace-setters in Style—including the snap which young men demand and the refinement sought by men of genteel taste.

They are pace-setters in Quality and Value, based on good tailoring, all-wool fabrics, standard trimming. And last of all, they are priced reasonably. We'll be glad to show them to you!

On Sunday evening Rev. Prestage gave a very interesting talk at the church. Moving pictures were shown. First, "The Village Blacksmith. Miss Madelene Nixon recited the poem as the picture was shown. The second picture was "The Chosen Prince." Rev. Prestage explained the picture as it was shown. The Deerfield choir furnished music. In two weeks the second picture in the series will be shown.

At the Sunday School service it was announced that a contest is being started. Miss Zura Kerr is leader of the "push" side while Donald Chandler has charge of the other side which will "pull." INSTALLS NEW CLEANER.

E. M. Campbell has installed a new Connersville rug washing machine of the latest type, which scours the rug thoroughly and then suction cleans them, which insures a thorough job.

This machine is one of the best in use today and does its work so thoroughly that when a rug is given this treatment once, it is just as clean as the day it was made. This is a fine addition to Tecumseh and will enable the housewives to get their rugs cleaned quickly and at a very reasonable cost.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB HOLD FINAL MEETING.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron entertained the Wit and Wisdom Club at their final meeting of the season at their home west of town Monday evening. Mrs. Waldron was leader of the evening and the subject was "Wayfarers of Land and Air."

The program was opened by a piano duet by Mrs. Frank Turner and Mrs. Chas. Williamson after which Mrs. Waldron gave a talk on "Bugs" followed by a reading on "Injurious Insects" by J. O. Eaton. Mrs. Waldron also gave a few interesting facts about butterflies after which Norman Long read a paper and displayed some mounted specimens of butterflies. The next number was a vocal solo by Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges followed by short talks on "Birds" by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron. The roll call was responded to by naming birds of Lenawee County.

A business session was held and officers elected. No changes were made and they are as follows: President, Dr. E. D. Brown; Vice-president, Mrs. A. O. Howard; Secretary, Miss Alice Wimple; Treasurer, Fred Rector. This was the closing meeting before the annual banquet, announcement of which will be made later.

A social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

DOES WONDERFUL WORK.

The new x-ray machine recently installed by Dr. H. H. Hammel was brought into play last week to determine the location of a steel splinter drove into the eyeball of Chas. Cole and the photographic plate showed the splinter in its true location as plainly as it is possible to see such a small object.

Mr. Cole was immediately sent to the hospital in Detroit and when the splinter was removed it was found to be one of the smallest ever taken from an eye which was lodged so deeply into the ball. The Detroit doctors were loud in their praise of the splendid work of photographing it so accurately and perfectly.

The Doctor is having wonderful success with the machine and has fitted up his laboratory with every scientific arrangement to develop the plates perfectly and that they are so made and developed is shown by the wonderful pictures he has taken of foreign substances and injuries to the bones of his patients.

Such a machine in this town is a splendid addition to our medcal equipment and provides the people with every facility that heretofore they must go to the city for. The machine is of the latest type and provided with every safety appliance, and it is a powerful instrument designed for the very purpose for which the medical profession use them in accurately determinating what without them is mere guess work.

Senior Play Draws A Packed House

Clever Comedy Presented By High School Seniors Is Brilliant Success. Each and Every Actor Deserves Great Credit. Best Ever Given Is Verdict.

One of the very best home talent plays ever presented in our High School was given on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week when the Senior class presented their annual play, "When Ted Comes Home."

Each member of the caste had learned their part perfectly and so clever was the plot that until the last moment the audience was held in suspense as to the outcome of events.

The scene is laid at Rip Van-Winkle Inn in the mountains and the guests become involved in the weird plot which is only unraveled at the very end of the play.

Harry Duncan as Skeet Kelly, the hotel clerk, was a general favorite and made things move whenever he was around.

The part of Diana Garwood, the heiress was taken by Miss Bernice Austin and most ably played throughout.

Miss Elfrieda Alderdyce as Miss Loganberry, the spinster, brought forth many a laugh in her attempts to teach the young men to dance and to have a romance of her own.

Ira Stone, the villian, was played by Lester Baker and the part of the unscrupulous adventurer was well taken.

Martha Comfort as Aunt Jubilee, the cook was perfect in her part and a great favorite with the audience.

Mr. Man, the mysterious man and hero of the play, was most creditably represented by Donald Brown.

Erwin Anderson as Jim Ryker the lawyer played two difficult parts with great success, as the old farmer who played solitaire and robbed the safe, he was unusually good.

The part of Mollie Macklin, the housekeeper was taken by Miss Luella Colson, this was a difficult role but Miss Colson was equal to every occasion and much credit was due her for splendid acting.

Miss Juanita Goheen, the fascinating widow from Honolulu, was a great favorite with her ukelele and her son "Farewell to Thee."

Ted, the groom and Elsie the bride, were taken by Robert Collins and Miss Frances Case and these two did a very clever bit of acting, Miss Case's rendition of the tearful, happy bride caused much merriment and she was ably supported by Mr. Collins.

Wilmot Pruyne as the irascible Senator, M'Corkle, father of the bride played his part to perfection calming down when he discovered his new son-in-law is the son of an old friend.

The orchestra under the direction of Miss Julia Anderson produced some splendid music with Miss Anderson at piano, Raymond Austin violin and Miss Beard, cellist.

Miss Alice Heilman as president of the Senior Class addressed the audience thanking them for their patronage and those who so ably directed the play.

The audience pronounced the entire performance as one of the best ever given by a senior class.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Delia L. Wood of Raisin, to whom he was married in May, 1898, and one daughter, Mrs. F. W. D. Sowers of Adrian, his mother, Mrs. L. R. BOARD PLANS TO OPEN EAST BRANCH BUILDING.

Owing to a continual increase in the number of pupils in the lower grades, the school board finds it necessary to provide more room for their instruction for the coming year.

It has been definitely established for a long time that no teacher could possibly instruct more than 35 pupils in the primary grades and do anything like justice to any of them and the number of pupils which will be in the lower grades next year are as follows: first grade, 53; second grade 58; third grade 51; fourth grade 53; fifth grade 48 and sixth grade 47.

It can be seen at a glance that our lower grades are crowded way beyond the limit for proper instruction and when a child does not get justice in these grades his education is severely handicapped if indeed it is not a total failure. Hence, it seems absolutely necessary that more room be provided so that the number of children per room be cut down to something like normal and the children given a chance to get what everyone must have in this day—a fair education.

The board has gone over this matter carefully and decided that the only solution of the problem is to open the east side building again and provide the necessary room and teachers for adequate instruction of these children.

It is planned to add two additional teachers next year beside the one extra which has assisted this year as a relief teacher for the crowded grades. This will reduce the number of pupils per teacher to 35 unless more come in again than is expected which is not improbable.

The board has made a survey of the east side building and find that it is in good condition as far as walls, floors and light is concerned. A new heating plant will have to be provided and some repairing done to the stairways, toilets repaired and rooms seated. Connections have been made with sewers and lights and after redecorating and a new heating plant installed, it will be in good conditon and solve the problem of overcrowding they believe.

Of course this will make an added expense which one member of the board said they deplored greatly but the education of the children came first and he believed that the people would agree that more room must be provided under the conditions and that the most feasible and least expensive plan was to reopen the east branch building after it has been put in condition to properly take care of the children.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH ON WHEELS.

A church on wheels, which is fitted out with altar, seats and the other requirements of a church is traveling about from place to place stopping to hold meetings. They have been here all this week, holding meetings each evening at seven o'clock on the four corners.

Rev. Jerome has conducted the services and after a service of song he has given a short inspiring talk. There has been considerable interest manifested and some good cannot help but result from the out of door meetings.

PLEASE PAINT YOUR BOXES.

Postmaster Henry McClure has called out attention to postal regulations which have just been issued requesting rural patrons to paint their mail boxes white and also to print the name of the head of the family on the box plainly.

This is done in order to preserve the boxes and give them a better appearance as well as to enable the rural carriers to be more certain in the delivery of the mail. As often an assistant is on the route and if the name is on the box he is much less apt to make a mistake in the delivery of your mail.

Further, if the boxes are painted white, they show up better in the night and are less liable to be struck by autos which might turn out of the road in passing another car. All of this is for the betterment of the service and rural patrons will greatly assist by following out these suggestions.

LEAVE SPLENDID MEMORIAL.

The Junior and Senior classes of the High School have purchased $100 worth of shrubbery to be planted around the High School grounds. The agricultural class, taught by C. D. Wilcox have charge of it and will plant them today. Miss Mildred Boyce has assisted in purchasing them.

This will be a splendid memorial to leave to the future students, and will be a fine addition to the grounds. These classes are to be commended for this action.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE NOW ON.

The different communities of this county are now holding booster meetings to raise funds for the work of the Salvation Army in Lenawee. On account of conflicting dates, it has been impossible to arrange a date for Tecumseh so far, but we believe that Tecumseh will do her part without any special urging. This drive is supposed to end on May 6th and you are requested to leave your donations at either bank at an early date.

Every cent of this money will be spent in this county and the funds are all handled through an Advisory Board composed of citizens from the different townships. Mrs. H. S. Bredow and H. H. Hanna represent Tecumseh township on this board.

The army is doing a wonderful work and is no doubt saving the tax payers thousands of dollars every year, by their care of those who would otherwise be public charges.

Your attention is called to the fact that there is a difference between the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America who often solicit money here. While they are doing the same kind of work and are also worthy, they are not doing their work in this county. The money they get here goes to Jackson. We therefore suggest that you make your donations to the Salvation Army of Lenawee County.

IS GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Miss Eyrcil VanWinkle was given a surprise party Thursday evening in honor of her birthday, at her home on West Kilbuck St. Her Sunday School class, the "Friend's Successful" helped to make the day one to be remembered.

A pleasant time was spent in music and games. A large pie with strings attached to it, from which each one received a prize caused a great deal of merriment.

A large birthday cake with lighted tapers on it was an important feature of the refreshments. The hostess received many nice gifts.

Among the guests were Amos Wilson and Miss Edna Betz of Blissfield, Everett Hensen of Adrian and Martin O'Dell of Clinton.

ENTERTAINS CLASS.

Mrs. John Wyrill entertained Miss Kyle's class of the Presbyterian church at her home on East Chicago street Tuesday evening. Miss Mary Whitelock conducted the devotionals after which Miss Maxine Wyrill played a piano solo and Mrs. Billings sang two vocal solos which were very much enjoyed.

A social time was enjoyed and much fun was caused by the two guessing contests. Refreshments were served.

ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Harry Moore entertained her bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home on South Van-Buren street. After the usual number of games were played, a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. A. S. Cummings will entertain the club in two weeks.

McCOY—ARMER.

James McCoy and Miss Mary Armer were united in marriage Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Boyd on South Ottawa street, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh performing the ceremony. The bride wore a blue organdie dress.

Both are well known in town, having lived here for some time. They will make their home in town.

Miss Elizabeth Campbell of Bad Axe, Mich. returned with W. W. Brockway Friday for a short visit.

MARSHALL SAYS STOP SPEEDING.

Notices were passed around last week warning speeders that the village marshall will proceed to arrest those found speeding on the main streets of the village.

Now if the marshall will put this into execution rigidly and hail ever driver found driving recklessly before the court and a few stiff sentences are passed out, some of the reckless driving around town will be stopped.

The village officers will find every good citizen squarely back of such a program where it is clear that the driver is driving recklessly and he will have no difficulty in securing prompt convictions. Let's see what we'll see.

FIRE SATURDAY MORNING.

The fire department was called to the office of R. S. Moore early Saturday morning. When Mr. Moore opened his office he discovered a blaze in the room just back of the office. An electric wire from the ceiling had fallen and started a blaze among the bags of seeds.

The department was soon there and the fire was extinguished with chemicals before any great damage was done.

Mrs. W. D. Reed spent Friday in Toledo.

Investigate First!

Someone has shrewdly remarked that "The investor who is after ten per cent sometimes gets it in the distribution of the assets."

When you are offered an investment that sounds particularly rosy, do a little investigating before you turn over any money. Glowing promises and actual profits don't always go together.

At the Lilley State Bank we have to keep informed on investments, and any of our officers will gladly give you information and advice that may save you many dollars.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

If a defective eye did not try to overcome the error no discomfort would arise. For instance, it is the attempt of the far-sighted eye to focus light properly that is responsible for the annoyance. If it succeeds in doing this a perfect image is produced, and the person sees normally but this is done at the expense of an excessive consumption of nerve force.

Many times in "squint" where the eye, for instance, is hopelessly turned in, no discomfort [illegible] But if the squint is only [illegible] great annoyance may result. This is so in all errors of vision.

The only proof of far-sight comes as the result of a thorough examination by the Optometrist.

To be continued next Thursday.

IN MEMORIAM.

Who shall say that she is dead, this sweet and noble soul?
Let's mold our lives that we may meet in that eternal goal.

Eliza Foster Morrison was born in Anniskillan, Ireland, Oct. 28th, 1845. Her mother having died when she was very young, her father a Methodist minister placed her in Lorain Craine Seminary from which she graduated with honor and was referred to as the star pupil. After her father's death, she and her brother came to America where she took up the work of teaching and literature, and he that of law which led to his appointment as U. S. Attorney She was for many years a contributor of both prose and poetry to several N. Y. and Philadelphia papers.

Abut the year 1865, she married Rechab Morrison and both became active workers in the cause of temperance. Many of her writings among which may be mentioned, "Three Victories and How They Were Won" (prose), and "The Cry for Help" a portion of which were on this subject.

"There's a wail that is heard from palace and cot,
From our own beloved land to Earth's uttermost spot,
From the mansion of wealth and from poverty's home
Comes the wild piercing cry or the low stricken moan.

Its wild laugh is heard in the vile haunts of shame,
And it rings through the maniac's tenantless brain,
'Tis the cry of the wife, the parent, the child,
'Tis the wail of a land by drinking defiled.

Oh, hear it, oh heed it, all friends of our race
Join hands in an effort—ask God for his [illegible]
Let the fate of the ruined, the blighted, the seared,
The evils now felt and the evils yet feared.

Inspire our hearts with a fond anxious wish
To deliver our world from a curse such as this;
And for sake of the down-trodden slaves of the cup
For God's sake—for man's, don't give up—

Till from nation to nation, from center to shore
The glad news shall echo—Rum rules us no more!
Till virtue shall reign where vice proudly trod
And the nations of earth are the nations of God!

When Mr. and Mrs. Morrison joined her cousin Eliza Gray in Tecumseh, Thomas Hanley, a member of the Friend's Church, met them at the depot and ever after referred to her as the little girl with her baby in her arms. Of her nine children, three—Edgar, Lillian, and Edward have gone before, and those remaining to mourn her loss are James, Katheryn, Mae, Frances, Minnie and Thomas, also nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

To this family she gave herself in loving devotion to duty with a beautiful, consecrated, Christian spirit. She has been faithful to the clear light of conscience, and we can almost hear the Master say "Well done."

Always a lover of nature and Nature's God, she saw beauty in everything, and we are reminded of these words:

"There they need no sunshine bright
In that city four square,
For the Lamb is all the light
And there is no night there."

She was an ideal wife and mother, and many outside of the family circle who have been benefited by her unselfish spirit, refer to her as Mother, and with her children and grandchildren unite today to "call her blessed." In this beautiful Christian life of usefulness, Mrs. Morrison was not permitted to have the companionship of her husband to the end. Thirty-one years ago, God called him, and his services were also conducted at the Friend's Church in Tecumseh.

After an illness of about two months, during which time she manifested wonderful sweetness, love and patience, with the name of Christ on her lips and her family around her, she entered the great beyond.

"Around her many hearts are twined
As 'round some reverent saint enshrined,
And following her the childish feet
Are led to ideals true and sweet

And find all purity and good
In her divinest motherhood.
This sad old earth a brighter place
All for the sunshine of her face,

Her very smile a blessing throws
And hearts are happier where she goes,
A gentle clear-eyed messenger
Go whisper Love—thank God for her."

The funeral was held Thursday a. m. at her home 2635 Ferry Park, Detroit. Prayer and Scripture by Mr. Moon, pastor of Friends' Church, Mrs. Thorp sang "Jesus Is Mine" and W. D. Campbell, pastor of the Christian Church sang "The City Four Square."

Services were again held at the Friends' Church in Tecumseh at 2 p. m. Scripture reading and prayer by the Pastor; Praver and obituary by Mr. Moon, music by Naomi VanWinkle and Mabel Lockwood.

Mrs. Morrison was laid to rest by the side of her husband in Brookside cemetery.

Those from out of town were: Mr. Moon, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison, Jack and Edna Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Morrison, Mrs. F. E. Nay, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Ruth Thompson, Mrs. Geo. Duggan, Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Mrs. C. J. Doyle of Detroit; Robert Warner, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Orendorff and Lillian of Flint; Mrs. Katheryn Crego, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Winans, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crego, and J. L. Weaver, Toledo.

Mrs. J. F. N. Bowen and Mrs. D. H. C. Bowen left for Washington Court House, Tuesday. The former will visit there a short time and then plans to go to Parkersburg, W. Va.

MOTHERS' DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

In compliance with our beautiful custom, which in a few years has come to be universally observed throughout the land, the time has come to set apart a day in honor of American motherhood.

The American home is at once the cradle and the bulwark of all that is finest and best in our present day civilization, and the American mother is the heart of that home. If the home spirit is what it should be the major portion of the credit belongs to her.

It is impossible for us to compute the debt we owe our mothers, and it is only fitting that in this way we should pay our tribute of respect and devotion to the mothers of the nation, living and dead.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Michigan, I do hereby designate and proclaim Sunday, May thirteenth, 1923, as Mothers' Day, and I call upon our people both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and take part in services appropriate to the day.

And let absent sons and daughters take this occasion to visit the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible, let them send a message of cheer and greeting.

In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States, I further request the people of Michigan on the day aforesaid to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American motherhood.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this Twenty-seventh day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

Alex J. Groesbeck, Governor.

About Coal!

Smokeless vs. Red Band

I believe there is not $3.00 difference in the price between the so-called Pocahontas and the genuine RED BAND coal. When you consider the slack of the smokeless coal between now and fall and that much of the so-called Pocahontas is not the genuine and the fact will not be discovered until you come to burn it, believe the RED BAND either lump or egg is the best buy and will ultimately prove to be the most satisfactory to you.

Please call and talk it over.

WASHED NUT

We have an exceptional good so-called "washed nut" that we are selling for $8.00 per ton and really are surprised how is satisfies.

HARD COAL

We have some Range or Chestnut Hard Coal of exceptional quality that we can deliver at once.

One word about Hard Coal. "Circular" coal if obtainable will be reasonable in price. "Independent" will cost as high as $20.00 per ton before winter. Your order should be placed to secure you the "circular" coal.

Our supply will be limited, a great deal less than we wish.

LITTLE PLEASURE IN THIS

Camel Litter Probably Most Uncomfortable Conveyance That It Is Possible to Imagine.

"All of the passengers across the Syrian desert save only ourselves made the journey in camel litters than which no more uncomfortable means of transport could possibly be devised," relates Alexander Powell in the Century Magazine.

"A litter consists of a pair of shallow wooden boxes, slung one on each side of the camel like panniers and held in place by a network of stout cords. On each pannier are a thick mattress and a number of bolsters and cushions, on which you [illegible] sit, half recline, hanging on for dear life to the cord network or anything else that offers. When the camel kneels or rises, unless you have tight hold of something the chances are that you will be thrown violently to the ground.

"The litters used by the women are covered with slatted sides, and look like chicken coops. These litters necessitate a very cramped position on the part of their occupants, whose legs, incased in gaudily striped stockings held up by pink or yellow garters, frequently protrude unblushingly; for the only part of her person that a Moslem woman is particular about concealing is her face."

Natural Smoke Screen.

The artiseus, a deep-sea prawn, has a method of lighting that gives the appearance of a multitude of smoke rings. When excited by the nearness of an enemy the prawn ejects respiratory water in tiny squirts and into this stream the luciferin is forced from countless glands opening into the stream by fine ducts. As the chemicals combine, puffy clouds of luminescent particles float in the sea. This is the "smoke screen" provided by na[illegible] species" of luminous fish, called "photoblephron," has a dimmer system in an inside chamber that burns continuously. When the fish wishes to shut off the light he causes a black pigmented curtain to slide down over the light cell opening like an eyelid. The light organ preserves its luminescence even when removed and is used by fishermen of the islands of Banda, about 800 miles southeast of the Philippines as bait for night fishing. —Indianapolis News.

Artistic Faculty.

There is beauty in the moral world and in the intellectual world; but there is also beauty which is neither moral nor intellectual—the beauty of the world of art. There are men who are devoid of the power of seeing it. . . . There are others in whom it is an overpowering passion; happy men, born with the productive, or at lowest, the appreciative, genius of the artist. But, in the mass of mankind, the aesthetic faculty, like the reasoning power and the moral sense, needs to be roused, directed and cultivated; and I know not why the development of that side of his nature, through which man has access to a perennial spring of ennobling pleasure, should be omitted from any comprehensive scheme of university education.—Huxley.

Not "Only Man in the World."

I was visiting a girl whom I had not seen for some time, although we corresponded by mail. Her friend invited us to a show with him. When he arrived he had a friend with him for me. He seemed very nice, and by the time we said "good night" I thought he was the only man in the world. He asked me to telephone him next day at his office. I did. "This is Lizzie," I said. The flame of love was quenched when he answered: "What else do you want me to bring home, dear, besides the baby's shoes and thread?"—Chicago Journal.

Etiquette.

Mr. Tomkyn—Brown was very short in his manner to everybody tonight!

Mrs. Tomkyn—Yes, but we must forgive him, as I hear he's just had some heavy business losses.

Mr. Tomkyn—My dear, a real gentleman does not give vent to that sort of thing till he gets home to his wife.—London Opinion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Campbell attended the play "Robinhood" at Adrian Friday evening.

SAYS HE'S STRONGEST

Ricardo Nelson, a Swedish youth only two months in this country, has amazed Boston people with his feats, and claims to be the world's strongest man. In the photograph he is shown in position with an inch and a half rope attached to a block. The rope was tested to withstand 4,400 pounds. He simply bore upon the rope and broke it with ease.

TORE OFF THEIR UNIFORMS

Pawnee Scouts Preferred the Naked Hide to Soldier Garb That Had Been Provided.

In the sixties Major (then first lieutenant Frank J. North of the Pawnee reservation was authorized to raise a company of the Pawnees for scouting services on the plains against the Sioux and Cheyennes Eventually a battalion was formed each company under a chief and all under the white commander.

An earnest effort was made to drill and discipline the scouts; and they really performed simple evolutions very well. As fighters of their hereditary foes they were whirlwinds. Further to impress upon them their role of soldiers, they were issued uniforms—obsolete Civil war black hats, blouses and the old sky-blue trousers.

Upon the first march thereafter a sight for gods and men was presented. The square felt htas had been transferred to the ponies' heads with the ponies' ears sticking up through holes. The blouses were worn like short mantles, with the arms tied about the braves' necks, or else had been discarded in favor of naked hide. And the entire seats of the pants had been cut out, so that the two sections were retained merely by the belt at the waist.

In the first charge away went the hats, away sailed the blouses, the seatless pants drifted behind and the plain was strewn with garments while the yelling Pawnees rode stripped for action—stripped to breech-clout and moccasins.

There were no flies on them either.—Adventure Magazine.

For Real Service Buy Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Gasoline Service is expressed in terms of mileage. When you buy 10 gallons of gasoline, in reality you are buying 150 miles of service, if you get 15 miles to the gallon.

Gasoline becomes a propelling force only when you cause it to vaporize and mix it with air.

The service which you receive is in exact ratio to the manner in which the gasoline vaporizes.

Red Crown Vaporizes to the Last Drop

that's why there is no waste. Red Crown has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions, ad justed so as to vaporize at just the correct temperature to produce instant starting Winter or Summer — a quick pickup — smooth acceleration—tremendous sustained pulling power — racing speed if you want it and a maximum of mileage.

All of which is summed up in two words "Real Service."

The Ann Arbor District Young People's and Epworth League Conference held last Friday and Saturday in Ann Arbor was a very successful gathering in every way. Beside the regular delegates about 25 motored over from Tecumseh and Tipton last Friday night, attended the banquet and heard the great address by Bishop Henderson on the "Fellowship of Redemption."

On Sunday night a report of the convention was given during the League hour by Raymond Austin, Elwin May and Norman Long, which gave evidence of the close attention paid to the proceedings of the conference by the boys. The report was very lucid and comprehensive. The churches of Tecumseh ought to be proud of their young people they are certainly worth all the time, effort and expense needed to make the church and Sunday School attractive for them.

STUDENT KILLS SELF

Overwhelmed by the dark philosophies of an English naturalist whose career was a failure, this Barnard college junior, Marie Bloomfield, committed suicide as the man of her inspiration had often wanted to do. She was in love with his spirit and sought death as an avenue of their meeting.

Our attention was called to an error in our issue of April 19 in which the reporter stated that "most of the preachers in the mountain districts down south were reformed moonshiners or former convicts." We should have said that some of them were but most of them are simply converted natives. We are glad to make this correction.

MARSHALL MOMINEE GRABS TWO.

Two traffic violators were grabbed by Marshall Mominee last week and hailed before the Judge to answer for violating traffic regulations.

The first one was Arthur Price who lives northeast of Tecumseh and he was arrested for driving on the wrong side of the boulevard on East Chicago street. He reported to Judge Hosmer and paid five dollars cost and five dollars fine. He did not contest the case at all.

The second offender was Jos. A. Snell, a speeder from Detroit who drove through Brownville at a merry clip and was halted by the Marshall but he sped on and the Marshall just jumped on the running board of a passing auto and chased him up town catching him at the corner of Evans and Chicago. He took his hat off to Judge Carr and paid five dollars fine and three dollars cost without a murmur.

Its working and the Marshall means just what he says when he ordered reckless drivers to quit speeding and violating the other traffic ordinances. This should be a fair warning to those inclined to do as they please that they had better have a little change along to settle with the Judge if they start speeding around this burg any more.

Every good citizen in town will be glad to hear of this good work and will back the officers up to the limit in stopping reckless driving before some young life is snuffed out in a bad accident. Go to it Mr. Marshall, the people are with you every inch of the way. And now adopt parking rules and we will be a well regulated town where people are safe from crazy speed bugs.

HAVE A SPLENDID DISPLAY.

Fred Rosacrans & Sons have put a very fine display of rugs, linoleums and draperies in the store formerly occupied by Guy E. Belding. The display shows how carefully this firm selects their materails, they being of the very finest and latest patterns and they are attracting much attention.

This firm believes firmly in giving their trade the very best of merchandise that can be bought at as reasonable a price as can be asked for such goods. They guarantee what they sell to be exactly as represented and they never resort to buying up stuff just made to sell and which is advertised by flashy bills printed in Chicago which is supposed to "get the buyers in." They believe in patronizing the home industries and dealing in first quality merchandise which they can positively guarantee which is bringing them a rapidly increasing trade of buyers who repeat because they get just what they buy every time they buy.

Our advice is when you get a big flashy bill printed out of town offering merchandise that is regularly carried by our own dealers just drop in and compare the price and quality with what the regular dealer carries and see why it is that such large flashy expensive bills can be offered "with the goods" free if they can get some merchant to put on the sale.

It pays to deal in good goods that can be guaranteed and that will prove absolutely satisfactory in every way—that alone will draw trade to Tecumseh and keep the people coming here for their needs.

"500" CLUB.

Mrs. O. G. Hunt entertained her "500" club Thursday afternoon at her home on South Oneida Street. There were four tables of players and the usual number of games were played, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Henry McClure will entertain in two weeks.

Wednesday Shows Start June 6th

Meeting of Business Men Tuesday Afternoon Decided To Put On Regular Old Time Shows. Wade L. Jones Unanimously Elected Manager Again.

At a meeting of about forty business men held at the council building last Tuesday afternoon it was unanimously decided to again put on the regular Wednesday night shows during the summer.

The first show will be given on June 6th and every Wednesday night thereafter through August. Wade L. Jones the veteran manager who has made such a conspicuous success of these shows was again elected with a whoop to manage the snows which will insure their success from every angle.

A soliciting committee composed of H. S. Temple, L. E. Rosacrans, John Snow and R. W. Puffer were elected to solicit the funds for the same and Joe Hanna was appointed the collector for the season.

Lester Coller presented the subject of lighting the show windows Sunday nights and it was very favorably discussed with the result that the Electric Co. was asked to send a man around to make arrangements with those desiring it to install an outside switch so that the night watch could turn off the lights about ten o'clock or when desired.

A commttee composed of Ivan Spitler, Carl Snyder, C. N. Graebner and E. T. Armstrong was apponted to take up the matter of preparing a map showing the favorable location of Tecumseh to be used in advertising the town.

It was a very successful meeting and brought out many useful ideas that can be put to splendid use in building up our town. Hearty co-operation among the merchants and others to make all roads lead to Tecumseh is the thing that "brings home the bacon" and there seemed to be a real spirit of pull together for the good of Tecumseh. Let the good work go on and it will soon show for still better things for the old home town.

PAUL STEVENS PASSES AWAY WEDNESDAY.

Paul Stevens was born in Germany in 1849, and passed away at his home in Tecumseh Wednesday morning at 9:30 after a week's illness with plural pneumonia. He has been a resident of Tecumseh for a good many years, and worked on the section most of the time.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Alex Peters and Mrs. Claud McAtee and one son Gustine, all of this place.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Preston officiating.

PAVING COMMENCED.

Last Monday afternoon a small square of paving about twenty feet each way was laid on the intersection at Pearl and Chicago Sts. Wednesday, another small strip was laid and it is hoped to get this intersection laid this week.

The work is moving very slowly while contractors are waiting for the gravel situation to get untangled or something else and it looks as if we were in for an all summer's job on the five blocks up to Adrian St.

Everyone gives Mr. Freysinger, the contractor, credit for doing everything he possibly can to expedite the work but his hands are tied through the state department in some manner unknown to us and we suppose that we will have to wait until the decks are cleared and red tape untangled if it takes all summer.

ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. F. C. Dickinson entertained her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on North Maiden Lane. The rooms were very prettily decorated with cherry blossoms.

At the close of the games, a two-course dinner was served. In two weeks Mrs. E. Berry will entertain the same club.

Mrs. Paul Bowen was an Adrian caller Tuesday.

Miss Katheryn Reed was home from Ypsilanti over the week end.

H. S. Temple and Geo. Church were business callers at Coldwater Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Braman spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Heidenrich at Jackson.

Mrs. Lloyd Whelan and Mrs. Franc Gillespie were business callers in Adrian, Tuesday.

Mrs. C. A. Reckner had her tonsils removed at the hospital at Ann Arbor, Wednesday.

Mrs. A. C. Cummins is hostess to her bridge club this afternoon at her home on Union Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schneider and guest, Miss Florence Shafrick of Ypsilanti, visited friends in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, Sunday.

Mrs. P. C. Snell accompanied by Mrs. Amelia Lewis arrived home last Friday from Sarasota, Fla., where they have been spending the winter. They stopped at Orlando, Tampa, and Sanford on the way and took a trip up the St. Johns river which gave them a very delightful trip home. Both arrived feeling very well and happy.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SESSIONS OF PRESBYTERY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Lansing Presbytery met at the local Presbyterian church on Thursday and Friday. There were 100 registered delegates present from the churches of southeastern Michigan, and it was the general opinion that this was the best convention that has been held.

There were addresses by Miss Christine Wilson of New York City, on work in Kentucky and Carolina and by Mrs. John Estey who took the place of Mrs. T. H. Throop who was ill. They were well delivered and very interesting to all present.

Music was furnished at the different sessions by Mrs. J. J. Preston, Messrs. W. S. and F. C. Dickinson and by Mrs. E. C. Heilman, each number being very pleasing.

On Thursday evening the local C. E. Society put on a pageant, "Sunlight or Candlelight." There was a splendid lesson to the play and each one did their part well.

On Thursday evening the Methodist ladies put on a banquet at their church parlors. There was a large number served after which the C. E. Society gave some splendid toasts. The Methodist ladies also served dinner Thursday and on Friday the Baptist ladies served.

The program was carried out as printed last week, the reports and talks on the various departments of the work being especially helpful and instructive. The orchestra also furnished some fine music at the meetings.

The delegates were entertained in the homes of the various members and the committee in charge wishes to thank all those who so kindly assisted, thus making the convention a success.

OPENING GAME IS MAY 20th.

The new Southern Michigan base ball league consisting of Tecumseh, Clinton, Manchester, Palmyra, Milan and the Ann Arbor Grotto has been fully organized and the opening game of the season will be played here on Sunday, May 20th.

Twenty games will be played during the season and all of them on Sunday. No salaried players will be used by any team. Wade Jones is the director from Tecumseh and Chas. Hanna is the manager of the team.

Last Sunday 30 players were out for practice and it is hoped that everyone who can play ball will come out for practice on Tuesday and Thursday evenings regularly.

The admission for the games will be 35c and 15c during the season. It is expected that a real live interest will be taken in the team and that the fans will come out in force and make it a paying proposition. We have an excellent field and with such a league schedule arranged, there should be some hot old games for the pennant race. Let's hope Tecumseh starts off right and keeps at the head of the list but we won't sob if they don't. Its all in the game win or lose.

AN APPEAL.

The Kindergarten children wish to make an appeal to their friends through the Herald. Has any one a Victrola that is not in use that they would loan to the West Branch School

The children will take good care of it. They would also be very glad of picture books to put on their shelf that they have just made. Call Mrs. Ketcham, phone 135.

PLEASE PAINT YOUR BOXES.

Postmaster Henry McClure has called our attention to postal regulations which have just been issued requesting rural patrons to paint their mail boxes white and also to print the name of the head of the family on the box plainly.

This is done in order to preserve the boxes and give them a better appearance as well as to enable the rural carriers to be more certain in the delivery of the mail. As often an assistant is on the route and if the name is on the box he is much less apt to make a mistake in the delivery of your mail.

Further, if the boxes are painted white, they show up better in the night and are less liable to be struck by autos which might turn out of the road in passing another car. All of this is for the betterment of the service and rural patrons will greatly assist by following out these suggestions.

ELECT OFFICERS.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church elected the following officers Sunday evening at their meeting: President, Raymond Austin; first vice president, Mildred Benedict; second, Elwin May, third, Genevieve Austin, fourth, Mrs. Ed. Braun; Ed. Braun recreational director; Ralph Field Secretary; Stewart McLain, Treasurer, and Margaret Leighton, pianoist.

NOTICE.

GIVEN A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Tuesday was the birthday anniversary of Majel Jones and George Elliott and Mrs. W. L. Jones entertained a party of twenty-six little folks at their home in honor of the occasion.

Games and music were enjoyed after which the party found their places at the table which was prettily decorated in yellow and white. Little yellow baskets marked each place as favors.

Miss Majel was eight years old and had a cake with eight candles on and George was seven and had a birthday cake with seven cndles on, which they each blew out successfully. The kiddies enjoyed a happy afternoon.

JUNIORS GIVE RECEPTION.

The first event of the commencement season of the high school was held Friday evening, when the Junior class entertained the Senior class at their annual reception at the home of one of their members, Miss Margaret Turner on West Chicago street. The decorations which were under the care of Miss Eleanor Caldwell were very beautiful. Two rooms were carried out in a green and white color scheme, the Senior class colors and three with the Junior colors, the colors of the rainbow. A canopy of branches spanned by a large rainbow sheltered the orchestra which furnished the music for the dancing later in the evening.

The tables were very pretty with lighted tapers and streamers of the class colors and covers were laid for ninety-four. The menu was delicious and well served.

After the banquet Philip Ketcham as toastmaster introduced the following toasts in his own original way.

Vocal solo—Miss Helen Sheldon.

"A June Morning"—Dale Mominee.

"The Clouds Thicken"—Alice Heilman.

"Sunshine Thru Rain"—Mr. Crampton.

Vocal solo—Mina Lambkin.

"The Silver Lining"—George Deery.

"The Bow of Promise"—Miss Boyce.

"The Pot of Gold"—Miriam Sudburough.

The toasts and music were very well given and much enjoyed.

The other committees that helped to make the reception a success were: entertainment, Eyrcil VanWinkle; program, Katherine Patterson; invitations, place cards and table decorations, Margaret Turner; refreshments, Geraldine Gillespie and finance, Webster Anderson.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, Coller's orchestra furnishing the music.

WEATHER MAN LOSES CONTROL.

The weather man must have lost control of his steering wheel or something else went blooey last Wednesday morning for when the early risers took a peep out of doors they beheld a bountiful fall of snow covering the ground and it was dropping down in sheets.

Quite a novelty for this season of the year in this locality and not at all welcome as it will hold up paving operations and it makes the ground cold and unfit for early seed beds.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN DETROIT.

Word of the death of Mrs. Ray Brownson was received here last week. She passed away Wednesday afternoon at Detroit, death being sudden. She was thirty-eight years of age.

Her maiden name was Miss Mary Anderson and during the world war she served as a nurse. Mr. Brownson was a former resident of Tecumseh and they have visited Mrs. Brownson's mother, Mrs. Richard Putnam, frequently. Burial was made in Detroit.

NOT THE REAL REASON.

A short time ago it was given out that the Adrian Bakeries would raise the price of bread on account of flour going up, etc.

This is certainly very misleading as wheat has dropped from $1.32 per bu. to $1.23 in the last few days and this means lower priced flour if anything.

Nevison's Bakery has reduced the price of bread and it is up to the people to say whether they want to buy home made bread at a lower price or foreign made bread at a high price. We believe they will respond to the efforts made to keep the price of bread down where it belongs. If they don't then they should not complain about high priced coal, sugar or anything else.

ATTEND COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

The drill team of the local Rebekah order attended the meeting of the association at Adrian Wednesday. They went as "Overall Girls" each being dressed in a suit of overalls. The team was as follows: Mesdames Dora Aten, Ethel Cole,, Ida Freeman, Lura Howard, Lillian Loomis, Electa Richardson, Lucille Gregg, Goldie Topps, Frances VanAntwerp, Hattie Whelan, Edith Gregg, Opal Holmes, Vivian Cilley, Miss Gertrude Brooks, Mabel Clark and Cecil Updyke.

The captain of the team was Mrs. Mayne Stevenson and the pianist was Mrs. Oliver Jones. Many of the members also attended.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet Thursday evening, May 14th at the high school. There will be an exhibit of grade work of the year in the various rooms at 7:30 and a short program will be given at 8:30, a feature of which will be a playlet given by the Sophomores, "The First Day at School."

Everyone is urged to be present if possible, as these meetings are a help to the teachers and give the parents an opportunity to become acquainted with the teachers.

ALL OVER BUT—

The famous 1923 Legislature has closed its doors after a stormy session in which over 400 bills were made laws, 375 of which 95% of the people will never know are on the statute books.

The first three months of the four month session was spent in doing nothing and the last two weeks in wild pandemonium to do it all before adjournment.

Two years ago Rep. Evans and the rest of the crowd were eulogizing the Governor to the skies and lauding every breath he drew. They were so enraptured with him that they made him virtual dictator of the state and now Rep. Evans has attacked him bitterly for trying to "dictate to the legislature." Wonder what Evans thought he should do with the unlimited powers the legislature clothed him with in 1921? Can't see why he should be astonished or perplexed or dumbfounded by the actions of the Governor whom he helped clothe with almost unlimited authority. It is just as simple as can be—the Governor set out to use the power he had been given and didn't agree with Evans so trouble began.

The big blunder was in 1921 and now the legislature is just feeling the error of it but it is too late. That's statesmanship for you.

Again Wayne Co. now has but 14% of the votes in the legislature and the constitution commands this legislature just closed to redistrict the state which will increase Wayne County's votes by far on account of their immense growth. What chance will the farmer representatives have with the then big Wayne vote and the unlimited powers of the Governor given him by the 1921 lgislature?

The two cent gas tax was defeated and so was the weight tax bill after a bitter fight so that the highway department is left high and dry without funds to "carry on" their program and take care of bonds coming due with interest etc.

Special session of the legislature looms up as possible but the Governor is quoted as saying there will be none. Some mess take it all around.

Over 50 MILLION appropriated for use in the state for the next two years which must be dug up from the people's pocket books to take care of our mounting expenses. As Senator Horton remarked, "it seems as if everything is unconstitutional except a tax on the farmer" which is the favorite place to garner in the money.

All right it suits us. T'was a good show and made interesting reading if a bit expensive. Wonder if Evans and the Governor will be such "boozum" friends during the rest of the time.

Anyhow the Telegram can come out again in two years and say for the fourth time that our friend from Tipton is sure to be speaker of the house if he is re-elected, etc. Good stuff for those who just read and forget.

Goodbye 1923 legislature. Give us a chance now to dig up our taxes and pay the bills including a raise in the salaries of the legislators for their noble and grand work during the past session. Its all over but paying the fiddler which may make us squirm a little, but then we did enjoy the scrap.

MYSTERIOUS PAINS AND ACHES

Make Life Hard to Bear For Many Tecumseh Women.

Too many women mistake their pains and aches for troubles peculiar to the sex. More often disordered kidneys are causing the aching back, dizzy spells, headaches and irregular urination. Kidney weakness becomes dangerous if neglected. Use a time-tried kidney remedy — Doan's Kidney Pills Hosts of people testify to their merit. Read a Tecumseh case:

Mrs. E. H. VanVleet, 204 N. Pearl St., says: "I had an attack of lumbago and my back was lame and painful and I was always worse when stirring around. My kidney's weren't acting regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so one of the family got me a box at Wright & Son's Drug Store and I began taking them. It wasn't long before I got relief. The pains through my back eased up and my kidneys became regular in action. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

A near-sighted person's distant vision is reduced, while his near vision is often better than normal. A person who is near-sighted to a small degree may not be aware of the defect.

The result of correcting short-sightedness is to extend the distant field of vision. The extent to which this can be done depends upon the degree to which the patient is short-sighted.

No class of patients derive more satisfaction from their glasses than short-sighted persons. They are in many cases with the correction enabled to enjoy the beauties of nature for the first time, and their pleasure in life is in every case greatly increased.

PERMANENT ENAMEL BAKED ON STEEL
Eight years ago, when Dodge Brothers originated the all-steel motor car body, they took advantage of the absence of wood in the framework to bake an enamel finish on the surface of the steel.
In a vast series of electric ovens, especially designed and built by Dodge Brothers' engineers for this process, three distinct coats of black enamel are successively baked on the steel at an intensely high temperature.
The result is a finish so hardy and durable that it seldom requires more than a good cleaning and polishing to restore the original brightness.
Even in sections of the Southwest where alkali in the soil is especially destructive to body finishes, Dodge Brothers enamel retains its beautiful lustre after years of wear.

MOTHERS' DAY PROCLAMATION.

Governor Groesbeck has issued a proclamation designating Sunday, May 13 as Mothers' Day and calling "upon our people, both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and to take part in services appropriate to the day." He also requests absent sons and daughters "to take this occasion to visit the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible," to send a message of cheer and greeting.

In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States, he further requests the people of Michigan "to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American Motherhood."

In observance of Mothers' Day appropriate services will be held in the Presbyterian Church. Sermon 11 a. m. "A Mother's Appeal;" 7:30 p. m. "Happiness in the Home." The public is cordially invited to atend either or both of these services.

ERVIN STAMPING COMPANY GIVES OUT STATEMENT TO THE PEOPLE.

We believe that the best way of reaching the people who are desirous of building up Tecumseh into a prosperous manufacturing city is through the medium of the local newspaper.

We came here and secured options on property to establish a factory for the manufacture of staple hardware goods, which all hardware jobbers say are the best ever put on the market. These include fire shovels, fry pans, dust pans, stove lifters and several other articles in the stamped hardware line.

We are now under contract with one jobber alone to produce 10,000 fire shovels per day. This and the manufacture of the other articles that we will produce requires additional machinery and also compels us to buy material in large quantities. Our business will be confined to the manufacture of articles that are just as staple as nails or sugar, and from the fact that our goods are the [illegible] patents, also from the cheapness of the material which our process enables us to use, we will be able to make large profits. We can make a profit of $8,000 per month on the output of fire shovels alone.

Now we have been told by people who should be interested in the growth of this town that there are no investors here and we are taking this method of finding out if this is the truth before taking steps to move the Stamping Plant to some oher town that will encourage manufacturing.

If there are any citizens in Tecumseh who are desirous of investing money where they will make large profits as well as help build up Tecumseh we would like to hear from them.

We have invested over $14,000 in dies and machinery not including material and partly finished product on hand. We need more capital to make this a big paying proposition as well as one of the largest stamping plants in the country which would soon be employing 60 to 75 people and make returns for everyone interested.

We came here unsolicited and found that there were available buildings that we could get possession of at once instead of waiting for some other town to build a plant which would be donated us for locating there. We also found that the labor situation was good for our purpose as some of the people in Tecumseh have to go elsewhere to get employment. We do not want to be compelled to employ the class of labor that the manufacturing plants in Detroit and Mt. Clemens have to use. What we want is intelligent American employees which we know we can get in Tecumseh, providing we get the proper support of the citizens in this town.

A guarantee of 20% to investors.

Mr. Ervin guarantees that he will not take any dividends on his stock in this Company until business is earning at least 20% on the Capital Stock.

Watch Out!

Don't be a SHINING MARK for a MINING SHARK—or an oil shark or any of the other great family of get-rich-quick sharks.

The country is full of 'em, smooth, oily, shrewd salesmen out for easy money by selling stock in some wonderful prospect that promises to make you rich in short order. Just stop and think. If these things were as good as they are represented, there would be no need to peddle them around. Before investing it is always a good plan to consult your banker and then follow his advice.

TECUMSEH GIRLS HIGHLY HONORED.

Two young Misses from Tecumseh, Mary Pennington and Geraldine Gillespie have just received signal honors for their ability as writers. These young ladies are members of Mrs. Jos. Smith's Sunday School class and some time ago a prize was offered for the best Essay on Stewardship.

The essays were to be submitted and the three best chosen to be sent to the state contest from which the three best were again to be chosen to be sent to the U. S. contest and the young ladies named were just informed that they had not only won the state contest but they had been awarded the prize for the two best in the U. S.

Miss Mary received a gold medal and Miss Geraldine a silver medal as rewards for the first and second places respectively. This is a splendid honor to come to our Tecumseh young ladies and reflects great credit upon them for their ability as writers.

We congratulate them heartily for the high standing thus attained.

Are You Getting The Full Benefit From Your Bank?

Just dealing in money and credit isn't all of our job by a long shot. A bank, if it is a real bank, must be and do much more.

It must act as a Financial Information Bureau. It must be in a position to give an outside practical viewpoint on your business problems. It must be in a position to comment on your investments. It must be willing to secure statistical information on situations and industries affecting your business. It must assist you in making out your income tax reports and, in general, be your financial counsel.

Are you using your bank to the utmost? If not, start now. We'll gladly do our share.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY.

The annual May Party which was held at the high school gym Friday evening was a very pretty affair. The senior class had the decorations in charge and they were carried out in Japanese style, the room being lighted by Japanese Lanterns and large umbrellas were suspended from the ceiling. Various Japanese mottos and pictures were attractively placed about the room and made a very pretty background for the party of happy young people.

The Nu-Melody Orchestra which furnished the music was behind a bower of various color streamers of crepe paper and a large umbrella was suspended above the bower. The music was exceptionally fine.

Different favors were given out during the evening and punch was served. The entire affair was well arranged for and everyone voted it the best party that had yet been held.

Among the guests from out of town were Dale Bowen of AnnArbor; Wylie McCann of Ypsilanti; Bert Ousterhout of Lansing; Martin O'Dell of Clinton; Arlene Gillespie of Kalamazoo; Loraine Nash and Winifred Collins of Adrian; Miss Winters of Clinton and Archie Waring of Ann Arbor.

58th ANNIVERSARY.

At six o'clock the couple were very much surprised when 25 friends came in with well laden baskets, and enjoyed a bountiful supper. After supper Mr. Geo. Ziehr, in behalf of the friends gathered, made a brief speech and presented them with a beautiful plant, to which Mr. Sweet responded.

After an evening spent in social visiting the guests repaired to their various homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sweet many more anniversaries.

They were recipients of many gifts. The Pythian Sisters of which order they are charter members, sent them greetings and a beautiful plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet have been residents of Tecumseh for 56 years and have a host of friends who congratulate them on their long life together and hope they live to see many more.

COMMUNITY D. V. B. S.

Tecumseh is to have a Community Daily Vacation Bible School. The Friends, Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Episcopal churches have all taken steps joining in this undertaking. The ministers and two laymen from each church form a committee to establish the D. V. B. S. The school will open soon after the close of the public schools. It will hold sessions five mornings in the week and continue for several weeks. The subjects to be taught are sure to interest the children and young people. They will listen to the best stories ever told, and perhaps they will act out some of them; they will have music and play periods; they will learn to make various articles that will delight them and their parents; they will have an occasional picnic; and, best of all, they will receive instruction that will be a help to them through life. Interest in the D. V. B. S. is growing rapidly. It will be open to all young people in the community. There will be no tuition fee, the expenses being met in other ways.

At a meeting of the Committee Sunday afternoon Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon [illegible] elected chairman, Ira Ashley, secretary and Mrs. Homer Whaley, treasurer. This will be in every way a big community D. V. B. S.

NOTICE.

C. H. Stover, the piano tuner, who tuned 42 pianos in Tecumseh last spring is now here again to do tuning for his many friends. He is a FACTORY EXPERIENCED TUNER and will do you the best of work. (adv)

The grand opening of the base ball season will occur at Athletic Park next Sunday, May 20th at 3 p. m.

Tecumseh and Clinton, the old rivals will try titles at this time and it is hoped that every fan will be present and help boost for Tecumseh.

The local team has been practicing hard to get into shape for this opening game and they will give a good account of themselves to say the least. This is the first game of the league season and elsewhere you will find the complete schedule for the entire season.

Plan to come out to these games and put Tecumseh on the map. If you like base ball now is your chance to show it and enjoy the great American sport. Come and bring your friends and show the boys we have an interest in their efforts.

NEW ADDITION WILL BE BEAUTIFUL.

The new front now being built to the Bradley Opera House by Manager Guy, the owner, will be a beautiful addition to the looks of our Main St. when it is completed.

The front is being laid up with pressed brick and the walls are going up fast. The structure will be two stories high with store space on each side of the foyer in front and living rooms overhead.

The gap between the new Ford Garage Building and the Herald office will now be completely filled in with most beautiful fronts that will add greatly to the appearance of the entire street and make it one of the finest in these parts.

According to a report in the Detroit Free Press, our former townsman, P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, together with a party of three other big game hunters will leave for Africa about Aug. 4th for the purpose of hunting big game.

After hunting through that country, they will go to India and thence to Siam where they have been invited by the ruler to take part in a royal tiger hunt.

The party includes Dr. Torrey and others who have spent much time in hunting and as they will go well equipped, it is expected that they will overcome all dangers of the trip and enjoy the hunt greatly. The Free Press gave considerable space to the proposed trip..

PAIR SHOULD BE PARTNERS

And Both Husband and Wife Ought to Be Permitted to Have Their Own Way at Times.

It is not so nearly true as it was years ago that men earn money and women spend it, but it is still considerably true. Men still have control of the chief agencies for wage-earning and earn most of the wages paid. Women have the spending of most of the money that is earned and brought home for the support of families. The chief end of man is still what the Westminster catechism says it is, but his next most important end is to satisfy women. Women are more contented when they have their own way a part of the time—so are men. Women's wishes should be dominant in certain departments of life, men's wishes in certain others; but there is no department of life in which women can afford to ignore the wishes of men, or men the wishes of women.

So it is that in public as well as in private dealings between men and women persuasion works better than compulsion. Against exacting women men are instinctively on their guard. They usually avoid such women if they can. No men can afford to be driven by women into positions they do not approve of, and if they cannot run away they are likely to turn obstinate or worse. But most men are very open to persuasion, and if led around to look at a proposal from that point of view their objections to it may disappear.—Philadelphia Record.

RACING HORSES IN DESERT

Picturesque Scenes When Natives of Mesopotamia Gather for Their Favorite Sport.

Horseracing is a sport beloved by the natives of Mesopotamia. They swarm to the Basrah races, and the autumn meet of this Arab Epsom is a curious and diverting sight. A European innovation is the new brick grandstand with a substantial roof and benches spread with many-colored Persian rugs. Behind the grandstand are the wooden sheds roofed with matting to exclude the heat. Here the horses are stabled and here resort the trainers, stewards and the all-important "totalisator," with his hangers-on. The paddock is a patch of desert—like the course itself. Native gamblers also congregate around the sheds. They are shaggy and picturesque—at a distance. At close quarters they are indescribably dirty and ragged. They sit in circles in the dust, like a lot of dingy crows, heedless of the crowds surging around them as they make their game and choose their favorites for the race. The desert man is a reckless bidder, he stakes his all upon his favorite horse. In stoicism he resembles the American Indian, for whether he wins or loses his expression never changes.

Face Dangers to Deliver Mail.

In India the distribution of a great deal of mail matter is performed by runners. They are drawn largely from the lowest castes and least civilized races, and many of them are animists by religion. They are ready to face wild beasts and wandering criminals, but will go miles out of their way to avoid an evil spirit in a tree.

With them the mail bag is a kind of fetish, which must be protected at all costs. Dishonesty among them is very rare, and they are wonderfully true to their "salt," which seldom exceeds $5 a month. Not a year passes that does not take its toll of mail runners who lose their lives in the execution of their duty. It may be a tiger, a swollen river, an avalanche in the Himalayas, a gang of robbers. But the work goes on just the same—the mail must go through, whatever happens.

The Iliad Dramatic.

In Virgil's poetry a sense of the greatness of Rome and Italy is the leading motive of a passionate rhetoric, partly veiled by the "chosen delicacy" of his language. Dante and Milton are still more faithful exponents of the religion and politics of their time. But in Homer the interest is purely dramatic. There is no strong antipathy of race or religion; the war turns on no political event; the capture of Troy lies outside the range of the Iliad. Even the heroes are not the chief national heroes of Greece. The interest lies wholly (so far as we can see) in the picture of human action and feeling.—D. B. Munro.

Moist and Dry Air.

Dry air is slightly heavier than ordinary humid—not foggy air. The number of molecules in a given volume of air and the same volume of water in the form of invisible gas under the same conditions is the same. When such water molecules are introduced into the dry air a corresponding number of air molecules are displaced. The atomic weights of nitrogen, the principal ingredients of air, are greater than the atomic weight of water vapor. Therefore since a light substance replaces a heavier one the total weight is less. Foggy or smoky air is quite likely to be heavier than dry air.

Exercise and Change.

"So you've seen the doctor."

"Yes, and he ordered me to go up and down the front stairs for an hour in the forenoon and up and down the back stairs for an hour in the afternoon."

"Why the back stairs?"

"Oh, just for a change of climb it."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Silence Was Golden.

"Malachi," asked Mr. Casey, "can your wife cook as well as your mother did?"

"She cannot," replied Malachi, "but, my friend, I never mention it, for she can throw considerably better."—London Weekly Telegraph.

A USEFUL PAIN

Tecumseh People Should Heed Its Warning.

Have you a sharp pain or a dull ache across the small of your back? Do you realize that it's often a timely sign of kidney weakness? Prompt treatment is a safeguard against more serious kidney troubles. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by a Tecumseh resident's experience.

John B. Smith, farmer, says: "I suffered from pains in the small of my back. When I had an attack it was all I could do to go about my work. When bending I was seized with dizzy spells, causing spots of fire to pass before my eyes and at night I rolled and tossed in bed and woke up in the morning feeling unrefreshed. I used other kidney remedies but received no permanent benefit. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and was induced to try them. After taking a few more boxes I was completely cured."

MIGHT CALL IT SALT FARM

Salton Region of California Is Devoted to the Production of That Indispensable Article.

Passing through that portion of California known as the "Salton" one sees stretched out below him long rows of what appear to be haycocks of a curious design. These constitute a part of what is called the "salt farm," and the haycocks are in reality great cones of salt. Upon investigation one will find that the basin of land into which he is gazing is between 200 and 300 feet below the level of the sea and that something like a thousand acres of this land are covered with a vast deposit of salt.

Each year there are removed more than 2,000 tons of salt. The salt is first plowed into ridges, then piled into conical heaps, eventually going to the drying house. From this it proceeds to the crushing mill.

It is an easy matter to mistake this area for a field of snow, because it is almost pure white, if one did not know that snow does not fall in that quarter. The supply of salt is being constantly renewed by deposits from the waters of salt springs flowing into this basin.

To remove the salt the services of Indian workmen are utilized, since these are the only men who can withstand the terrific heat and the glare of the June sun, for it is in that month that the work is done. The temperature often reaches 150 degrees.

TABLE PLACES IN CLUBS

Position Indicates to Service Staff the Kind of Meal Desired by the Patron.

At least one New York club has adopted the north end of the table plan which is in vogue at army and navy clubs in Washington and elsewhere. The system affords a simple method of making distinction between members who are at late breakfast and those who are at early luncheon.

"When a member comes in after 11 o'clock in the morning and before luncheon," said a steward, observes the New York Sun, "the waiters are instructed to ask whether he wants breakfast or luncheon. If the former he is placed at the north end of the table as a sign to the service staff that his is to be a breakfast order. Then when the early arrival for luncheon appears he is placed at the south end of the table.

"The system saves confusion. The breakfast order calls for an entirely different 'layout' of silver from that required for luncheon, and of course the menu is different."

Character of Epic.

The action which springs out of character, and reflects character, alone satisfies the higher dramatic conditions. Here there is a marked difference between epic and dramatic poetry. The epic poem relates a great and complete action which attaches itself to the fortunes of a people, or to the destiny of mankind, and sums up the life of a period. The story and the deeds of those who pass across its wide canvas are linked with the larger movement of which the men themselves are but a part. The particular action rests upon forces outside itself. The hero is swept into the tide of events. The hairbreadth escapes, the surprises, the episodes, the marvelous incidents of epic story, only partly depend upon the spontaneous energy of the hero. The tragic drama, on the other hand, represents the destiny of the individual man.—S. H. Butcher.

Foot Covering, Old and New

The sandal is the most ancient foot covering of which we have any record, and samples of very ancient manufacture, taken from Egyptian mummies, are preserved in public collections. In medieval times shoes with long, pointed toes were worn by the high-born, and toward the end of the Fourteenth century these points became ridiculously elongated, so that there appeared to be a long strap projecting from each foot. Different kinds of half boots were worn by the Anglo-Saxons and Anglo-Normans, and in the reign of Edward IV, if not earlier, the boot proper, with tops and spurs, was established as an article of knightly dress. Factory-made boots and shoes are now entirely cut out by machinery; the uppers are sewn by strong sewing machines and soles and uppers are fastened together by machine. The factory trade in boots and shoes has, since 1860, undergone a remarkable development.

Horses' Pedometers.

The whorls of hair on the coats of horses and other animals may be called animal pedometers, because they register the locomotive activities of the creatures on whose bodies they are found. The best examples and the greatest number of these hairy whorls and crests are found on the domestic horse. A notable instance is the graceful feathering that extends along the hollow of the flank, dividing quarters. There are also crests and whorls on the horse's chest and other parts of its body.

Of Course.

Child—Yes.

Lady—What for?

Child—For keeping the fox warm, of course.—The Scotsman.

WEAR ALL CLOTHES LOOSE

Tight-Fitting Articles of Apparel Unknown Among the Eskimos—Their Boots Waterproof.

The Eskimo makes a point of wearing the loosest garments imaginable, and no tight-fitting underclothes. Authorities agree that it is largely because of this that the Eskimos are the hardiest race in the world. As babies they go unclothed, being carried about in hoods of their mother's furs.

The Eskimos' feet also receive great care. Their women are credited with making the only absolutely waterproof boot in existence. It is made of sealskin, without the fur, "tanned" and kept pliable by chewing. The parts are sewn together with deer sinews in a lockstitch which no other race seems to understand. Within this boot of "chewed" sealskin a deerskin sock is worn, the hair being next to the foot. Sock and boot come off together, and every night they are dried on a framework rigged above an igloo oil lamp which is kept burning constantly for this purpose and for the melting of snow for drinking water.

THINKS THIS CRUEL WORLD

Absolutely No Pleasing Everybody, According to [illegible] Made by the Elevator Man.

"It's a hard life," complained the elevator man, says a writer for the New York Sun. "Lots of kicks and never a friendly word. My orders are to wait until the car is full, but does that matter to most of 'em? It's 'Please start up; I'm in a hurry!' and all that. Even though I may have only two or three others in the car.

"And then, when the car's full and I try to close the door, it's 'Wait a minute. Room for one more?' When I tell 'em to take the next car they get peeved. And women are the worst of all."

The car was filled up. The operator closed the door. His hand was on the starting lever. A woman rushed up. "Room for one more?" she cried.

"Sorry, lady; full car!"

"Why, there is plenty of room!" she called back. "It's perfectly outrageous. I'll report—"

But by then the elevator had traveled out of hearing distance.

Who Is Fastest Typist?

Men are more rapid typists than women. Men are slower typists than women. Doctor J. McKeer Cattell, president of the Psychological corporation, believes that these apparently contradictory statements are true, although the question cannot be definitely determined until sufficiently large groups of men and women have been examined and compared.

But the typist of exceptional speed would be more likely to be a man, Dr. Cattell says, for it has been demonstrated that men are more variable than women. Men are more frequently color blind than women, but the great colorists have been men as are the great performers on the piano and violin. This difference extends to the lower animals. The male bird or mammal is more brightly colored and variously ornamented and armed than the female.

Sheet Fleeces Like Robes.

A wool market is held annually at Patseo, in the wilds of Tibet. The Tibetan owners of sheep barter the fleece of their flocks for Indian tea and rice and cotton goods. These sheep cannot live below 10,000 feet above sea level, and as their wool is in great demand the traders have to bring their commodities on pack ponies, mules and donkeys right up into the heart of the mountains.

About the middle of July the traders, both parties, converge onto a high valley some 13,000 feet above sea-level, and there pitch their respective camps. The Tibetan sheep obligingly carry their own wool to the shearing ground and emerge slim and shorn from a mass of fleece, which looks like buffalo robes. These fleeces are rolled into as small a compass as possible after being wound with tight ropes, and are baled onto the pack animals.

Designing the Great Seal.

Some time ago an account was given of how the great seal of the United States was designed. Franklin, Adams and Jefferson were appointed to select a device on a certain well-remembered day—July 4, 1776, no less, and there was much discussion regarding that important matter. Franklin wanted a design of Moses dividing the Red sea and submerging the hosts of Pharaoh, with the motto, "Rebellion against tyrants is obedience to God." Adams suggested Hercules and his club, while Jefferson preferred the guiding of the children of Israel. Afterward the making of the seal passed into other hands and it was not until June 20, 1782, that the great seal of America with the eagle as it is today was finally accepted.

America's Oldest Coal Mines.

The oldest coal mines in America are those in the bituminous fields near Richmond, Va. In 1760, anthracite coal was discovered in Rhode Island, and, two years later, settlers from Connecticut discovered anthracite in the Wyoming valley of Pennsylvania. The rich beds of the Schuylkill were discovered in 1770. Five years later the government of Pennsylvania floated coal down the Susquehanna to Harrisburg, then known as Harris Ferry, and hauled it by wagon to the arsenal at Carlisle for use in the manufacture of ammunition.

Ambition.

"I had to fire that young man. He was too ambitious."

"That so? Ambition is a good trait."

"I know, but he wanted to be general manager before he had made good as a clerk."

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor.

Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomattox marked the close of the Civil War which had cost this country millions of treasure and many, many thousands of precious lives. Three years later Memorial Day was instituted to honor the memory of the brave men who had given their lives in the Union cause.

A generation passed and America again found herself in arms, not to put down rebellion but to establish the liberties and maintain the rights of a young, sister republic.

Less than a score of years saw the outbreak of the great world conflict and, while at first it seemed that we might be able to keep out of it, as the war progressed it became more and more evident that the fruits of liberty, so dear to the heart of every American, were seriously menaced and that to insure our national independence we must take our place by the side of those who were battling for the freedom of the world. We all know the story. We know how splendidly on land and sea our gallant soldiers, sailors and marines upheld the honor of the American name.

Memorial Day is for the men who took part in all these wars, but our first thought will be for the grey-haired veterans, that fast thinning blue line whose step is growing feebler year by year: and in this thoughtfulness for the old soldier none will join more heartily than the younger veterans of more recent wars.

Therefore, in order that we may pay a tribute of respect and affection to the surviving veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish American War and the Great World War, and do honor to the memory of their fallen comrades, I hereby sincerely urge that Wednesday, May thirtieth ,1923, be fittingly observed as Memorial Day; and I earnestly appeal to the people of Michigan for hearty cooperation in plans for the observance of the day in their respective communities.

On Memorial Day flags should be displayed at half-staff until noon and then hoisted to the top of the staff.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this fourteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-seventh.

Alex J. Groesbeck,
By the Governor Governor
Charles J. DeLand,
Secretary of State.

Gum-Dipped Cords
Gaining New Fame for Service
194% Sales Increase in Last Six Months
Shows Trend Toward Firestone

The public has emphatically spoken. The popular preference in all territories is unmistakably the Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

A standard of service has been set by these famous tires without parallel in the past. It has brought a sales increase of 194% for the past six months over the same period of a year ago—the greatest gain in all Firestone history.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord is the mighty achievement which has enabled Firestone to break the tremendous record of past Firestone success.

The tire buying public has been aroused to the results in economical mileage of the Firestone process of double gum-dipping. The buying-swing toward Firestone shows how it has advanced the public's standard of tire value.

Ask owners about Firestone performance on their cars. Note the big taxicab fleets Firestone-equipped. Watch the new cars you see—just from the factories; Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are seen everywhere in fast increasing numbers.

Get the maximum extra mileage that only the Firestone name assures you. Only by insisting on this name can you be sure of getting the genuine gum-dipped construction.

Antidote for Ivy or Oak Poison

Also for Eczema and Such Skin Troubles and You Get Results In Two to Three Days

Whitmarsh Blood Elixir drives out the poison of ivy, oak or sumach, clears the skin, acts as a specific or antidote for these poisons and does it in two to three days. And what is of more importance these poisons do not come back, they do not break out again as is usually the case, as the action of the remedy appears to utterly destroy the nature of the poison. This is remarkable as thousands suffer year in and year out, in fact it is held that the poison will return for seven years. It is generally conceded that much of the itching eczemas on hands and face are nothing but ivy or sumach poison. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is guaranteed to clear away these vegetable poisons in two to three days. Get a $1.00 bottle today and try it. If it fails take the bottle back and get your dollar. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is prepared only by Hart-Shaw-Miller Drug Co., Adrian, Mich., and if your druggist cannot supply you it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price.

Think this proposition over.

Ask yourself who pays for this sales inducement.

Is the dealer generously sacrificing his profit? The manufacturer his?

Or is the equivalent of the discount being taken out of the item? Think it over.

MRS. JESSIE LOVE PASSES AWAY.

Jessie Spafford Love was born July 21, 1859 in Tecumseh and died May 20, 1923 at her home in Tecumseh after a lingering illness of many months. She has been a life long resident of this place.

On April 16, 1883 she was united in marriage with Delos Love who preceded her in death February 4, 1907.

Her most earnest wish was to die in her home among her friends and in the dear town she loved so well. She was a good friend and neighbor and has many friends who mourn her passing.

Funeral services were held at the home on East Kilbuck street Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon officiating. She was laid to rest in Brookside.

"Warm summer sun, shine kindly here;
Warm southern wind, blow softly here;
Green sod above, lie light, lie light:
Goodnight, dear heart, goodnight, good night."

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Love of Angola, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stanford of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Ella Love of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Moran of Adrian.

SHOWS START JUNE 6th.

The Wednesday night shows start June 6th and the first number will be the Seymour [illegible] direct from one of the big circuits in Detroit. This will give the people a real entertainment worth coming miles to see.

A band will be on hand to help entertain the people and everything is set for a rousing big opener. Remember the date and get here early so that you can get a good parking place as an enormous crowd is expected.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING WELL ATTENDED.

The Parent-Teachers' Meeting which was held at the high school auditorium last Tursday evening was very largely attended by the parents and friends of the children. The little folks at the West Branch put on a splendid program of songs and recitations as printed in last week's issue of the paper. Each one did their part well and showed they had received fine training.

The Sophomore class put on the little play which they have given before, "The First Day of School" and were again greeted by an appreciative audience.

[illegible] done by the domestic art and science classes and the commercial classes and by the lower grades was given in the different rooms previous to the program. They represent the work both teachers and pupils are doing.

During the business session the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. W. D. Reed.

Vice-President—Mrs. Clyde Barber.

Secretary—Miss Gladys Brainerd.

Treasurer—F. S. Turner.

Mrs. Reed has just closed a successful year as president of the organization and was again unanimously elected to serve the coming year.

ENJOYS SPLENDID MEETING.

There were forty members of the local order of O. E. S. that attended the sixteenth anniversary of the Lenawee-Monroe County Association at Onsted, Monday afternoon and evening. The meeting was called to order by the president of the association, Mrs. F. E. Snedecor of this place and reports were given from fourteen chapters.

After the routine business was finished the Clayton chapter gave the memorial service in a most impressive manner. The flag drill was put on by the school pupils after which a splendid program was given.

A delicious supper was served at the Grange Hall to all visiting members and a social time was enjoyed about the tables.

In the evening session degrees were conferred upon two candidates, Mrs. G. Roscoe Swift of Adrian acting as Worthy Matron and R. A. Heesen of Tecumseh as Worthy Patron. This was interesting because Mrs. Swift was the first president of the association and Mr. Heesen the first Vice-president of the association when they were organized sixteen years ago. The other chairs were filled by officers from other chapters of the county..

The association was fortunate in being visited by several grand officers, among them being Mrs. Ada Sangster, Grand Worthy Matron, Associate Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Edith Wilcox of Menominee; Miss Nina Galloway, Grand Chaplain of Hudson; Mrs. Clara Eldridge, Past Worthy Matron of Adrian and Mr. Coleman of Jackson. Each one made a few remarks which were very much enjoyed by the meeting.

This was one of the best meetings yet held and everyone felt well repaid for attending. The Onsted people are splendid entertainers and everyone was well cared for.

CIRCLE FOUR ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. James Kent entertained circle number four of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society at her home on South Maumee street Friday afternoon. A short business session was held after which the following program was given:

Victrola music; scripture reading on the victrola by Goe. Chapman; song "Peace Be Still; two songs, "The Bluebird" and "The Dandelion" by Mary Louise Artman and Katheryn Kent. Refreshments were then served by the hostess.

MAKE SECOND ATTEMPT TO STEAL CARS.

Last Monday night someone again attempted to enter the Ford Garage but were evidently frightened away by the night watch who found one of the big doors about halfway open when he made his rounds at 2 a. m.

This is the second attempt to enter this garage. The first was last week when a Ford car valued at $300 was stolen and about $100 worth of tires taken. No one has been apprehended to date. The officers from Adrian were here Tuesday morning trying to ferret out the offender but no clues have developed to the present.

A night watch on the inside with a [illegible] proper thing for these miscreants providing it was let go at the proper time and in the right direction.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB.

Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brwn were the genial hosts for the Wit and Wisdom club and a few guests Tuesday evening, the occasion being the club's annual banquet, the final meeting of the club year. Immense bowls of lilacs, the spring flowers and vari-colored butterflies made the home gay with color. The tables spread through the living rooms were centered with crystal baskets of violets and napkins and glasses formed waterlillies so the whole effect was of flowers everywhere. More butterflies were the place cards. The forty-five guests were served by the Misses Alice Whelan, Roma Crampton, Margaret Turner, and Geraldine Gillespie, Arthur Brown and Norman Long. The decorations were in charge of Miss Gillespie and committee, the tables in charge of Mrs. J. F. Rector while the splendid menu was the plan of Mrs. F. S. Turner and Mrs. H. S. Waring. Earl McNeil was chairman of the program committee and to these go the credit for the delightful evening.

The program was a regular automobile with the "starter," Dr. Brown, the president of the club, introducing the "choker," Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, as toastmaster. His jokes were rich and stories good. He was assisted by the "traffic cop," Rev. Kiskaddon, with his gong and the hammer which would not stay together. The program was announced as follows:

"The Horn," trombone solo—Wilfred Waldron, accompanied by Mrs. Waldron.

"The Crank"—Hoyt Whelan.

"The Spark Plug"—Mrs. H. S. Waring.

"The Accelerator," vocal solo—Mrs. S. N. Wyman, accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor.

"The Shock Absorber"—Mr. Wyman.

"The Blow-out"—Miss Grace Gillespie.

"The Squeak," saw solo, "Repent Ye"—Rev. Buell, accompanied by Mrs. Kiskaddon.

"The Gas"—J. F. Rector.

Following the program the president appointed these committees to work during the summer, planning for next year's work:

Program committee—Mrs. H. R. Conklin, Mrs. Franc S. Gillespie, Rev. Marsh, Mrs. A. O. Howard.

Committee to arrange for the summer's picnic—Frank S. Turner, Rev. Kiskaddon, Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Mrs. Wyman.

HELD FOR THROWING ACID.

Last Tuesday about 11 o'clock Mrs. Irene Aiston threw carbolic acid in her husband's face as he sat in his car in front of her sister's home on Ottawa St.

The couple were married about six weeks ago and have lived in Monroe until recently when they came here. Mr. Aiston was badly burned about the face but when he saw the acid coming he threw up his hand and thus saved his eyes.

The Sheriff was in town at the time and immediately arrested her taking her to Adrian where she is held at the county jail. She was formerly Irene Truesdale.

Mr. Aiston was rushed to Dr. Hammel's office and the doctor was immediately located giving him prompt aid which saved him from more serious consequences.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. E. T. Armstrong entertained at Bridge last Wednesday afternoon. Seven tables were filled for the games after which a luncheon was served.

The house was decorated with wild crab apple blossoms and lilacs. The out of town guests were Mrs. S. B. Gaskill, Mrs. A. H. Veazey, Mrs. Louis Dillon and Miss Pease, all of Hudson.

DIES IN DETROIT.

Eugene L. Burdette passed away in Detroit Tueseday, at the home of his son Everett where he has been making his home for some time. Mr. Burdette was employed at the Macaroni plant for a good many years and was a resident of this place.

The remins were brought to Macon Wednesday by Guy E. Belding and funeral services held in the afternoon with burial in the Macon cemetery.

ONSTED BANK ROBBED.

Last Tuesday two bandits entered the Onsted Bank just before closing and shot the cashier thru the arm taking about $900 but dropped $800 on the floor.

They walked out and drove away in a Ford coupe. All trace of them was lost and they have not been apprehended to date.

ATTEND TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graebner and a party of friends were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heyman at the Inverness Golf Club in Toledo Sunday. They also attended the 25th anniversary of Dr. A. L. Benze's ordination in the ministry of the English Lutheran church. Dr. Paul Kollar, president of the Synod of Ohio preached the anniversary sermon.

Monday evening they attended a reception given Dr. Benze and family. Among the speakers were Mayor Brough, Judge Sam'l Young and General Isaac Sherwood. Mr. Graebner returned Tuesday morning while Mrs. Graebner stayed [illegible]

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Memorial services will take place this year at the Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a. m. sharp and it is hoped [illegible] goodly number of citizens will turn out for this important service.

We owe to the boys who have fought our wars an intense respect and their memory must ever be kept green in the hearts of the coming generations if we are to survive as a great and glorious people.

The reason why the services were changed to the forenoon was because so many people go out of town in the afternoon that it makes it hard to arrange a suitable program and those in charge thought best to hold it in the forenoon and thus secure a better attendance than could be obtained in the afternoon. Come out good people and show your Americanism and loyalty.

The following are the officers for the services:

Speaker—Rev. H J. B. Marsh.

President of the Day—John D. Shull.

Officer of the Day—Percy Bowen

Color Bearer—John Larson.

Treasurer—A. VanValkenburg.

Program Committee—Edna Taylor.

Transportation Committee — Leon Rosacrans, Geo. Rathbun and Albert Clark.

Flower Commtitee—Perry Satterthwaite.

Graves Committee—R. K. Anderson.

Firing Squad—Carl Braman.

Decorating Committee — Glenn Tansley and Will Jewell.

The Sons of Vetrans and the Spanish War Veterans will decorate the graves. The Ladies' Band will furnish the music.

The First Watermelon

Customers of the savings department of The Lilley State Bank will share in the first "watermelon" of the season. It will be cut at the bank on June 1st.

This is the kind of a watermelon that lasts. Something remains besides the rind and a pleasant smile on the face of the eater. It is the quarterly crediting of interest on money in savings accounts.

A new interest period starts on June 1st. All deposits made before June 10th will be credited as from the first of the month.

Open a savings account now and you can share in the next crediting of interest. Savings accounts at The Lilley State Bank earn 4% compound interest. Dollars deposited in a Lilley Savings Bank account before June 10th will be worth 100 cents plus in a few months.

Come in today and open an account—get a slice of the next "melon."

Three Mighty Good Reasons

One of our good customers makes a deposit every week in a special savings account in our bank.

The other day we asked him why he did so, and he answered, "I have three good reasons. First, because it provides me with capital for emergencies or opportunities. Second, because it enables me to get compound interest to work for me. Third, because it gives me the habit of thrift."

And, as he walked away, he kind of smiled and said that he had three other reasons for this account—his wife and two children. How about you, and why not?

MRS. JESSIE LOVE PASSES AWAY.

Jessie Spafford Love was born July 21, 1859 in Tecumseh and died May 20, 1923 at her home in Tecumseh after a lingering illness of many months. She has been a life long resident of this place.

On April 16, 1883 she was united in marriage with Delos Love who preceded her in death February 4, 1907.

Her most earnest wish was to die in her home among her friends and in the dear town she loved so well. She was a good friend and neighbor and has many friends who mourn her passing.

Funeral services were held at the home on East Kilbuck street Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon officiating. She was laid to rest in Brookside.

"Warm summer sun, shine kindly here;
Warm southern wind, blow softly here;
Green sod above, lie light, lie light:
Goodnight, dear heart, goodnight, good night."

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Love of Angola, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stanford of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Ella Love of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Moran of Adrian.

SHOWS START JUNE 6th.

The Wednesday night shows start June t6h and the first number will be the Seymour Shows direct from one of the big circuits in Detroit. This will give the people a real entertainment worth coming miles to see.

A band will be on hand to help entertain the people and everything is set for a rousing big opener. Remember the date and get here early so that you can get a good parking place as an enormous crowd is expected.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING WELL ATTENDED.

The Parent-Teachers' Meeting which was held at the high school auditorium last Tuesday evening was very largely attended by the parents and friends of the children. The little folks at the West Branch put on a splendid program of songs and recitations as printed in last week's issue of the paper. Each one did their part well and showed they had received fine training.

The Sophomore class put on the little play which they have given before, "The First Day of School" and were again greeted by an appreciative audience.

An exhibit of the work being done by the domestic art and science classes and the commercial classes and by the lower grades was given in the different rooms previous to the program. They represent the work both teachers and pupils are doing.

During the business session the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. W. D. Reed.

Vice-President—Mrs. Clyde Barber.

Secretary—Miss Gladys Brainerd.

Treasurer—F. S. Turner.

Mrs. Reed has just closed a successful year as president of the organization and was again unanimously elected to serve the coming year.

ENJOYS SPLENDID MEETING.

There were forty members of the local order of O. E. S. that attended the sixteenth anniversary of, the Lenawee-Monroe County Association at Onsted, Monday afternoon and evening. The meeting was called to order by the president of the association, Mrs. F. E. Snedecof of this place and reports were given from fourteen chapters.

After the routine business was finished the Clayton chapter gave the memorial service in a most impressive manner. The flag drill was put on by the school pupils after which a splendid program was given.

A delicious supper was served at the Grange Hall to all visiting members and a social time was enjoyed about the tables.

In the evening session degrees were conferred upon two candidates, Mrs. G. Roscoe Swift of Adrian acting as Worthy Matron and R. A. Heesen of Tecumseh as Worthy Patron. This was interesting because Mrs. Swift was the first president of the association and Mr. Heesen the first Vice-president of the association when they were organized sixteen years ago. The other chairs were filled by officers from other chapters of the county..

The association was fortunate in being visited by several grand officers, among them being Mrs. Ada Sangster, Grand Worthy Matron, Associate Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Edith Wilcox of Menominee; Miss Nina Galloway, Grand Chaplain of Hudson; Mrs. Clara Eldridge, Past Worthy Matron of Adrian and Mr. Coleman of Jackson. Each one made a few remarks which were very much enjoyed by the meeting.

This was one of the best meetings yet held and everyone felt well repaid for attending. The Onsted people are splendid entertainers and everyone was well cared for.

CIRCLE FOUR ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. James Kent entertained circle number four of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society at her home on South Maumee street Friday afternoon. A short business session was held after which the following program was given:

Victrola music; scripture reading on the victrola by Goe. Chapman; song "Peace Be Still; two songs; "The Bluebird" and "The Dandelion" by Mary Louise Artman and Katheryn Kent. Refreshments were then served by the hostess.

Three Mighty Good Reasons

One of our good customers makes a deposit every week in a special savings account in our bank.

The other day we asked him why he did so, and he answered, "I have three good reasons. First, because it provides me with capital for emergencies or opportunities. Second, because it enables me to get compound interest to work for me. Third, because it gives me the habit of thrift."

And, as he walked away, he kind of smiled and said that he had three other reasons for this account—his wife and two children. How about you, and why not?

MAKE SECOND ATTEMPT TO STEAL CARS.

Last Monday night someone again attempted to enter the Ford Garage but were evidently frightened away by the night watch who found one of the big doors about halfway open when he made his rounds at 2 a. m.

This is the second attempt to enter this garage. The first was last week when a Ford car valued at $300 was stolen and about $100 worth of tires taken. No one has been apprehended to date. The officers from Adrian were here Tuesday morning trying to ferret out the offender but no clues have developed to the present.

A night watch on the inside with a good shot gun would be the proper thing for these miscreants providing it was let go at the proper time and in the right direction.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB.

Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brwn were the genial hosts for the Wit and Wisdom club and a few guests Tuesday evening, the occasion being the club's annual banquet, the final meeting of the club year. Immense bowls of lilacs, the spring flowers and vari-colored butterflies made the home gay with color. The tables spread through the living rooms were centered with crystal baskets of violets and napkins and glasses formed waterlillies so the whole effect was of flowers everywhere. More butterflies were the place cards. The forty-five guests were served by the Misses Alice Whelan, Roma Crampton, Margaret Turner, and Geraldine Gillespie, Arthur Brown and Norman Long. The decorations were in charge of Miss Gillespie and committee, the tables in charge of Mrs. J. F. Rector while the splendid menu was the plan of Mrs. F. S. Turner and Mrs. H. S. Waring. Earl McNeil was chairman of the program committee and to these go the credit for the delightful evening.

The program was a regular automobile with the "starter," Dr. Brown, the president of the club, introducing the "choker," Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, as toastmaster. His jokes were rich and stories good. He was assisted by the "traffic cop," Rev. Kiskaddon, with his gong and the hammer which would not stay together. The program was announced as follows:

"The Horn," trombone solo—Wilfred Waldron, accompanied by Mrs. Waldron.

"The Crank"—Hoyt Whelan.

"The Spark Plug"—Mrs. H. S. Waring.

"The Accelerator," vocal solo, Mrs. S. N. Wyman, accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor.

"The Shock Absorber"—Mr. Wyman.

"The Blow-out"—Miss Grace Gillespie.

"The Squeak," saw solo, "Repent Ye"—Rev. Buell, accompanied by Mrs. Kiskaddon.

"The Gas"—J. F. Rector.

Program committee—Mrs. H. R. Conklin, Mrs. Franc S. Gillespie, Rev. Marsh, Mrs. A. O. Howard.

Committee to arrange for the summer's picnic—Frank S. Turner, Rev. Kiskaddon, Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Mrs. Wyman.

HELD FOR THROWING ACID.

Last Tuesday about 11 o'clock Mrs. Irene Aiston threw carbolic acid in her husband's face as he sat in his car in front of her sister's home on Ottawa St.

The couple were married about six weeks ago and have lived in Monroe until recently when they came here. Mr. Aiston was badly burned about the face but when he saw the acid coming he threw up his hand and thus saved his eyes.

The Sheriff was in town at the time and immediately arrested her taking her to Adrian where she is held at the county jail. She was formerly Irene Truesdale.

Mr. Aiston was rushed to Dr. Hammel's office and the doctor was immediately located giving him prompt aid which saved him from more serious consequences.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. E. T. Armstrong entertained at Bridge last Wednesday afternoon. Seven tables were filled for the games after which a luncheon was served.

The house was decorated with wild crab apple blossoms and lilacs. The out of town guests were Mrs. S. B. Gaskill, Mrs. A. H. Veazey, Mrs. Louis Dillon and Miss Pease, all of Hudson.

DIES IN DETROIT.

Eugene L. Burdette passed away in Detroit Tueseday, at the home of his son Everett where he has been making his home for some time. Mr. Burdette was employed at the Macaroni plant for a good many years and was a resident of this place.

The remins were brought to Macon Wednesday by Guy E. Belding and funeral services held in the afternoon with burial in the Macon cemetery.

ONSTED BANK ROBBED.

Last Tuesday two bandits entered the Onsted Bank just before closing and shot the cashier thru the arm taking about $900 but dropped $800 on the floor.

They walked out and drove away in a Ford coupe. All trace of them was lost and they have not been apprehended to date.

ATTEND TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Graebner and a party of friends were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heyman at the Inverness Golf Club in Toledo Sunday. They also attended the 25th anniversary of Dr. A. L. Benze's ordination in the ministry of the English Lutheran church. Dr. Paul Kollar, president of the Synod of Ohio preached the anniversary sermon.

Monday evening they attended a reception given Dr. Benze and family. Among the speakers were Mayor Brough, Judge Sam'l Young and General Isaac Sherwood. Mr. Graebner returned Tuesday morning while Mrs. Graebner stayed for a few days visit.

MEMO[illegible]VICES.

Memorial services will take place this year at the Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a. m. sharp and it is hoped that goodly number of citizens will turn out for this important service.

We owe to the boys who have fought our wars an intense respect and their memory must ever be kept green in the hearts of the coming generations if we are to survive as a great and glorious people.

The reason why the services were changed to the forenoon was because so many people go out of town in the afternoon that it makes it hard to arrange a suitable program and those in charge thought best to hold it in the forenoon and thus secure a better attendance than could be obtained in the afternoon. Come out good people and show your Americanism and loyalty.

The following are the officers for the services:

Speaker—Rev. H J. B. Marsh.

President of the Day—John D. Shull.

Color Bearer—John Larson.

Treasurer—A. VanValkenburg.

Program Committee—Edna Taylor.

Transportation Committee — Leon Rosacrans, Geo. Rathbun and Albert Clarke.

Flower Commtitee—Perry Satterthwaite.

Graves Committee—R. K. Anderson.

Firing Squad—Carl Braman.

Decorating Committee — Glenn Tansley and Will Jewell.

The Sons of Vetrans and the Spanish War Veterans will decorate the graves. The Ladies' Band will furnish the music.

The First Watermelon

Customers of the savings department of The Lilley State Bank will share in the first "watermelon" of the season. It will be cut at the bank on June 1st.

This is the kind of a watermelon that lasts. Something remains besides the rind and a pleasant smile on the face of the eater. It is the quarterly crediting of interest on money in savings accounts.

A new interest period starts on June 1st. All deposits made before June 10th will be credited as from the first of the month.

Open a savings account now and you can share in the next crediting of interest. Savings accounts at The Lilley State Bank earn 4% compound interest. Dollars deposited in a Lilley Savings Bank account before June 10th will be worth 100 cents plus in a few months.

Come in today and open an account—get a slice of the next "melon."

GET WHAT THEY DESERVE.

The people of this great country haven't the slightest reason to complain because the coal trust and the sugar trust and other trusts are robbing them good and proper.

The people get just the kind of a government they vote for and for a number of years the people have taken little or no interest in voting if indeed they took the trouble to vote at all.

This utter neglect of the imperative duty that is placed squarely upon the shoulders of every good citizen, is the reason why the fellows who want special privileges to rob the people right and left, get by with their program with perfect ease.

When a caucus is called or someone is to be nominated, who does it? The people just sit back and wait for the "leaders" to put forth their candidate while the people sit idly by and let the opportunity they have to select someone who will go to our legislative halls and fight for the common people, slip past.

The result is that a candidate who is willing to play "follow the leader" and who never has any intention of doing anything for anyone except the fellows who sponsored his election, is nominated and then the people go to the polls and confirm his nomination into an election thinking they have done their duty.

You often hear the people excuse themselves by saying "what can we do? And you hear the gang diligently proclaiming about every person they fear might be named as a candidate because of their well known fighting qualities, "he is a foreflusher, he wouldn't do a thing, he is all wrong, etc, etc." The people swallow this and the gang get away with their candidate and the people PAY the bill.

Don't complain when coal and sugar and clothing and shoes and other articles go sky high. Don't dam your local dealer, he is just as helpless as you are. He has to pay their price and he must make a small profit or go broke. YOU are to blame and you know it. YOU don't take an active part in sending any candidate to your legislative halls except the one named by the gang who is a mere tool for the big fellow to use in getting their legislation through.

Where is our Congressman from this district? The last we heard he was on his way to Alaska on the U. S. Transport Grant on a wonderful pleasure trip with all expenses paid by the government while the sugar gougers are at home running up the price of sugar. Ever hear our Congressman raise his voice in Congress against the robbers price of coal or sugar or other commodities? Well, he is a safe, good kind, good looking fellow who will play follow the leader to a T so get ready to help the gang renominate him again and in the mean time work like a galley slave to earn enough to get your coal to keep warm with and your other necessities to eat while our dear Congressman is on his annual summer outing at government expense enjoying Alaska while you PAY the shot. Just remember YOU are to blame for your own condition so don't squeal, go and applaud the next time your Congressman comes over here and tells you how much he loves Tecumseh, etc. etc. Grand, ain't it. Maybe he will tell you how much he learned on his trip to Alaska that will help keep the price of coal and sugar UP for the next year. Don't vote, just complain, that is what the gang expects and they are right.

Facts About Optometry

By
KARL A. BRAMAN

We have already discussed short-sight briefly, but before leaving the subject we desire to remind parents that where they have reason to suspect near-sight in their children, they should have their eyes examined for possible defects.

An examination by the Optometrist would clear up all doubt in the matter, and if glasses are found to be necessary for any defect of vision they could be furnished. Otherwise the subject can be dismissed by the parents, and their satisfaction would come from having all anxiety removed regarding the sight of their children.

To be continued next Thursday. (adv)

Sensible Laws Regarding Food.

Among Hindoos, where the household cooking is not entirely performed by the mistress of the house (it is the sacred duty and privilege of a wife to prepare and serve her husband's food), a Brahman cook may be employed even by a man of low caste, but in such a case, no member of the household dare defile the kitchen by entering it. The Brahman, moreover, will bathe before preparing each meal. All food is freshly prepared, and nothing is served a second time. In all such rules as these there are strong ramparts against contamination—a protection from disease and the many deaths that pursue unwise physical habits. The laws regarding food, though set forth in severely religious formulae, are a form of science governing health and economics.—Asia Magazine.

No Place Like It.

When a native of Prince Edward Island had sallied forth to see the world, he engaged a room at a modest hotel in Boston, intending to remain there while he hunted for work.

"Will you register?" asked the clerk, handing him a pen.

"Register?" said the traveler. "What's that?"

"Write your name."

"What for?"

"We are required to keep a record of all our guests."

The man wrote his name and was about to lay down the pen when the clerk added:

"Now the place, if you please."

"What place?"

"The place you come from. Where do you live?"

"I live on the island."

"Well, but what island?"

The other looked at him in amazement. Then he said, with an emphasis that left no doubt of his feelings. "Prince Edward Island, man. What other island is there?"

Postoffice Head to Cabinet in 1829.

The office of postmaster general, created upon the organization of the postoffice system in 1794, was not deemed of sufficient importance and dignity to entitle its incumbent to a seat in the President's councils, and it was not until 1829 that, by action of President Jackson, the postmaster general became a cabinet officer.

The secretary of agriculture was established as a member of the cabinet February 11, 1889.

The Department of Commerce and Labor was added to the cabinet February 14, 1903. In 1913 this department was divided.

OLD PHYSICIAN NO FOOL

Devised Compound Which Really Had Good Effects on Those Suffering From Tuberculosis.

Avicienne, famous ancient Arab physician, invented a medicine which he recommended highly as having healing properties in tuberculosis cases. Its name was djelenjubine, but its component parts, honey and red roses, have a more delectable suggestion. The roses were preserved in honey, and Avicienne's testimony was, after many experiments, that the mixture reduced expectoration and caused the patient to gain weight and appetite. The ancient physician attributed the effect to tannin and sugar, both of which have a favorable influence on tuberculosis, he said. Presumably tannin is an element in rose leaves, according to this, but who would have thought it? Yet, who would not willingly accept a rose leaf and honey remedy for any disease?

A grandmother's cure for coughs and sore throat was once upon a time composed of honey and butter melted together with an admixture of horehound, and administered to entirely willing youthful patients. Did the prescription of the ancient Arab come down the centuries, modified along the way? Rose leaves would be better than horehound, perhaps. But grandmothers' cures are spoken of lightly by doctors in these days. The grandmothers did not know, they say. But oftener than not, the children got well.—Exchange.

ALL FEAR THE CROCODILE

African Beast Said to Be Ready to Attack Almost Any Animal Within Its Reach.

The most dangerous African animal, according to Major J. Stevenson-Hamilton, in his "Animal Life in Africa," is the crocodile. This saurian attacks any beast within reach save the elephant and hippo. Even the rhinoceros is sometimes pulled down by it. It is not safe on crocodile-infested rivers for a man to stand within three feet of the edge, for by a deft and sudden blow the crocodile may knock him in. Having drowned its victim, the crocodile places him in warm storage on some ledge below water level until the food becomes ripe enough to suit his taste.

At one spot on the Zambesi a chief who lived a generation ago used to take great delight in watching slaves and criminals being thrown to the crocodiles. His chair was brought down to the bank in the cool of the afternoon that he might enjoy the fun in comfort. The crocodile there never forgot those happy days, and until recently it was almost certain death for anyone to try to draw water there.

Mother and Daughter Banquet.

The first annual Mother and Daughter banquet was held in the Methodist Protestant church Friday evening under the auspices of the Friendly class. The decorations were of red and white with red roses as favors. Lighted tapers on the tables cast a mellow glow and the effect was delightful to the 130 guests who marched to their places as Miss Carrie Jackson of Dundee opened the evenings entertainment with a piano selection. Ivy Poison of Youth

Are you sure that those eczema rashes and scales or those red itching patches that come back to bother you are anything more than ivy poison that attacked you when young? In many sections where they use Whitmarsh Blood Elixir they pay no more attention to poison ivy, oak or sumach than to a rosebush as this remedy is a specific for those poisons. Its action is wonderful. In two or three days at the most, the itching is gone, the red spots are dried up, the poison has been driven from the system and it doesn't come back. It is the most remarkable blood remedy ever discovered and clears away eczema that no kind of ointment or other treatment could touch. It finds its way to the source and is certainly specific in its action. Get a $1.00 bottle today and try it. If it fails get your dollar back. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is prepared only by Hart-Shaw-Miller Drug Co., Adrian, Mich., and if your druggist cannot supply you it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price.

SMITH—ROGERS.

Friends of Miss Ellen Smith were very greatly surprised to learn that this popular young lady had taken a trip to Detroit last Saturday and there became the bride of Ed J. Rogers, a former Tecumseh boy and well known here.

The announcement says that they will be at home to their friends after September 1st at Detroit. Miss Smith will retain her position in the Lilley State Bank for some time yet. Both these young people have a legion of friends here who extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Owen and two children of Angola, Ind. spent Sunday with his mother and sister, Mrs. Robt. Owen and Miss Alice Owen.

WEST ROAD WILL NOT BE COMPLETED.

Word has been received from Commissioner Frank Rogers stating that the road west of town to the Franklin town line will not be torn up this year on account of lack of funds for putting in the concrete.

This is not very good news as the farmers along the road have already paid their money for the road and now they will have to wait until no one knows when to get the road. However, the road is in good condition and little inconvenience will result from holding it up.

Ths is the result of the fight in the last legislature when our Governor got his thumb on the highway funds and nothing can stir now until he says the word.

The boulevard through the town will continue to Adrian St. and the road east of town will be completed so that we will soon get connected up with our territory east of town. Work is progressing on this strip of road and it will be completed shortly if all is well.

The contractor is doing fine work and pushing along as fast as the red tape encountered can be untangled so that by fall at least we should expect to have the five blocks of boulevard in town completed unless more inspectors arrive in which case it may be next year when our boulevard is opened to traffic.

At any rate it is a good lesson in politics and patience.

J. FULTON KISKADDON, Minister

Now that we have suitably observed Decoration Day in honor of the brave whom have passed, it is time that we made some suitable arrangement for ourselves and dependants.

We have just credited interest on our savings accounts at 4% for the quarterly period ending June 1st and when our time certificates of deposit mature they will pay 4½%.

If you endeavor to save a little every week there is one army that you will never need to join, that is, the army of dependants in your old age.

We will gladly discuss a definite plan with you, and assist you in every way possible.

ORDER OF DeMOLAY INSTITUTED.

Tecumseh Chapter "Order of De Molay for Boys" was instituted Monday evening May 28th. The officers and advisory council of Lenawee Chapter of Adrian with their nine piece orchestra were here and conferred the degrees of the order on 17 candidates. They were Mills E. Swick, Parke W. Nye, Raymond Austin, Wm. Hamilton, Howard A. Davidson, Chas. E. Skinner, J. Norman Long, Garth Underwood, Laverne French R. Victor Wilson, H. Stewart McLain, B. Dwight Hodges, Russell S. Collins, and Lawrence Hoagland and Wm. Underwood of Britton as well as two from Adrian.

At six o'clock dinner was served to about 150 DeMolays and members of the Advisory Councils, after which they assembled in the Masonic Temple where they were greeted by a goodly number of Masons, some of whom came from a distance. After conferring degrees, Tecumseh Chapter was instituted by Lenawee Chapter officers in an impressive manner.

Tecumseh Chapter is starting out with 56 members, which is very good for a place of this size, and is the second chapter instituted in Lenawee County. The "Order of DeMolay" has over 9,000 members in this state alone, being introduced in Michigan only two years ago.

After the close of the work, "Dad" Wm. H. Childs of Lenawee Chapter introduced H. W. Whaley to the boys, as "Dad" Whaley of Tecumseh Chapter, thus "Dad" Whaley inherited quite a number of boys in a short time and is mighty proud of them.

The Advisory Council is composed of the following Masons, H. W. Whaley, chairman; Chas. Wilson, Wilmot Collins, C. F. Patterson, Lester Rogers, W. S. Dickinson, Everett Exelby and John McIntyre who will look after the welfare of the chapter.

Harry Duncan was installed as Master Counsellor.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The following is taken from the Pittsfield, Illinois paper. Miss Crane is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rathbun of this city and is well known here.

"The engagement of Miss Josephine Crane, popular young lady of this city, and Mr. Walter Nelson of Galesburg, was made at a party at the Crane home last Friday evening. The guests were the members of the Maids and Matron's bridge club, of which Miss Crane is a member. Miss Crane has taught in the Pittsfield school the past two years, and is a graduate of the Pittsfield schools, and the Teachers' Training College at Macomb. She is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Leo Crane of this city. Mr. Nelson is well known here, having been in the drug store business here for about a year. The wedding will take place in June."

WILL HOLD BIG SHOOT.

Forty-six shooters took part in the shoot at Britton last week while over 400 spectators watched the events.

Another real tournament will be held on June 1st at 10 a. m. but shooters arriving at any time before 1:30 may shoot up.

There will be 100 sixteen yard targets and 50 handicap. Nine trophies and prizes will be given by the club. Shooters will be classified in three classes or can shoot for targets only if they desire or they can shoot for the purses.

The Britton Gun Club is going fine and drawing big crowds and all shooters are invited to go to the big shoot on June 1st and take part in some of the events at least.

FAMILY REUNION.

The home of G. B. Garlinghouse was the scene of a happy family reunion last Sunday when all the children and grandchildren were present to greet Mr. and Mrs. Otto Garlinghouse, who returned last Thursday from Long Beach, California, having made the trip by motor in eighteen days.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Arnet Garlinghouse and son of Charlotte, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Halleck Wilson and two children of Dertoit, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Garlinghouse and children and Miss Ethel Garlinghouse.

ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Jos. H. Keeney delightfully entertained her bridge club last Thursday afternoon at her home on North Pearl Street.

Spring flowers of lilacs, tulips, and apple blossoms were attractively arranged throughout the rooms. Five tables were filled for the games and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. A dainty two course luncheon was served at five thirty. Mrs. Keeney was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John Keeney.

GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Miss Marjorie Pocklington was given a surprise party Wednesday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary by a party of twelve girls and Miss Borgard.

The party went to the Globe pond where they enjoyed games and a splendid supper. Miss Pocklington received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Halladay were week end guests of their daughter, Miss Genevieve at Lansing.

REV. H. A. BUELL DELIVERS MEMORIAL DAY SERMON.

The annual memorial day service was held at the Baptist church Sunday evening. The church was decorated with flags and flowers in a very pretty manner. The G. A. R. and T. B. A. were present.

The scripture lesson was read by Rev. Escolme and the invocation was given by Rev. Marsh. Mrs. R. S. Moore accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor sang "Old Glory" in a very pleasing manner.

Rev. Buell delivered the sermon using for a text Hebrews 12:1 and the subject, "Lessons from Our Dead Heroes." The first lesson we can learn is the value of principle. This nation stands for certain principles that were won by the shedding of blood and if necessary to fight to maintain these principles we should be willing to do so. This nation has many enemies, not the least of which is the liquor traffic. We cannot all fight with shot and shell but have as our weapons the ballot and our teachings. If we each do our duty at the polls many of our enemies will be defeated.

We must maintain the true principle in our business life, social life and religious life. Some business men lack real prnciple and will do anything to gain an end for themselves, and some people are very lax in their social life. Nearly everyone believes in the church but many fail to take their part in the work of the church. If a business man has the opportunity to employ two boys, one who has a part in the church and the other who has no interest there, he will undoubtedly give the position to the boy who has a real part in the church, thus the business man shows his belief in the value of the church. Service for the right means true success and alliance with the right always brings success.

The second lesson we learn is to care for the surviving. They sacrificed as truly as those who made the supreme sacrifice. It is a duty to ourselves and to our children and the memorial day should always be kept green and fresh.

The third lesson is the principle of a true soldier. Just as they served the country and their flag, we should serve our captain Christ and the banner of the cross. We learn the lesson of loyalty, faithfulness and trust in our captain. If we are true soldiers we will in the end gain the greatest victory that has ever been won.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bridges were called to Wolcott, N. Y. Saturday by the death of Mrs. Bridges' mother.

The Webster Anderson Co. has moved into one store building finding that the two stores which this company has occupied so long is not now needed for their business.

When the Anderson's were running this store it carried an immense stock and drew trade for miles in every direction being considered one of the best dry goods stores in Southern Michigan.

Raymond Puffer has been the Manager for the last five years.

ENTERTAINS CLUB.

Mrs. H. Ladd entertained her club of Brooklyn ladies, the Beta Sigma Lamba, Saturday afternoon. A delicious three course dinner was served at Reckner's Restaurant at noon, covers being laid for fifteen.

A social time was enjoyed during the afternoon and the good ladies from our neighboring village voted their hostess a royal entertainer.

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

"Obedience to Law is Liberty." Never was there a more fundamental truth spoken and it might be equally and as truthfully said that unless there is obedience to law that we are doomed as a nation and people to perish from the earth.

Every good citizen recognizes this and he further recognizes that unless the growing generation is steeped in this vital principle of every free people until it becomes an inseparable part of his very blood and fibre that we are doomed to go the way that other nations have gone who forgot their duty to law and constituted authority.

The mighty empires of the East rose in all their majesty, were filled with learning and a glorious history but when they forgot the one vital principle of their life, they went into oblivion almost over night. We are young yet as compared with them and have no more secure hold upon national solidarity than had those who were wrecked upon the rocks of flaunting constituted authority.

Every citizen of this great country is equally responsible for the safety of the nation, and unless he assumes that responsibility and puts it into active work, he throws his weight upon the side of national calamity. The boy who said "duty is what we ought to do but don't," spoke too truly and it has a fearful meaning that should cast a shudder over every thinking person. "But don't" wrecked Rome, Greece, and the other mighty empires because they forgot their duty and let those unfit to rule come into power with the quick result that Justice fled and a wild orgy of crime engulfed the people in the twinkling of an eye. Riot, pillage, fire and murder spread a pall over their land and nothing but ashes remained to tell the tale of forgetting to remember that "obedience to law is liberty."

There are doubtless times in every man's life when he is so inflamed by his passions over serious or fancied grievances that he is tempted to take the law into his own hands and get justice after his own ideas. But it is the most dangerous element that can come to the front, and if it is allowed free play, then every sacred institution in the land and our very lives are deeply threatened with riot and bloodshed. There is no more liberty and our very existence would immedistely become one of fire, torture, disease and death. Therefore it must not and cannot be tolerated if we are to endure as a people.

It is the imperative duty of every good citizen to do his utmost to uphold the hands of constituted authority and especially is it absolutely necessary for the growing generation to be steeped in respect for law, order and the rights of every person as set forth in the fundamental law of the land.

It is more imperative for those upon whose shoulders has fallen the mantle of responsibility to the people in seeing that the laws of land are upheld and enforced, that they shall not falter in the sacred oath they have taken to maintain and operate the laws of the land as they are legally constituted. When those in office responsible for the enforcement of the law, hesitate or temporize, refuse or neglect to do their full duty, then we are treading a most dangerous path leading to certain destruction.

This is not pessimism nor optimism but the plain unvarnished truth that everyone knows full well but some forget to fulfill.

Most live wire boys at some stage in their life become regular little savages and as long as they remain little, it might be overlooked with no degree of alarm, but the trouble is that they soon become big savages and then we have a mighty dangerous element in society. It is such as these that ride the country in high powered cars and shoot cashiers and others down in cold blood while they rob and pillage. It is very plain to see that unless little savages are trained to adopt civilized ways and made to understand and respect law and authority, that later on most serious trouble will result. That's why it is necessary to put the fear of God in their hearts even though it has to be installed through the seat of their parts.

"Every good citizen helps make a good community and every good community helps make a good state while good states make a glorious nation." Good citizens are those who obey the law and urge all others to do likewise at all times for in that alone is there safety for any of us. To do otherwise subjects us all to the fancied grievances of any person and while occupied in his usual avocation is liable to be set upon and injured or killed by someone who sets out to take the law in his own hand and get "justice" his own way.

The greatest national peril is disregard for law and order. Down here in Illinois we have an example of the most atrocious murders ever perjetrated by human beings and yet the perpetrators of those shocking crimes cannot be convicted because they have spread terror in the county to such an extent that no one dare vote to call them guilty. Its a terrible abscess in the vitals of that state which the law abiding element dread but are powerless to correct. Russia is a slaughter pen because constituted authority was over-thrown and unprincipled men became the self- appointed leaders with the firing squad as their support in maintaining supremacy.

Our nation so grand and glorious depends solely upon the ideas of each generation for its very life. We have established the wisest and best form of government the world ever knew with justice as the key stone. And justice means nothing but absolute respect and obedience to constituted authority, hence it is absolutely of the most vital consequence that not only the grown-ups but the growing generation be literally steeped in respect for our laws, our traditions, and glorious history and the fundamental principles of our existence. We must show them the terrible calamity that has befallen every nation and every people who have forgotten to observe strictly, the fundamental laws of the land. They must know the dangers that beset us and the wicked paths to avoid which lead to certain destruction. All this we must teach and preach in the schools, and from platform pulpit and press or charge the inevitable calamity that follows to our own neglect and perfidy.

Good citizens assume your duty like men and women worthy to be fathers and mothers and into whose hands the heroes of '76, 1812, '61 and 1918 have tossed the flag to "carry on." Stand squarely for strict observance to law and order and uphold the hands of those who are in authority to maintain justice four square according to our glorious traditions. If you do not the mantle of citizenship has fallen upon weak shoulders and others must carry the load you refuse. We believe with Lincoln in the greatness of the common people and that they will "carry on" with strict obedience to law and authority, the price of liberty, as the watchword of every fireside. Then our great nation is as safe as Heaven [illegible]

Are you awake to your duty Mr. and Mrs. Good Citizen? Which shall it be, Liberty as we now enjoy it or fire, pillage and the sword of anarchy? The seeds of both are being sown. Which will finally become supreme? Its for you to decide.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES
EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2¼ inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

Cuts "Man Hours" in Two

It does just as good work as a single-row cultivator; it's just as easy to operate and it works twice as fast—cuts your cultivation costs practically in two—that's the big advantage of using the

JOHN DEERE
TWO-ROW CULTIVATOR

Come in and see this time-saving, cost-reducing cultivator. Get on the seat, work the levers and find out for yourself how easily the John Deere Two-Row operates. You will like the unusually clear view of the work ahead, insured by the construction—seat far back and extra clearance under the frame. And you will like the way the rigs shift—they are always parallel—always cut out full width of the rigs—no "tracking" when dodging.

Remember, this is the cultivator that balances perfectly—easy on the horses.

Remember, "man hours" is the big item in cultivating costs. Cut the "man hours" in two with the John Deere Two-Row. If you have fifty acres or more to cultivate, you can't make a better investment.

Don't fail to get acquainted with all the features of this famous cultivator before your cultivating season begins.

BEAUTIFUL IN ITS RUINS

Historic Melrose Abbey Has Been Praised by Every Visiting Student of Architecture.

Melrose abbey was a beautiful abbey—now in ruins—on the bank of the River Tweed, Scotland, 40 miles southwest of Edinburgh. It was founded by David I (1124-1153) for the Cistercian monks in 1136, and became the mother church of the order in that country. After being twice damaged by the English, it was rebuilt in a style of increased magnificence between the years 1322 and 1505, but was again devastated by the English under the earl of Hertford, in 1545, and was totally ruined during the Scotch reformation. Since that time no attempt at restoration has been made, and the ruins have served as a quarry for the neighboring town of Melrose.

The ruined church is all that remains at the present day. It is greatly admired for the beauty of its architecture, which belongs to the Second Pointed style. Melrose abbey is the burial place of Michael Scott, the Wizard of the Lady; Alexander II, and Johanna, his queen; William Douglas, the "Dark Knight," and the second abbot, St. Waltheof. The heart of Robert Bruce is said to be buried before the high altar.

HAD FIRST PUBLIC SCHOOL

Beginning of Institution Can Clearly Be Traced to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Early attempts to provide elementary education were made in Virginia, and by the Dutch in New York, but Massachusetts must be looked to for the beginning of the American public school. In 1635 a town meeting of the people of Boston requested Philemon Purmont to become schoolmaster, and voted him 30 acres of land in part pay for his services. The school [illegible] Mr. Purmont later became the Boston Latin school, and has had a continuous existence. Other colonies followed in Boston's steps, and the next ten years saw common schools established in all the New England settlements. In 1647 the general court of Massachusetts ordered every town of 50 families to select a teacher, whose salary was to be paid by the parents of the children he taught or by the inhabitants in general. At the same time townships having one hundred families were ordered to establish a grammar school to fit youth for college. The law establishing these two grades of schools laid the foundation of the American public school system.

The Idyl.

The idyl is sometimes distinguished from other poems by the fact that it presents a picture; it is always distinguished from the major types of poetry by the fact that it presents the qualities of one or another of them, in a reduced and exquisitely delicate replica. Such pastorals as the Book of Ruth, Spenser's Shepherd's Calendar, and all the rural idyls of Theocritus are little paintings like the genre pictures of the Dutch school. The idyls may deal also with domestic, or social, even heroic, themes. The first kind is well represented by the Hebrew Book of Tobit or Burn's Cotter's Saturday Night. The social idyl may be of city or of court; it has been cultivated with great success by the Greeks and the French. The heroic kind is represented by the Book of Esther and by Tennyson's Idylls of the King. The Idylls of the King are an epic in a rose-window; each episode—atmosphere, scenes, images, and words—is stained with translucent color.—C. M. Gayley.

Early Britons Used Coal.

Tools and cinders found near the ancient Roman wall in England indicate that the Britons used coal previous to the Roman invasion in 54 B. C. By the English people it was first used as a fuel in 852, and, in the blast furnace for the production of iron in 1612. [illegible] America those intrepid Jesuit missionairies, Joliet and Marquette discovered coal near the present site of Utica, Ill., in 1673. That the Indians were acquainted with numerous coal beds, and actually burned these black "stones" instead of firewood, there can be no doubt.

Agreed on That.

Angry Sire—You never show up at the office except when you want money. I'm mighty glad I have no other sons like you!

Spendthrift Son—Certainly, dad; so am I.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Real Affection.

He—Indeed, I am fond of children, particularly in the country.

She—Why particularly when you're in the country?

He—Not when I'm in the country. When they are.

Queer.

"History is a queer thing, after all," we mused.

"Yes," agreed J. Fuller Gloom. "It relates many things that have come to pass, but only a few that have come to stay."—Kansas City Star.

Exacting.

"What made you git mad an' leave the restaurant?" inquired Mrs. Corntossel of her husband.

"Didn't you hear the waiter say the soup was mock turtle? We want genuine or nothin'."

Plenty of Time for Wife.

Wife (from above)—Ready in a minute!

Husband (a little later)—No hurry now, dear. I've got to shave again!—London Answers.

No more Jay parking allowed. Pres. Heesen ordered the lines put down which shows you how and where to park and W. L. Coller did the artist work.

This is a mighty good thing as it gives room for about 50% more cars in the business district and saves the cross walks for pedestrains. Please help along by parking carefully as the lines indicate and if you do not wish to be helpful, don't squeal if you find a tag on your car to go up and talk it over with Hizzoner. Excellent thing and shows we are just waking up.

DID A GOOD JOB.

The new water pipes that were connected with the water mains along the boulevard west were put in under the direction of our Water Supt., Gyp Arner, and he certainly did a good job.

E. C. Hellman of the Water Committee gave it his close attention also and doubtless the people in this part of town will not be troubled with water breaks for many years to come.

The very best Byers pipe was put in and this will last a lifetime so that the job was done right from start to finish and when the concrete is down it will not have to be torn up because of water leaks at least for many years.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. F. C. Dickinson was hostess on Tuesday afternoon of this week to her Bridge Club and a number of friends at her home on Maiden Lane.

Baskets of spring flowers were prettily arranged throughout the rooms. Five tables were filled for the games and the afternoon was much enjoyed. High and low scores were won by Mrs. Floyd Heesen and Mrs. Wade Jones respectively and they were presented with dainty favors. A delicious two course luncheon was served at six o'clock.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

Astigmatism is a very prevalent, distressing and detrimental error in vision. It is caused by the eye being improperly shaped. It varies in intensity and its results are seldom precisely the same in any two cases.

Astigmatism is responsible for more headaches than any other one cause. Every moment that the astigmatism eye is in use, either for close or distant seeing, it is subjected to strain. The only rest such an eye gets is while it is closed.

In thousands of cases astigmatism is present without the knowledge of the patient. It often happens that a person of strong physique and much reserve energy will be for many years unacquainted with the fact that he is astigmatic.

CLASS NIGHT IS GREAT SUCCESS.

The Seniors gave the annual class day program at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, a large crowd of parents and friends being present. The room was appropriately decorated and made a pretty background for the program which was the scene of a garden party.

Miss Mary Pennington was the class historian and gave a very interesting history of the class assisted by Ellen McCook, Gertrude Ross, Harriet Ladd, Dwight Hodges, Thomas Mead and Raymond Platt. The other parts on the program were given by Thelma Ruesink, statistician; Wilmot Pruyne, class will; Doris Hoag, class poet, and all were most excellent showing clever thought and careful preparation. Scene two was as follows:

Class Prophecy, Norman Long assisted by the Three Witches, Rena Kempf, Herbert McClure and Mildred Curry.

Alchemist, Lyle Whelan, all of which was most excellent.

Scene three was "Smoking of Peace Pipe and Presentation of Cane."

Giving of Peace Pipe, John Erwin Anderson (Senior).

Receiving of Peace Pipe, Phillip Ketcham (Junior).

Indians, Seniors—Duane McAdams, Earl Pennington, Sayson Hensen, Lawrence Harrington; Juniors—Webster Anderson, Lucian Williamson, Margaret Turner and Ralph Field.

Presentation of Cane, Alice Heilman, Senior President.

Receiving of Cane, Dale Mominee, Junior President.

The whole program was very unique and showed that our seniors have much initiative and ability to present a varied program in a most excellent manner. It was a very enjoyable affair and reflected much credit upon the class and especially upon those who took the various parts.

The commencement exercises will be given in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Thursday. The following program will be given:

CLOSING OF SCHOOL DISTRICT

The nineteen pupils of Alvin Brazee's school, Raisin District No. 5 found invitations on their desks Monday morning to a picnic on Friday afternoon at the home of their teacher. He entertained them because of the splendid work they have done this year.

A delicious picnic dinner was served on the lawn and Misses Lola and Lois Harwood who were members of the last year's graduating class were guests.

Boating and wading were enjoyed during the afternoon, the young folks keeping the several boats busy. Everyone enjoyed the time which passed all too quickly.

Alvin Brazee has signed up for another year's work, this making three years he has taught in this place.

TWO SENIORS MADE HAPPY.

Two seniors were made happy when the clock at Braman's stopped with one hand pointing to the name of Lyle Whelan and the other at the name of Lawrence Harrington. The former received a gold knife and the latter a set of gold cuff links. This was a novel way of advertising and also of making the senior life in the high school more interesting.

King Tut's Nickel

Could old King Tut, whose rest has recently been disturbed after many thousands of years, have in his lifetime deposited just one nickel in this bank, and that nickel had drawn interest at the prevailing rate of 4%, compounded every three months, his account today would be the largest in the world, in fact, it would contain most of the money in the world.

Of course, all of us cannot live long enough to accumulate a fortune from the deposit of a nickel, but systematic saving of just a few cents a week will quickly amount to a rather astonishing sum.

Why not start today? A deposit made on or before the 10th will draw interest from the 1st. of June.

PROMINENT CITIZEN PASSES ON.

This community was greatly shocked last Saturday to learn of the death of one of its most highly respected citizens, Dr. W. D. Reed who although in failing health had been confined to his bed but a few days.

Dr. Reed was one of Tecumseh's best known and most substantial citizens. Though a quiet man who never was much in the public eye, he was a splendid type of citizen who stood for the very best things in community life and was a staunch friend of those in need.

He was every inch a practical christian whose deeds of kindness were many though known to but few. His business associates knew him as a man of strict integrity and his legion of friends as a faithful friend who was always ready to do his part in helping to make this a better world in which to live and work.

Dr. W. D. Reed was born August 31, 1866 in Manchester and his boyhod days were spent there. He entered the Dental Department at Ann Arbor, graduating June 25, 1891.

Immediately after his graduating he came to Tecumseh where he went into business, serving the town faithfully for thirty-two years.

On November 5, 1902 he was united in marriage to Nelle Martin of Clinton and to this union were born two children, Eleanor and David, who are surviving.

While in Tecumseh he was connected with several lines of business, three years with B. J. Pulver in the drug business, three years with Guy Belding in the furniture and undertaking business and he was a member of the Webster Anderson Dry Goods firm and a director in the Lilley State Bank. He was also a member of the Masonic order.

He has been in failing health for the past ten years and has been a great sufferer with diabetis, but was only confined to his bed a few days.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday morning, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh and Rev. J. J. Preston officiating. Burial was made at Clinton.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were: Dr. A. C. Taylor of Duluth, Mrs. C. C. Price, Mr. and Mrs. R. Noyes of Nashville, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown of Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Crane of Portland, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Knight and family of Clinton; Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Matteson of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Merritt of Martin; Geo. Shaw of Saline; Mrs. Lydia Martin and son Edward of Clinton and Perry Hayden of Ann Arbor.

BEAT PALMYRA IN TEN INNING GAME.

One of the best games of baseball seen on the local field for many a year was played last Sunday between the local braves and Palmyra, Tecumseh nosing out a victory in the tenth inning by putting the winning run across the rubber.

Crittenden pitched a steady consistent game and was well supported by the locals and as Palmyra was also playing a strong game the result at the end of the ninth was a tie with 3 all. The fans were on edge and as Tecumseh came to bat yelled lustily for someone to stop the trouble and someone responded after a passed ball had done the work.

Palmyra was unable to score and the game went to Tecumseh 4 to 3 after one of the closest and hardest fought games ever played on the local field. Following is the score and averages.

His skull was cracked and one foot crushed and many other bruises received. He was taken to the hospital there and is in a very critical condition.

BUYS BECKLEY BUILDING.

At the auction sale held last Saturday, the Beckley Store building formerly occupied by Guy E. Belding was sold to R. J. McCoy for $5875.

This is one of the most desirable store buildings in Tecumseh being about two stores in width and located centrally, it occupies a most excellent position.

Mr. McCoy will put in a new front and otherwise put it in first class condition and when these repairs are completed it will be one of the best stores in these parts and a distinct credit to Tecumseh. Mr. McCoy states that the building will be ready for occupancy about July 1st.

The Christian Endeavor Society and members of the congregation of the Friends church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Priestep on the Sutton farm south of town, Tuesday evening. The occasion being a farewell to them before they leav for their new home in Detroit the first of the week.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL.

Tecumseh Lodge No. 190 K. of P. will observe their annual Memorial on Sunday, June 10th at 2 o'clock p. m. For the past several years the local lodge has observed this occasion on the second Sunday in June, which is the day set apart by the Pythian Order, to pay tribute to their departed Brothers.

A program has been arranged by the Committee in charge and Supreme Representative H. E. Ven DeWalker of Ypsilanti will deliver the address. This should insure a good turn out as Mr. VanDeWalker is well known here as an able speaker. The Ladies Band has been engaged to furnish music. The services will be held in the cemetery of the weather permits, otherwise in the Pythian Hall.

The Pythian Sisters will also take part with the Knights and the Uniform Rank Company will turn out in uniform.

The public is invited.

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE No. ONE.

Mrs. Wm. Waldron and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron entertained Circle Number One of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society at their country home west of town Friday afternoon. The house was very prettily decorated with flowers.

A short business session was held after which a social afternoon was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

HILARITY CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. A. J. Weir entertained the Hilarity Club at her home on West Pottawatamie street Tuesday evening. The usual number of games of "500" were played during the evening, high and low scores being won by Mrs. C. E. Moorman and Mrs. Floyd Elliott.

At the close of the games refreshments were served. This was the final meeting of the club for this year.

ENTERTAINS BLUE BIRD CLUB.

Miss Nellie Howe entertained the Blue Bird club of girls of the Baptist church at her home on Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in sewing and playing games at which the little folks had a very pleasant time. The hostess served ice cream and cake.

DID FINE JOB.

Henry VanDuzer has just completed painting the fire truck and he did a mighty fine job. Bill Coller striped it for him and now our fire fighter looks just like new. This both boys did entirely gratis and it saved the village at least $75 in hard cash and is just as good a job as could be done. Credit the boys with doing a bit to save money for the village.

GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Mary Louise Artman celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary Monday, and in honor of the occasion she entertained her classmates in the kindergarten and Mrs. Ketcham, Miss LaPointe and Miss Brainerd.

Games were enjoyed during the afternoon on the school lawn after which the little hostess served ice cream and cake, and everyone had a splendid time, and wished Miss Mary Louise many happy returns of the day.

HAS WONDERFUL SHOWING.

The new creations in wall paper daily arriving at C. A. Wright & Son's is certainly the finest display of artistic wall paper ever seen in these parts.

The patterns, colors and weaves are the product of the best artists work and they certainly show such perfect blends for various room purposes that to see them is worth your time whether you expect to paper right now or not.

The new panels for displaying them show you exactly how they will look on your room and the prices are remarkably low for the splendid quality shown. When asked how he could show such elegant patterns for such reasonable prices Mr. Wright said he would rather sell a larger qquantity for a small profit than a small quantity for a larger profit. And further Mr. Wright said they had had this spring the largest sale of wall paper in the history of the store by far.

Its easy to see why. Just call in and take a look and be assured that this little story is just giving you the benefit of a real tip from the editor that the finest wall paper you ever saw is right down at Wright's Drug Store. The purpose of this is just to give credit where credit belongs because that is what helps build up our town. You'll say Wright is right when you look it over.

Preparations ought to be made during this year for the biggest home coming in 1924 that Tecumseh ever saw.

This is the 100th anniversary of the settlement of this town and of Lenawee County which makes a most notable event in our history. Just 100 years ago (next year) Musgrove Evans came up as far as the bank of the river Raisin and erected a log house thereon near where the present electric power plant is now located.

Some years ago a suitable monument was erected to the memory of this intrepid pioneer who blazed the way for others to come and transform the virgin forest into one of the most productive countries the sun ever shown on.

And the 100th anniversary of this settlement should be made the basis of a fitting celebration and home-coming that will bring back to old Tecumseh all its former sons and daughters who have not passed along the golden trail to the "West" from whence no traveler ever returns.

The sons and daughters of pioneers are still here and fresh in their memory are the tales of pioneer life which our grandfathers and grandmothers endured and enjoyed. Big hearted, honest, fearless people they were who hewed out their homes from the forest primeval and saw the Indians and wild animals creep back further into the dense forests where undisturbed by the white man's axe they could live the life nature so fitted them for.

It should be an eventful year for Tecumseh and plans for one of the most elaborate celebrations ever held in the county should be made and carried out. Its a truly wonderful time for us to enjoy and as we have carried on so we should turn back the pages of history to see these sturdy pioneers once again in a setting true to nature come to Tecumseh and start life in a new and wonderful country where the howl of the wolf and the shadowy form of the lithe Indian flit silently through the great forest.

We will, is Tecumseh's answer and in due time all will be set for this wonderful celebration, a full page in the history of this quiet town which has done its share to perfect and maintain this grand old country whose flag is the emblem of justice and freedom unexcelled in all the world.

SAFETY FIRST.

Owing to the fast increasing number of motor accidents, a campaign has been inaugurated to develop a safety first idea among motor car drivers in the hopes that it will tend to decrease motor accidents.

The one great cause of accidents is fast driving when the least break in the steering gear will send the car to the ditch in a terrific crash. Another cause is hogging the road which brings on a crash with another machine or vehicle.

While a third cause is losing control of the car while under terrific speed. These three causes have sent many an innocent person to an awful death because some hairbrained driver was at the wheel.

Strict enforcement of the law. Jail sentences for every violation of traffic laws which endanger life or property will effectively cure these devils and the people will uphold every judge who puts the fear of God into the heart of every driver hailed before him for endangering the lives of any person on the public highways. Make the laws stricter and enforce them to the point of severity will make the roads safe and discourage pinheaded fools from driving cars under any condition.

KINDERGARTEN PROGRAM.

The pupils of the West Branch school gave a splendid program of music and readings on the school lawn Friday morning. A large number of parents and friends were present to hear the little folks and each one did their part well.

The teachers put in a lot of hard work in preparing the children for their parts and all are to be congratulated upon the splendid manner in which the program was carried out.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Tecumseh who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Tecumseh woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Tecumseh resident can doubt.

Mrs. Alice Burroughs, Pottawatamie St., says: "Less than a year ago I began to feel badly. I sometimes ached all over and had such tired feelings, my energy seemed all gone. My kidneys didn't act naturally and at times my back ached dreadfully. I had known of others in our town who had been helped by using Doan's Kidney Pills for the same trouble, so I went to Wright & Son's Drug Store for a supply. I began taking Doan's and in a few weeks was feeling much better. Now I am free from the aches and pains and feel better in every way. I know that Doan's gave me this benefit and am glad to say that I heartily recommend them, as I know them to be reliable." (Statement given December 3, 1908.)

On May 3, 1920, Mrs. Burroughs said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has proven permanent. I willingly confirm my former statement."

QUICK ACTION BRAKES
EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2¼ inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

BRUTE TAKES NO CHANCES

Elephant Can Be Relied on to Be Sure He Is Walking on Firm Structure.

To test the stability of a bridge or other kind of structure there is no delicate instrument or measuring apparatus which can compare in exactness with the sound judgment of Jumbo. Owing to his weight an elephant has to think twice before trusting himself to anything that is not perfectly steady and secure. This circumstance has developed in him a mysterious extra sense by which he can tell instinctively whether he is treading on safe ground or not. In a recent case of a newly erected garage floor, doubt of its strength arose in the mind of the owner, although the architect maintained that the floor was quite safe. To make trial of its firmness, five elephants were borrowed from a traveling menagerie, and led into the garage. If there had been the least unsoundness or flaw in construction the animals would have bolted in a panic the moment their forefeet touched the floor. However, without the least hesitation, the first elephant walked forward, followed boldly by his four companions. The combined weight upon the floor amounted to nearly 28 tons. The owner was satisfied and the architect vindicated.

DID NOT BREAK CIRCLE

Not One in Caterpillar Chain Had Initiative Enough to Break Away From Endless Procession.

Fabre, "The Insect's Homer," relates, in one of his books, an interesting experiment he made with certain caterpillars called "processionaries," because of their habit of following one another—nose to tail—in a long unbroken procession, apparently without aim or objective, except that of the one which happens to lead.

Fabre placed a complete circle of caterpillars upon the narrow ledge of a moulding around the circumference of an earthenware jar. There was no leader; each one had his head to the tail of the one in front. And they marched in solemn parade around the endless track for 84 hours, and apparently only a chance marching saved them from literally marching themselves to death. No single one of the insects had sufficient initiative in all those hours to leave the procession, to crawl off the ledge and to branch out for himself.

The Were-Wolf in England.

A superstitious belief in the were-wolf (an evil creature supposed to be a human being in the form of a wolf) still lingers among the country folk of Hampshire, England. In one district the children are not allowed to take a certain field-path across the downs for fear of meeting this dreaded creature. An old woman of the place when questioned told how her mother and grandmother before her had always warned her of the were-wolf, saying: "He looks like a big dog, but he used to be a lady!" Other inhabitants of the village show reluctance to cross this path after dusk, and many assert that they have seen upon the downs a large dog which has vanished on being approached. Belief in lycanthropy was widespread during the Dark Ages, when men displaying all the predatory instincts and ferocity of wolves wanderd in masses through southern Germany and parts of Italy.

First Use of Envelopes.

The first envelope of which there is any knowledge, inclosed a letter sent 226 years ago by Sir William Turnbull to Sir James Ogilvie. The epistle dealt with English affairs of state, and, with its covering, is carefully preserved in the British museum. At that period, and long afterward, it was the general custom to fold letters and seal them with wafers of wax.

Early in the last century envelopes began to come into more general use and stamped adhesive envelopes achieved wide popularity in England shortly after the establishment of the penny posts in 1840, and by 1850 were largely used on this side of the Atlantic. The first machine for the manufacture of envelopes was patented in 1844 by George Wilson, an Englishman, and improvements were made the following year by Warren De La Rue and E. Hill.

As Others Saw Him.

An old negro from the southern rural districts had gone to the city seeking employment. Everywhere he went, references were asked for. Finally he gave the names of former employers and in due time returned for a decision. Some of the letters were read to him, in which he was praised very highly and his work and loyalty greatly lauded. The old man's eyes opened wide with surprise and pleasure as he remarked:

"Well, I declair, if I had 'a 'known I was such a good niggah as dat, I sho would 'a' got mo' pay."—Everybody's Magazine.

Home Discussion.

Said the young wife: "You were going to read the encyclopedia, but you didn't."

Said the young husband: "And you were going to work through the cookbook. But have you?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Good Reason.

Judge—Why is it that all the girls flock to the court when this man is up for breach of promise?

Lawyer—Well, judge, he writes such delightful love letters.

Sure Enough.

"An extra pair of pants with every suit. Took America to think up that idea."

"I dunno. In Holland they sometimes wear six pairs of pants with one coat."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

OBITUARY

Mrs. George W. Stone.

Harriet Brillhart was born April 1, 1857 near Sandusky, Ohio. When in early childhood, she with her parents, came to Wood county, Ohio, where they settled on a farm near Tontogany. In January 1877 she was united in marriage to George W. Stone. To this union were born four children, Fred who preceded her in death twenty-five years, Alice, Francis and Byrde. In 1907 they sold their home near Tontogany and came to the farm near Tecumseh, where she has made her home since except two years, spent in Tecumseh village and the last three years in Toledo with her daughter Byrde.

On April 9, 1923, because of failing health she came back to her farm home to live with her son Francis. On Tuesday, May 28, she passed on to that beautiful country where there is neither sickness nor sorrow.

She became a christian in early life and was a member of the Presbyterian church of Tonogany, O., later bringing her membership to Tecumseh and then to Toledo where she was a member at the time of her death.

She was a thoughtful and devoted mother and a patient sufferer during many years of delicate health. Her husband preceded her in death six years.

She leaves to mourn her loss, three children, Mrs. R. H. Calkins of Wichata, Kansas, Francis B. Stone of Tecumseh and Byrde M. Stone of Toledo, Ohio; five grandchildren, three brothers, Ben Brillhart of Tontogany, O., Calvin Brillhart of Toledo, O., and Frank Brillhart of Perrysburg, Ohio.

The funeral was held at her home on Thursday, May 31 with burial at Tontogany, Ohio, on Friday, June 1st where short services were held at the grave. The Rev. Kiskaddon of Tecumseh officiating.

Those from away attending the services were: Calvin Brillhart and Ed Brillhart of Toledo; Frank Brillhart of Perrysburg, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stone and daughter Eva of Defiance, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John McCombs, Mrs. Lester McCombs, Mrs. Dave Stevenson and Mrs. Katner of Clinton.

Mother's Way

Tender, gentle, brave and true,
Loving us whate'er we do!
Waiting, watching at the gate,
For the footsteps that are late,
Sleepless through the hours of night
Till she knows that we're all right,
Pleased with every word we say—
That is ever mother's way.

Not enough for her are flowers,
Her life is so blent with ours
That in all we dare and do
She is partner through and through
Suffering when we suffer pain,
Happy when we smile again,
Living with us night and day—
That is ever mother's way.

—Edgar A. Guest.

Motion made and supported that a notice be served on Mrs. James VanAntwerp to build walk on east side of her property. Motion carried.

The following resolution was offered by Trustee Satterthwaite and supported by Trustee Lidke.

Resolved: That whereas, the trustees of said Village have understood that the New York Central Railroad Company would lower their track as it runs through said village across Chicago St. at the intersection of Evans Street therewith, to a level of the new cement pavement on Chicago St.;

It is hereby resolved, that said matter be referred to the Street Committee of said village, with authority in said committee to act upon said matter as they may deem best, with the suggestion herein that they first take the matter up with the proper officers of said railroad, giving them reasonable notice of such neglect on the part of said raidroad, and in the event said railroad neglects taking short reasonable action, that they then refer the matter to the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Michigan.

Ayes: Hendersoht, Lidke, Anderson, Satterthwaite, Heilman.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

There is no suggestion that an Optometrist can give a person to indicate whether he is or is not astigmatic. An examination of the eyes furnishes the only proof.

In many cases astigmatism exists to so slight a degree that the patient overcomes it. That means that at the cost of an excessive expenditure of energy the patient by an automatic action of the muscles of the eyes succeeds in overcoming the astigmatism.

When the error is thus overcome the patient may see normally or better. He cannot know that he is astigmatic. But the Optometrist would detect the error, and the supplying of the proper glasses would relieve the muscles of the eyes from the necessity for overcoming it.

To be continued next Thursday. (adv)

The High-Grade Gasoline

Has the Punch

It follows through — there is no halfhearted piston stroke; neither is there a slapping piston stroke to rack your engine. Instead, Red Crown imparts a steady, steam-engine-like pressure to the piston that sustains and follows through the length of the stroke. That explains both the smooth flow of rhythmic power and the abundance of sustained pulling power. Red Crown offers to the motorist

The Utmost of Service

It has all the intrinsic merit that science has been able to put into any gasoline. It is manufactured so that it will vaporize at just the correct temperatures, to cause instant starting — a quick, snappy get-away — a smooth, gliding acceleration — tremendous power — racing speed if you want it — and most miles per gallon.

ROAD WEST OF TOWN TO BE BUILT.

Word has just been received from Frank Rogers that the three mile strip of road west of town connecting the concrete road from Tipton with Tecumseh will be built at once.

The Governor and highway board got together and ironed out their difficulties so that the resident engineer received orders to go ahead and have the contractor build this road at once.

This will be good news to everyone and when the link east and west have been completed we will have a splendid road from Tipton clear through to Monroe.

About three-quarters of a mile has been laid on the east link and it is being put down rapidly so that this will soon be finished. A little over a mile remains to be laid at this time. The work on the boulevard is progressing slowly.

STREET SHOWS OPENED.

The street shows opened last Wednesday night with the Ladies' Band as one of the features and a Dog and Monkey show together with an arcobatic performance. Later on an exhibition of painting and the burning of Reims was given.

The show was good throughout but the heavy downpour of rain all the afternoon together with a threatened shower in the evening kept the usual crowd away except the town folks who turned out in goodly numbers. However, the rain was worth millions of dollars to the county so we are all satisfied.

Another big performance next Wednesday night so get set for these regular events, the biggest thing in Lenawee County. The Ladies' Band was unusually good last night and evoked a storm of enchore. This is one of the finest organizations for the town that could possibly be had and everyone is not only proud of our band but every loyal Tecumsehite is a genuine booster for this splendid organization.

NEW PARKING ORDINANCE.

Elsewhere under the council proceedings is the new parking ordinance printed in full. Hereafter do not park your car on the east side of Evans St. between the council building and Logan St. unless you wish to go before the Judge and take your hat off.

This is an excellent ordinance and simply protects traffic on this narrow street. You should help by NOT parking YOUR car there even for just a few minutes which quickly runs into many minutes. Just obey the ordinance or cash up like a good fellow. Selah.

Fourteen members of the Just-A-Mere club were guests of Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw at a one o'clock luncheon at Ypsilanti, Wednesday.

HOLLOWAY.

The attendance at Sunday School on Sunday morning was one hundred and eight. The work on the church is progressing nicely. Plans are being made to hold Children's Day exercises one week from next Sunday, June 17, as it is hoped the church will be nearly finished by that time.

Mrs. Albert Gafner and daughter Margaret and niece Dorothy Mohr and Mrs. W. M. Calhoun and children Kathryn and Lyle spent Monday in Adrian.

Mrs. John Finnigan is on the sick list.

Friends are glad to know that Mrs. Frank Hedrick is able to be out again after a prolonged illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Rainey and family and Mrs. Wm. Britton of Adrian attended Memorial exercises at Ridgeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wootten entertained over Sunday their sister Mrs. Nusbaum and son of Elkhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wootten were Adrian visitors on Thursday.

Merl and Zura Kerr and Dorothy Chandler were in Adrian on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gafner and two daughters and Mr. Caspar Mohr, spent Wednesday in Blissfield. Their niece Dorothy Mohr who has been visiting there returned to her home with them.

TRAP SHOOTING IN FOR A FINE SEASON.

"Trapshooting is enjoying a splendid season," said Ivan Spitler, yesterday, and I would not be surprised if it were the best year in the history of the Sport Alluring."

"There were about 1,600 trapshooting tournaments last year," he continued, "in which there were about 30,000 participants or about 15,000 actual contestants. From the way the sport is picking up this year I believe that there will be at least 20,000 actual contestants this season. In the neighborhod of 7,000,000 clay targets were thrown last season. Already one-third of this amount has been used with the big months to come. The state championships are now on in full blast, every one getting in trim for the Grand American Handicap trapshooting tournament which takes place at the South Shore Country Club, Chicago, Ill., late in August. This tournament is expected to attract no less than 1,000 individual shooters."

The local club will soon get busy so get set for a summer's fun shooting blue rocks. Let's go!

Thirty-Three Are Now Graduated

Largest Class In History of Local Schools Receive Diplomas Last Thursday Night. Exercises Are Sublimely Beautiful. Big Audience Attends Services.

The largest class of graduates that ever received diplomas from the local high school completed their work and received their diplomas last Thursday night when thirty-three, sixteen girls and seventeen boys, making up this splendid aggregation of young folks received their credentials.

The event was one long to be remembered as parents and friends filled the big auditorium to listen to the closing exercises that marked the last appearance of these young folks in their high school life. The platform was very prettily decorated with flowers and the class motto "Forward" was hung in white letters above the class.

Mrs. Robert Moore and Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans both sang most delightfully selections that were thoroughly appreciated by everyone. The orchestra contributed a selection and Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. Ella Hodges gave a piano duet which added much to the beauty of the occasion.

Miss Bernice Austin gave the Salutatory in a very fitting manner and Miss Alice Heilman gave the Valedictory equally as well. Both young ladies held the closest attention of the big audience and everyone was proud of their splendid efforts which showed a keen thought and elegance of delivery seldom equalled by high school students.

Dr. W. D. Henderson then gave a most instructive and inspiring address which brought home to both students and parents the true meaning of education and the great responsibilities that belong to those who are fortunate enough to obtain such splendid advantages. The class will doubtless profit much by this masterly address and many years will elapse ere his golden words are forgotten.

Atty. F. B. Wood in behalf of the Board of Education then presented the diplomas with words of wisdom that should make most significant the meaning of their school work and the duties thus conferred upon those who received these precious documents, the evidence of their worthiness and a fitting symbol of the completion of a work so thoroughly followed out to the end. His words made a splendid impression both upon the class and upon the audience who listened intently as this solemnly beautiful part of the program was completed.

Again thirty-three of our young people have won the race and are now about to enter higher institutions of learning and go into the real service of life and the people of this community who have contributed so generously to make this education possible, look forward to their investment with assurance that these young people will "carry on" and do their part in the great work of life with sublime faith that an education is the best investment that we can make in all this world. It was indeed a splendid and fitting close to the year's work in the public schools, the greatest of American institutions.

DIES AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT.

Milburn R. Keyser, who was in an automobile accident June 5th in Ypsilanti and has since been in the Beyer Memorial Hospital at that place in an unconscious condition, passed away at eight-thirty o'clock Teusday morning.

Mr. Keyser was born October 31, 1868 at their farm home west of town. He has made his home here all his life.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. May Woodward Keyser, one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Honsinger and two sons, Paul and Eugene, four grandchildren and one brother, W. B. Keyser, all of this place.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 oclock at the home, Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon officiating. Burial will be made at Brookside.

CONTEST CLOSES.

The contest between the Dorcas Class and Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School which has been running the past twelve weeks closed Sunday, the men's class defeating the ladies by a 19% average. The men's class when organized had a membership of seven and their average attendance was seven and a half per cent, while the ladies average attendance was nine and a half per cent, but their enrollment was fifteen. A great deal of interest was manifested all during the contest and both classes have gained much.

The men will be served to a banquet by the ladies in the near future and it is hoped that some speakers of Ann Arbor District will be present.

ENTERTAINS CLASS.

Miss Elfreda Alderdyce was hostess to the "Friends Successfull" class of the Friends church Tuesday evening at her home at Onsted. A very pleasant time was spent in games and guessing contests and music.

Some most delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and the party broke up at a late hour, everyone having enjoyed the evening and willing to vote Miss Alderdyce an excelent hostess.

ALUMNI BANQUET.

The annual meeting of the Tecumseh Alumni Association was held at the high school gym Friday evening. The decorations which were in charge of Lester Heesen were very pretty. Flags were draped from the railing of the race track and syringa blossoms were placed in the basket ball baskets and large baskets were placed on the tables.

Miss Ruby [illegible] was chairman of the banquet committee and together with the caterer, Mrs. Russell Thurlby and the junior boys who waited table deserved great credit for the splendid banquet they served. There were about two hundred served.

Mrs. Geo. Field, as president of the association arranged for the splendid program which was very interesting. The toasts were all original and the toastmaster, A. O. Howard introduced each speaker in a very clever manner. After the program dancing was enjoyed.

A VERY WORTHY MOVE.

The second district association of the American Legion held a special meeting at the Tecumseh Club last Friday evening. Business was preceded by a supper at the Paramount. Delegates were present from all over the district to make the final plans for a drive to raise funds for the American Legion Children's Billet at Otter Lake, Mich.

No provision has been made by any agency for the care and education of the children of the dead and disabled men who fought in the world war. These children are now left to the care of some chance friend or to public charity. The children of the men who died for us are living in poor houses.

The American Legion is going to take care of 100 of these unforunates this year and is going to see that they receive real care, real education and real sympathy and kindnss. We are asking you to help. Please leave your contribution with the Herald, either Bank or with any Legionaire and DO IT NOW.

We believe the people will respond to this worthy cause and show the world that we are not forgetful of those who have "gone West" and left behind their loved children to the mercy of the cold world. Come on folks lets do our bit and see that these children get justice and a chance to make good while their daddies sleep "in the field where poppies grow" dead that we may live.

The K. of P. and Pythian Sisters held their memorial services Sunday afternoon at the cemetery. REUNION OF OLD FOURTH MICHIGAN.

On Wednesday, June 20th, the annual reunion of the old Fourth Michigan will be held in Tecumseh and it is hoped that every citizen will take an active interest in decorating his store or home with the national colors.

There are but few of the old boys who went out with this famous regiment left and they are all growing old very fast now so that we should do all in our power to make this one of the best reunions that the boys have ever held.

See that the colors are flown to the breeze in front of every business house and home where possible on next Wednesdav and do honor to those who did so much for us. Special entertainment will be provided at the regular Wednesday show for these boys. Come out.

CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS.

The Daily Vacation Church School, in which the local churches are cooperating, opened this morning. The bells of the churches were all rung at eight o'clock announcing the fact and summoning the children and young people. In the opening exercises Rev. Buell directed the singing while Miss Irene Buell presided at the piano. Rev. Preston read a scripture lesson which told of the industry of the ants. Rev. Escolme offered prayer, and Rev. Marsh presented the school with several switches, not for use in corporal punishment but as an object lesson, his subject being "As the Twig is Bent." Following the opening exercises the teachers took charge of their classes, enrolled their pupils, and gave their introductory work. There was a good enrollment; the interest of those present will result in a rapid growth in the attendance.

The community had a splendid opportunity last Sunday evening to become acquainted with this type of school when Rev. W. R. Shirey of Ann Arbor gave an enthusiastic address on the subject. He states that it originated twenty years ago in New York. In these years it has come to be used in every state i nthe union and in every kind of church and community. There is great need of more religious instruction than has been given and this is a very effective means of accomplishing this object. The lessons in the Bible, handwork, basketry and manual training are equally interesting to the young people. The older girls will make baskets while the older boys make handwork and other objects. Teachers especially qualified for their work have been provided for each department.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Elizabeth Snow entertained a party of little friends at her home on West Kilbuck street Friday afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary.

A delicious two course birthday dinner was served. The table was attractively decorated in a pink and white color scheme, a birthday cake with lighted tapers centering the table.

Games and music were enjoyed and the little hostess received many lovely gifts.

Those present were Louise Williamson, Catherine Heesen, Esther Brewer, Barbara Williamson, Katherine Jean Wood, Grace Mary Ketcham, Doris VanDoren and Margaret Murphy.

OLD CLINTON RESIDENT PASSES ON.

Augustus B. VanDeMark died at his home in Clinton Friday afternoon, aged 81 years.

Mr. VnaDeMark was one of Clinton's oldest and most highly respected citizens. The harware and implement business, which he conducted for over 50 years, and which is now owned by his son Fred G. is the oldest business firm of this place.

He had been in failing health for several years and confined to his home since last winter.

He is survived by his wife, one son Fred G., two grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Addie Wells, all of this place. Funeral services were held at the home Monday at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. J. J. Preston of St. Johns church.

The services at Riverside cemetery were conducted by the Masonic order of which Mr. VanDeMark was a member for nearly 50 years.

WILL OCCUPY NEW HOME.

Our progressive and live wire firm of Braun & Bridges will occupy the store building formerly ocupied by Guy E. Belding and recently bought by R. J. McCoy.

The store will be all remodeled and a new front put in and it will be redecorated throughout. This will make an ideal store for their business and it will be good to see it again occupied.

WILL SHOOT WELL NEAR DEERFIELD NEXT SUNDAY.

Jackson County Oil & Gas company No. 2 oil well near Deerfield will be shot next Sunday. That was the promise made Saturday by George Christman, general manager of the corporation. He said the well would be brought in barring unforseen accidents.

Drilling, abandoned several months ago because of lack of finance and safe equipment, will be resumed Monday. Thomas Gordon, who has had 30 years' experience in the oil fields of America and who has brought in many gushers, and dry holes as well, will direct the drilling. Christman will be at the field every day to supervise the work.

No. 2 well today is a hole 2,165 feet deep. Christman plans on sinking it 60 or 68 feet more. That will require but three or four days. An expert shooter from Toledo will bring the well in. This will require the lowering of 100 quarts of nitro-glycerine to the bottom of the well. A slug of metal will be dropped upon the explosive. Then—well, all the stockholders are hoping. The exact hour of the shooting will be announced later. Scores of local people interested in the venture are planning to attend.

Mrs. J. F. N. Bowen returned Saturday from a five weeks visit at Parkersburg, W. Va. and Washington Court House, O. where she visited her daughter and son.

THAT JUNKET.

It is very interesting to note what the attitude of officialdom is toward the public these days, as it shows in what utter contempt the people's rights and opinions are held by far too many of our public officials.

The latest example is Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board who has invited 600 of his special friends to take a junket trip down to Cuba and return on the Leviathian and at public expense.

Someone has figured it out that this trip will cost the people over $500,000 for Mr. Lasket and his 600 friends to take a pleasure jaunt down to Cuba and he is going ahead with his plans in utter contempt for the rights of the people or their opinion, and further, we have not seen it recorded where Pres. Harding or any other man in high authority except a few Congressmen have taken any exception to this junket.

Of course, it costs but little per capita, but that is not the point. It is utter contempt for the people that the higher-ups show that is so significant. Have they lost contact with what the people are thinking and saying, or do they believe that the people have no rights at all left.

It is this same contmpt that the coal barons show is running the price of keeping warm up so high that many a poor person will either get help from the town or freeze this winter. Same with the sugar gougers who have manipulated the market to do the people out of several millions more.

How does this compare with the Americanism of Washington who starved and froze with his ragged army to gain our independance or with Jefferson who rode his horse to inauguration and tied it himself to a fence post while he walked in to to take the high office, or with the simplicity of the great Lincoln or even with our own Teddy who made the coal barons jump sidewise when they attempted to gouge the public during his administration.

Is there any danger in this recent contempt for public rights or should we accept it as just a little playful antic of the crowd of millionairs who now seem to control affairs in our gvernment.

There is just one American way to correct it. Vote for someone to go to Congress who don't spend his time playing follow the leader while in Congress and taking junketing trips to Alaska when on his vacation. If such please you then you have no kick coming when Mr. Lasker takes 600 of his friends to Cuba or the coal barons shoot the price of coal up to $27 per ton or sugar goes to 20 cents per pound. And why stop here, if the people are satisfied with all this why should the gougers stop with anything?

It's up to you Mr. and Mrs. American Citizen to use your head and try to eliminate this un-American danger with the ballot and if that can't be done then we are in genuine danger. The next few years will bring matters to a show-down is our earnest belief and we hope it will be by the people waking up and kicking out of office every man who does not measure up to his full duties as a representative of the PLAIN PEOPLE. What do you say?

OBITUARY.

Eugene Ledrue Burdett was born in Macon, Michigan, August 6, 1850 and was the last surviving one of the four children of Dr. Geo. and Katherine Burdett. His brothers, Lineous and James and sister Adelaide having preceded him into the great beyond.

The greater portion of his life was spent among the scenes of his childhood where through social and business relations he was esteemed and loved by hosts of friends and relatives.

He was united in marriage to Florida N. Burgess, March 17, 1876 and for [illegible] years resided in their home in Macon, enjoying and loving the companionship of their church home as well. Then together with their son Ernest they moved to Ann Arbor and one year later to their home in Tecumseh, where his wife passed away April 19, 1912, leaving the home rich in loving memories of the past, but lonely because of the loss of the dear one.

Eugene continued to live in the home in Tecumseh until a year ago when he went to live with his son and wife in Detroit where he so peacefully fell asleep on Monday, May 21, 1923 never to again awaken up on this earth of ours, but to live eternally in the light of the great beyond.

Funeral services were held at the Macon Reform Church on Thursday with interment at the Macon cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our Macon friends for their kindnesses during our recent bereavement also those who sang, and Rev. Kiskaddon for his kind words.

PAIR SHOULD BE PARTNERS

And Both Husband and Wife Ought to Be Permitted to Have Their Own Way at Times.

It is not so nearly true as it was years ago that men earn money and women spend it, but it is still considerably true. Men still have control of the chief agencies for wage-earning and earn most of the wages paid. Women have the spending of most of the money that is earned and brought home for the support of families. The chief end of man is still what the Westminster catechism says it is, but his next most important end is to satisfy women. Women are more contented when they have their own way a part of the time—so are men. Women's wishes should be dominant in certain departments of life, men's wishes in certain others; but there is no department of life in which women can afford to ignore the wishes of men, or men the wishes of women.

And so it is that in public as well as in private dealings between men and women persuasion works better than compulsion. Against exacting women men are instinctively on their guard. They usually avoid such women if they can. No men can afford to be driven by women into positions they do not approve of, and if they cannot run away they are likely to turn obstinate or worse. But most men are very open to persuasion, and if led around to look at a proposal from that point of view their objections to it may disappear.—Philadelphia Record.

RACING HORSES IN DESERT

Picturesque Scenes When Natives of Mesopotamia Gather for Their Favorite Sport.

Horseracing is a sport beloved by the natives of Mesopotamia. They swarm to the Basrah races, and the autumn meet of this Arab Epsom is a curious and diverting sight. A European innovation is the new brick grandstand with a substantial roof and benches spread with many-colored Persian rugs. Behind the grandstand are the wooden sheds roofed with matting to exclude the heat. Here the horses are stabled and here resort the trainers, stewards and the all-important "totalisator," with his hangers-on. The paddock is a patch of desert—like the course itself. Native gamblers also congregate around the sheds. They are shaggy and picturesque—at a distance. At close quarters they are indescribably dirty and ragged. They sit in circles in the dust, like a lot of dingy crows, heedless of the crowds surging around them as they make their game and choose their favorites for the race. The desert man is a reckless bidder, he stakes his all upon his favorite horse. In stoicism he resembles the American Indian, for whether he wins or loses his expression never changes.

Face Dangers to Deliver Mail.

In India the distribution of a great deal of mail matter is performed by runners. They are drawn largely from the lowest castes and least civilized races, and many of them are animists by religion. They are ready to face wild beasts and wandering criminals, but will go miles out of their way to avoid an evil spirit in a tree.

With them the mail bag is a kind of fetish, which must be protected at all costs. Dishonesty among them is very rare, and they are wonderfully true to their "salt," which seldom exceeds $5 a month. Not a year passes that does not take its toll of mail runners who lose their lives in the execution of their duty. It may be a tiger, a swollen river, an avalanche in the Himalayas, a gang of robbers. But the work goes on just the same—the mail must go through, whatever happens.

The Iliad Dramatic.

In Virgil's poetry a sense of the greatness of Rome and Italy is the leading motive of a passionate rhetoric, partly veiled by the "chosen delicacy" of his language. Dante and Milton are still more faithful exponents of the religion and politics of their time. But in Homer the interest is purely dramatic. There is no strong antipathy of race or religion; the war turns on no political event; the capture of Troy lies outside the range of the Iliad. Even the heroes are not the chief national heroes of Greece. The interest lies wholly (so far as we can see) in the picture of human action and feeling.—D. B. Munro.

Moist and Dry Air.

Dry air is slightly heavier than ordinary humid—not foggy air. The number of molecules in a given volume of air and the same volume of water in the form of invisible gas under the same conditions is the same. When such water molecules are introduced into the dry air a corresponding number of air molecules are displaced. The atomic weights of nitrogen, the principal ingredients of air, are greater than the atomic weight of water vapor. Therefore since a light substance replaces a heavier one the total weight is less. Foggy or smoky air is quite likely to be heavier than dry air.

Exercise and Change.

"So you've seen the doctor."

"Yes, and he ordered me to go up and down the front stairs for an hour in the forenoon and up and down the back stairs for an hour in the afternoon."

"Why the back stairs?"

"Oh, just for a change of climb it."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Silence Was Golden.

"Malachi," asked Mr. Casey, "can your wife cook as well as your mother did?"

"She cannot," replied Malachi, "but, my friend, I never mention it, for she can throw considerably better."—London Weekly Telegraph

GAVE HIM ODD NICKNAME

Oliver Morton Was Long Known Among Colleagues as the "Devil on Two Sticks."

"The Devil on Two Sticks" was a nickname given to Oliver P. Morton, American senator. For many years he was affected by a dangerous and probably incurable disease. He visited Paris for the best medical advice, and submitted to the moxa treatment. It relieved him considerably, and doubtless prolonged his life, but did not restore the paralyzed legs. He was compelled to use a walking-stick in each hand. In the ordinary course of debate in the senate for the last few years he generally read and spoke in a sitting posture, the courtesy of his brother senators admitting that position. When dealing with questions of national importance he spoke standing, supporting himself against his desk and on one of his canes, but sometimes against a standing support, consisting of an iron standard surmounted by a small wooden reading desk.

During the fierce partisan debate in the senate near the close of the Civil war, and especially while the reconstruction measures were being discussed, he was a stalwart and excessively pugnacious fighter on the Republican side, and earned the appellation of "The Devil on Two Sticks."

BETTER NOT REMOVE MOLE

No Matter What Process Is Employed, Operation Is Likely to Have Grave Results.

Birthmarks are due to an overgrowth of the blood vessels at one spot in the skin. There are two kinds, the raised and the flat. The raised is the easiest to handle. The "strawberry mark," as it is called, is a reddish raised spot, appearing in the forehead or between the eyes of a new baby. There are several treatments for this, of which the best is radium. It should be romoved soon after the appearance, as it leaves practicaly no scar while the child is still young. Any adult, however, with a strawberry mark which was not removed in infancy may safely undergo the same treatment with success.

Moles are really a form of birthmark and are due to an overgrowth of the pigment-forming cells of the skin. A mole is a potentially dangerous blemish. Many dermatologists use the electric needle, radium and freezing on moles, but all of these are dangerous because they may remove only the upper part and stimulate the rest to further growth This results in the most malignant form of cancer and invariably causes death.—The Delineator.

Sugar Trees.

It has been suggested that in all probability the bears were the first to locate and patronize trees that furnish sugar, the animals breaking down great branches to obtain the sweet material. The Indians were also in the secret that a rare kind of sugar might be had for the gathering from the Douglas fir in the dry belt of British Columbia and eastern part of the state of Washington.

The sugar output from this source varies. That it develops at all seems to be the result of atmospheric conditions. Firs growing on the northern and eastern slopes have proved to be the best sugar producers.

Certain qualities possessed by this tree sugar proclaim it a valuable article in chemistry and in medicine. It is hardly likely, however, that the white man will ever eat fir sugar to any extent, since the supply is limited, and every Douglas fir in the dry belt has more orders than it can fill.

Use of Blotting Paper.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, blotting paper is of early date, being mentioned under the date 1465. It was a coarse, gray, unsized paper, fragments of which have been found among the leaves of Fifteenth century accounts where it had been left after being used for blotting. Early in the Sixteenth century blotting paper must have been in ordinary use, for it is referred to in W. Horman's "Vulgaria" (dated 1519) as follows: "Blotting paper serveth to dry wet writing, lest there be made blots or burrs." The same authority states it is remarkable that, in spite of the comparatively early date of this invention, sand continued generally in use, and even at the present day continues in several countries in fairly common use as an ink absorbent. There appears to be no record as to who first used blotters.

Preferred the Cash.

Youngsters that come in contact with the public become most worldly wise. Johnny shined shoes and knew the ways of the world from intimate, and sometimes bitter experience. One day a prosperous-looking old gentleman stepped up into the shine stand. He eyed Johnny with a friendly interest.

"Young man, you look like a bright, intelligent young fellow," he remarked.

Johnny looked up at him unimpressed.

"Say, mister," he retorted, "I've had that line pulled on me before. What I want to know before we go any further, is this a cash shine or when I get through will you pat me on the head and tell me I'll be governor some day?"—Kansas City Star.

Polite Posterity.

"We must not forget that George Washington was the father of his country."

"True," replied Senator Sorghum. "But so many fathers get a whole lot of kind words and mighty little obedience."

Girl Attains Height at Fifteen.

A girl usually attains her full height at the age of fifteen, and her full weight at the age of twenty.

WEAR ALL CLOTHES LOOSE

Tight-Fitting Articles of Apparel Unknown Among the Eskimos—Their Boots Waterproof.

The Eskimo makes a point of wearing the loosest garments imaginable, and no tight-fitting underclothes. Authorities agree that it is largely because of this that the Eskimos are the hardiest race in the world. As babies they go unclothed, being carried about in hoods of their mother's furs.

The Eskimos' feet also receive great care. Their women are credited with making the only absolutely waterproof boot in existence. It is made of sealskin, without the fur, "tanned" and kept pliable by chewing. The parts are sewn together with deer sinews in a lockstitch which no other race seems to understand. Within this boot of "chewed" sealskin a deerskin sock is worn, the hair being next to the foot. Sock and boot come off together, and every night they are dried on a framework rigged above an igloo oil lamp which is kept burning constantly for this purpose and for the melting of snow for drinking water.

THINKS THIS CRUEL WORLD

Absolutely No Pleasing Everybody, According to Wail Made by the Elevator Man.

"It's a hard life," complained the elevator man, says a writer for the New York Sun. "Lots of kicks and never a friendly word. My orders are to wait until the car is full, but does that matter to most of 'em? It's 'Please start up; I'm in a hurry!' and all that. Even though I may have only two or three others in the car.

"And then, when the car's full and I try to close the door, it's 'Wait a minute. Room for one more?' When I tell 'em to take the next car they get peeved. And women are the worst of all."

The car was filled up. The operator closed the door. His hand was on the starting lever. A woman rushed up. "Room for one more?" she cried.

"Sorry, lady; full car!"

"Why, there is plenty of room!" she called back. "It's perfectly outrageous. I'll report—"

But by then the elevator had traveled out of hearing distance.

Who Is Fastest Typist?

Men are more rapid typists than women. Men are slower typists than women. Doctor J. McKeer Cattell, president of the Psychological corporation, believes that these apparently contradictory statements are true, although the question cannot be definitely determined until sufficiently large groups of men and women have been examined and compared.

But the typist of exceptional speed would be more likely to be a man, Dr. Cattell says, for it has been demonstrated that men are more variable than women. Men are more frequently color blind than women, but the great colorists have been men as are the great performers on the piano and violin. This difference extends to the lower animals. The male bird or mammal is more brightly colored and variously ornamented and armed than the female.

Sheet Fleeces Like Robes.

A wool market is held annually at Patseo, in the wilds of Tibet. The Tibetan owners of sheep barter the fleece of their flocks for Indian tea and rice and cotton goods. These sheep cannot live below 10,000 feet above sea level, and as their wool is in great demand the traders have to bring their commodities on pack ponies, mules and donkeys right up into the heart of the mountains.

About the middle of July the traders, both parties, converge onto a high valley some 13,000 feet above sea-level, and there pitch their respective camps. The Tibetan sheep obligingly carry their own wool to the shearing ground and emerge slim and shorn from a mass of fleece, which looks like buffalo robes. These fleeces are rolled into as small a compass as possible after being wound with tight ropes, and are baled onto the pack animals.

Designing the Great Seal.

Some time ago an account was given of how the great seal of the United States was designed. Franklin, Adams and Jefferson were appointed to select a device on a certain well-remembered day—July 4, 1776, no less, and there was much discussion regarding that important matter. Franklin wanted a design of Moses dividing the Red sea and submerging the hosts of Pharaoh, with the motto, "Rebellion against tyrants is obedience to God." Adams suggested Hercules and his club, while Jefferson preferred the guiding of the children of Israel. Afterward the making of the seal passed into other hands and it was not until June 20, 1782, that the great seal of America with the eagle as it is today was finally accepted.

America's Oldest Coal Mines.

The oldest coal mines in America are those in the bituminous fields near Richmond, Va. In 1760, anthracite coal was discovered in Rhode Island, and, two years later, settlers from Connecticut discovered anthracite in the Wyoming valley of Pennsylvania. The rich beds of the Schuylkill were discovered in 1770. Five years later the government of Pennsylvania floated coal down the Susquehanna to Harrisburg, then known as Harris Ferry, and hauled it by wagon to the arsenal at Carlisle for use in the manufacture of ammunition.

Ambition.

"I had to fire that young man. He was too ambitious."

"That so? Ambition is a good trait."

"I know, but he wanted to be general manager before he had made good as a clerk."

GOD STANDS FOR JUSTICE

Chinese Deity Is Highly Venerated for Mission Which It Is Supposed to Have.

A god, said to be 300 years old which has changed its place of residence on a number of occasions and still retains its original dignity and appearance, attracts the attention of persons who attend the sessions of the Mixed Court in Shanghai, China About twenty years ago the god was transferred to his present position from the Nanking Road temple. He is known as the Tu De Shun (the God of Earth) and is guarded by nine smaller images.

In the olden times the yamen runners took the place of the present day court officials and detectives. It was their duty to serve warrants and summonses as well as to arrest robbers, murderers and criminals Before they went out on their mission, they were sure to prostrate themselves before Tu De Shun and ask for his blessing and aid in securing success. Whenever they succeeded in their missions and returned to the yamen they offered their thanks.

Tu De Shun sits facing the courtrooms, because, it is said, he wishes to see justice properly meted out He will frown whenever there is an injustice done to anybody. Litigants make their offerings to the god and may be seen at various times asking Tu De Shun to give them the power to win the lawsuits in which they are involved. When a magistrate assumed office in the olden days he always prayed to this god for assistance before he dared take over the office.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

There is no question that an Optometrist can give a person to indicate whether he is or is not astigmatic. An examination of the eyes furnishes the only proof.

In many cases astigmatism exists to so slight a degree that the patient overcome it. That means that at the cost of an excessive expenditure of energy the patient by an automatic action of the muscles of the eyes succeeds in overcoming the astigmatism.

When the error is thus overcome the patient may see normally or better. He cannot know that he is astigmatic. But the Optometrist would detect the error, and the supplying of the proper glasses would relieve the muscles of the eyes from the necessity for overcoming it.

A VICTORY FOR AMERICAN MOTORISTS

The Crude Rubber Monopoly weakened when it came into contact with aroused public sentiment. The press of the country today reflects the determination of the American motorist that tire prices shall stay at a reasonable level—and that America must produce its own rubber.

Firestone

10%

EFFECTIVE JUNE 11

We announce a 10% reduction in tires and tubes effective June 11. The lowered cost of crude rubber and the special Firestone manufacturing and distribution advantages make this possible.

Firestone factories are organized on a basis of large volume and effective production. Costs are down but quality is at its peak. Stockholder workmen are daily building many thousands of Gum-Dipped Cords—the best tire Firestone ever produced and, we believe, the leader on the market today.

Firestone Cords took the first four places and eight of the ten money positions in the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, May 30th, without a single tire failure.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords have set new standards in mileage, traction, comfort and safety. Car owners have expressed their approval of the extra value in Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords by increasing their purchases 194% in the past six months.

We have replaced many expensive branches with warehouses. We now have 108 distributing points which are delivering Firestone tires to the consumer at the lowest cost in our history.

Simon Gould.

Simon Gould, aged 78, passed away Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, death resulting from injuries received the Friday before when he fell from a house where he had been shingling. Mr. Gould has always lived in this vicinity and was one of eleven children born to the late Thomas B. and Parmelia Gould. He married Miss Mary Donell of Macon in 1868. How Money Grows

Just the small sum of $1.00 deposited each year at compound interest for a period of 50 years, amounts to $307.75. That's how money grows.

Suppose a young man at 20 years of age decided to deposit only a dollar each year. At 70 he would have the above amount. Or, suppose he had managed to save and deposit $10.00 each year. At 70 he would have $3,077.50. Now suppose any young man could save more than that. Suppose he put $100 at compound interest each year. At 70 it would amount to $30,775.00. How many people at 70 have that much?

BIG CROWD SEES SHOW.

Tecumseh entertained a big crowd last Wednesday night at its regular Wednesday night street show.

Two acts of acrobats performed for the edification of the crowd and they did some real strenuous acting that showed the splendid physical form to which they are trained.

The Clinton Band furnished the music. Next Wednesday night the Ladies' Band will play both afternoon and evening and if they don't furnish a better grade of music than Clinton did, then we will buy the treats. The fact is our Ladies' Band is one of the best musical organizations in the field and every one of us is proud of this splendid organization which does so much for our town. Come and hear a regular band next Wednesday.

A big special program will also be featured.

TECUMSEH TRIMS PALMYRA.

Due to the effectiveness of Crittenden who pitched an air tight game for Tecumseh and the excellent support given him by the rest of the team, Tecumseh trimmed Palmyra last Sunday to the tune of 6 to [illegible].

This places Tecumseh in second place in the South Michigan League and we stand a good chance of topping the bunch if the boys keep up the good work which they seem likely to do.

Keep your eye on Tecumseh and boost for the home team. Lets bring home that pennant at the close of the season and have something to show for the good work done. Hit 'em out.

EDISON SAYS MOTION PICTURES WILL SUPPLANT BOOKS.

Thos. A. Edison the electric wizard says that 85% of all of our knowledge comes through the medium of vision. If this is true he argues that motion pictures will soon supplant school books in a large part for educational purposes.

Schools everywhere are making greater use of the film for educational work and at our theatre next Sunday and Monday one of the biggest films of the season will be shown showing wild animal life in the heart of Africa.

This is a good film for the kiddies and old folks to see as it shows animal life right at home in the jungles and one can learn more from this than by studying about them all winter.

UNION SERVICE AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

A union service was held at the Baptist Church Sunday evening. Previous to the sermon by Rev. Henry A. Buell, F. C. Dickinson sang a vocal solo, "Repent Ye."

Rev. Buell took as his text, Ezekiel 18:31 and gave an excellent sermon on how to obtain a new heart. The Children of Israel, God's chosen people needed special messages by special messengers at certain periods of their wanderings and Ezekiel was one of these messengers. The Israelites were worshiping false gods and were in a bad moral state and this prophet came telling them to repent, that their God was merciful and just. The individual makes the nation so the gospel message is to the individual.

The first requirement in obtaining a new heart is to realize the need, and next to meet the conditions which are laid down. Many do not realize their need because of the indifference that is all around us.

There is a laxity in law enforcement these days. It is up to the people to do their duty at the polls and to insist on the laws being enforced, Christian people must take a stand.

We are each one destined for heaven, but since we are free moral agents, we choose our own destiny. God is our father and we should love Him as such, but can only know Him as such through Jesus Christ.

If we want to enjoy the hereafter, we must live here with God's smile upon us and make our lives a blessing to the world.

DON'T DRIVE THROUGH FUNERAL PROCESSIONS.

Since the advent of the auto and fast driving is the rule rather than the exception, some people have forgotten the great disrespect it is to drive through a funeral procession.

And besides there is an ordinance against it with a heavy penalty attached so be careful and show the greatest respect for those who have passed beyond.

Respect and solemn courtesy for the last rites of our beloved ones should be our first thought and we are sure that everyone will do his part to see that this is always maintained.

SAILS JULY 4th FOR TRIP TO EUROPE.

Robert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore will sail on July 4th from New York for a several months trip throughout the Europeon continent. He will be accompanied by several of his fraternity brothers of the U. of M. and they have planned their own itinerary expecting a most pleasant and instructive trip.

GIVES FINE MUSICALE.

The Baptist Young People gave a fine entertainment at the church Friday evening, consisting of motion pictures and a musical program. The pictures were splendid and each musical number was well rendered.

The program was as follows:

Selection by the Sunday School Orchestra.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Billings.
Pictures of Yellow Stone Park.
Vocal solo—Miss Mina Lamkin.
Vocal solo—Miss Helen Sheldon.
Vocal solo—Miss Charlotte Lamkin.
Pictures, "Thirsty Fibre."
Vocal solo—Mrs. S. Wyman.
Pictures, "Adventures of Kennan Sharpe."

TRAP SHOOT TODAY.

Your Friend--The Dollar

A dollar is about our best friend, at least most of us think so at some time or other during our lives, but the way some people throw their dollars, you'd think they were deadly poison.

Today, everything is bright and rosy—we're young, with lots of ambition and energy, but what about tomorrow?

Will you be one great army of dependents in your old age? You need not be if you will use a little bit of discretion and judgement now. Save a little every week. You will appreciate it more later than you do now.

WEDNESDAY SHOW DREW BIG CROWD.

A big crowd was in town Wednesday to see the free show and they certainly enjoyed it judging by the vigorous applause they rendered.

The Upside Down Stanleys were the best acrobatic performers that ever appeared here and their stunts were so cleverly done and with such splendid skill that they drew generous applause. Their balancing and contortions were amazing and showed what training will do for a performer.

The VerVillon Duo of colored folks was also good as was the great Waldo who entertained the people with his clever work.

The Ladies' Band were at their best and rendered charming music both afternoon and evening. They were vigorously applauded for their splendid work and their contribution to the day's entertainment was thoroughly appreciated by everyone. The T. L. B. certainly deserve great credit for their splendid work and they get it from all well meaning people. They are the pride of Tecumseh.

Next week we will have a specialty musical act, an aerial wire act and a special performance in acrobatic stunts beside the usual musical numbers. This will be one of the best shows of the season so don't fail to see it.

HOME FOLKS MAKING GOOD.

Tecumseh has reason to feel highly honored by its representation in the graduating class at Ann Arbor, Monday. The exercises were held in the open for the first time, and there were fifteen thousand people present and about 2000 graduates.

Miss Ella McNeil, daughter of Mrs. Helen McNeil, received two degrees. The Bachelor of Science degree was received with distinction, which indicates extra high grades during the four years work, and she was the highest of five honor students in the school of nurses. These honors are given for three points, grades, efficiency and work and personal character. Miss McNeil is highly honored because she is the first graduate from the school to receive this and was the only such student to march with cap and gown.

Robert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore, received the A. B. degree and the business administration diploma.

Joseph Satterthwaite, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Satterthwaite, received a diploma from the literary department with very high grades.

Horace Gry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jhn Gray, graduates from the chemical department.

Harley VanVleet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jared VanVleet was also a member of the graduating class at Ann Arbor, receiving a diploma from the Chemical Engineering department.

BUSINESS IS GROWING FAST.

The Tecumseh Butter Co. is certainly growing fast these days and much to the surprise of many people be it known that they now have 25 people on their pay roll which means a lot to Tecumseh.

Their business has increased 100% over 1922 and is growing at a lively rate all the time. That is a mighty good thing for this town also. Already plans are being prepared for an enlargement of the plant to take care of the business certain to come during 1924. All this means money spent right here in Tecumseh which we all get a share of. That means boosting Tecumseh we say.

The ice cream and butter made at this factory should be used extensively by the home folks as in that manner we help ourselves to a still larger industry employing still more people with a still bigger pay roll which helps materially to build up our home town. Let the good work go on and everybody boost for home town products.

LIVE WIRE CLASS ENTERTAINED.

The "Live Wire Class" of the Presbyterian Sunday School and teacher Mrs. Hobart Mitchell were entertained by the Misses Jennie and Grace Gillespie at their home on North Pearl street at an all day meeting Tuesday.

At noon a pot luck dinner was served on the lawn, fifteen members being seated at the table. A social time was enjoyed during the afternoon.

During the business session it was decided to hold on ice cream social at the country home of Mrs. Raynor Benedict, July 10th. The class voted the Gillespies royal entertainers.

PRICE—HOGAL.

Miss Lucile Price, a sister of Mrs. F. H. Guy of this city, was married to Mr. Fred Hogal last Tuesday night by the Rev. Henry Buell. Both parties are from Pontiac.

The bride was dressed in a charming dress of white satin trimmed with spanish lace and the groom was in the conventional black. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy.

The groom is an employee at the Pontiac post office and the bride is very popular in her home town. After a short trip they will be at home at Pontiac.

NOTICE.

I will be in my office on Saturday, June 30th at 10 a. m.

BOYS OF '61 REUNITE.

One of the most interesting reunions ever held occured Wednesday when the boys of the old 4th Mich. Infantry a famous regiment that was recruited in the southern tier of counties and went out 1025 strong again met for their annual reunion.

Of this 1025 men who answered the call, only 99 are now alive and of this number 22 registered in for the reunion here Wednesday. Although their step is fast weakening and their eyes are dim with years, the boys were young again and the hearty laughs that were heard reminded that these hardy fellows were young at heart if gray with the snow of many winters.

The town was beautifully decorated in their honor and every means was taken to provide for their entertainment and comfort which shows that we have not forgotten through these many years.

A business session was held in the morning and the following officers were elected:

President—Chas. Hartson of Eaton Rapids.

1st Vice President—J. L. Dillon of Hudson.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Madgley of Hillsdale.

In the afternoon the following program was given:

Invocation—Rev. Marsh.
Violin solo—Mrs. A. [illegible] Boyce.
Address of Welcome—J. D. Shull
Response— H. C. Daniels.
Remarks—G. J. [illegible]

The Tecumseh T. [illegible] A. served a most delicious dinner and everyone enjoyed the day. In the registration it was noted that there were two men 87 years old and one man 77 years which is indeed a remarkable record.

Those who registered were: H. J. Breuningstall of Petersburg; W. B. Lindenbower of Medina; J. A. Dillon of Hudson; W. H. Allen of Grand Rapids; H. D. Bryan of Hillsdale; W. R. Fuller of Napoleon; A. L. Morseman of Tipton; John Rentz of Syracuse; A. H. Boies, of Hudson; G. W. Corser of Adrian; Geo. Brown of Battle Creek; B. E. Westfall of Hudson; S. W. Sadler of Owosso; Stephen H. Aldrich of Grand Rapids; Erastus Walters of Elsie; Fred Alchin of Dundee; David Fox of Coldwater; J. Hartson of Eaton Rapids; J. F. Gilmore of Ridgeway, and H. C. Daniels and Henry Bissell of Tecumseh.

JOLLY SIXTEEN ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Willis Schreder and Mrs. Eugene Service entertained the Jolly Sixteen club at the home of the former Thursday evening. A delicious dinner was served, Mrs. Russell Thurlby catering.

The usual number of games of progressive pedro were played during the evening, Mrs. Wm. Barrett and Mrs. John McIntyre holding the highest scores and Mrs. Grant Schreder received the consolation.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Ridgeway will again celebrate the Fourth with a big program of races, stunts and doings that will entertain the people in regular old Fourth style.

Music and fireworks will add to the day's entertainment and everything is being prepared to give the people a gala day that will long be remembered. Better go.

TAKES OVERLAND AGENCY.

Our people will be interested to know that G. S. Kennedy, son of Art Kennedy, has taken the agency for the Overland and Willys-Knight cars and [illegible] these famous make of cars will again be represented in Tecumseh.

Mr. Kennedy has been in the weather bureau working for your Uncle Sam for the past nine years and he is a young man of keen ability who will serve the people with utmost care in his new line of work.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found his announcement and the people will be glad to know another old home town boy is again with us and in a business that helps build up the town.

ONLY SEVENTEEN LEFT.

A copy of the New York World just received states that the reunion at West Point this year was a great success and mentions that but seventeen men are now living who graduated just fifty years ago.

Five of these were present at the reunion and this was the first time in fifty years that the five had been together since their graduation. Among the five is our own Col. Albert S. Cummins who went back to celebrate his fiftieth anniversary of graduation from this famous school.

MILAN HERE SUNDAY.

Milan and Tecumseh are a tie for second place in the South Michigan League and as they plan on taking this game from Tecumseh it will be a hot one from every angle as we plan that Tecumseh will put this game on our tally sheet and thus give us second place for sure.

Game is called at 3 p. m. at the Park and every loyal rooter for the home town team should be right on hand with his rooting apparatue all oiled up so that he can give the home team the support they deserve. Come on lets have this game for sure.

OPENS NEW ICE CREAM PARLOR.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dickinson, popular young people of this city have just opened a new ice cream and soft drink parlor in the store formerly occupied by Coller's Music Store on E. Chicago St.

They will carry a full line of confections and serve refreshing soft drinks, ice cream sodas, etc. These young people are both well known here and they will serve their patrons the very best that it is possible to obtain in the lines they carry.

The store has been thoroughly overhauled and redecorated so that it makes a very fine appearance and everything has been put in the most sanitary condition that modern skill can make it.

Their friends will surely give them generous patronage and receive splendid service in return. Sam Sisson will be the clerk and Sammy knows how to cater to the Queen's taste.

WILSON—BETZ.

Miss Edna Betz of Blissfield and Amos D. Wilson were united in marriage by Rev. Edward Escolme Thursday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock. They were attended by a sister of the bride, Miss Betz and Russell Comfort.

The bride wore a beautiful white crepe de chene gown with hat to match and the bridesmaid was dressed in gray. After the ceremony they returned to Blissfield where a reception was given at the home of the brides' parents.

[illegible] wedding dinner was served to about one hundred and fifty guests among whom was the groom's class of the Friends church. The tables were prettily decorated in a pink and white color scheme, large baskets of cut flowers centering each table.

The guests visited the beautiful new home they have ready to live in and left plenty of rice scattered about to remember their visit by. Many beautiful gifts were received from their many friends and relatives.

After the cigars and candy were passed, ice cream and the large brides' cake were served and much merriment was caused by the favors it contained.

Amos Wilson is a Tecumseh boy, the son of John G. Wilson and has a host of friends who extend their best wishes to him. He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and served at the Naval Base in Virginia during the World War. For the past two years he has been an employee at the post office in Blissfield.

The bride has been employed at the telephone office in Blissfield but has been to Tecumseh many times and has many friends here.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY MEETING.

Mrs. O. B. Finch entertained the Baptist Missionary Society at her home on South Oneida street Thursday. There was an attendance of about thirty-five and a potluck dinner was served at noon.

The subject of the lesson was "The Reformation of India" and reports were given by Mrs. Ousterhout, Mrs. Ed. Hoag, Mrs. Jay Morse, Mrs. Floyd Bryan and Mrs. Lillian Owen. Many interesting points were brought up and discussed. A social time was then enjoyed.

J. M. Mulvandy is driving a new Studebaker Coach.

F. & A. M. INITIATES FIVE CANDIDATES.

At a regular communication of Tecumseh Lodge, F. & A. M., held last Friday afternoon and evening, five candidates were raised to the sublime degree of a M. M.

About 100 brothers were present and at six-thirty a bounteous dinner was served in the lodge dining room. The work was most beautifully exemplified and the newly made brothers were made royally welcome into the lodge.

The candidates were Earl Haughen, Wm. E. Swick, Everett Collins, Elmer Hintz and George E. Meade.

FORD CAR STOLEN.

Last Friday night thieves picked the lock on the garage of John Gregg who lives on North Pearl street and stole his Ford Car. The car was new last year and the loss is keenly felt.

At this time no trace has been found of the car. It is evident that a band of auto thieves is operating in this town and it is high time that vigorous action is taken to apprehend them and see that they get a stiff penalty.

A few more shot guns and buck shot well sprinkled through the aforesaid thieves would save the county expense and prove quite effective in detering others from adopting such tactics.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. J. H. Smith concluded a series of parties last Thursday with a one o'clock bridge luncheon of pretty appointments at her home on North Union Street.

The decorations included great baskets of peonies, roses, syringa and other garden flowers most artistically arranged. The guests were seated at the small tables, centered with crystal baskets of dainty flowers. The place cards were unusual each containing a tiny playing card at which the guests later found their places at the bridge tables.

Eight tables were filled for the games at the close of which Mrs. R. N. Lowe was awarded the high honors.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Eleanor Cotton and Mrs. Walter Cotton of Clinton; Mrs. Sumner Cotton of Saline; Mrs. Henry Wing of Adrian; and Mrs. James McCann of Detroit.

GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Mrs. Jennie Hodges was given a pleasant surprise by the Royal Neighbors at her home on Maiden Lane Thursday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary.

The ladies brought well filled baskets and a bountiful potluck supper was served on the lawn to thirty friends. A social time was enjoyed during the evening. The hostess was presented with a ruby ring.

WHY THE HOME TOWN?

Who keeps your schools the best in the state? The home town taxpayer. Who keeps your churches running to throw their mantle of good influence over the community? The home town folks.

Who provides a sanitary sewer system to keep us healthy and provide us with necessary conveniences? The home town taxpayer. Who supplies us with pure drinking water delivered right to our homes and offices? The home town taxpayer.

Who lights our streets and alleys for safety and convenience? The home town taxpayer. Who provides us with apparatus to fight fires? The home town tax payer.

Who provides every civic necessity and luxury we so much enjoy? The home town taxpayer. In fact the renter is a taxpayer indirectly and everyone of us helps make this a fine community in which to live and work. That is the total of life here so we should all work and pull together for community good. Selfishness and greed have no place in community life. We all must live and let live. That's good doctrine and when the whole community does it we sure have a splendid home town.

We need the farmer urgently. In fact he is the biggest industry we have, and the farmer needs us just as much. He needs a good market for his crops and we sure have it here in Tecumseh. He rates the worth of his farm largely upon its close proximity to a GOOD TOWN. He sends his children to our good schools at less than it costs the town people per capita to educate their own children in their own schools.

In fact, the farmer is a part of our GOOD TOWN and he should be just as interested in helping to make it a good town as the people who live in the town. We say again we must all pull together. We must put away selfishness and greed and work for the good of the town. That does not mean we must lose our individual business. Not at all just be a booster for the home town while working at our usual avocations and it will react to help each one of us individually to make our own business better. It is just the ONLY WAY to boost our own business.

One of the best ways to boost is to keep the home town dollar right at home. When it is spent at home it stays at home and rolls around the circle making everyone prosperous. And when it is sent away from town it very seldom returns but rolls around some other community making them prosperous in the place of us.

What say? Lets all be home boosters. It makes life worth more and makes us love the home town better, and it makes the knocker stand out more clearly so that everyone can see him and know him as he is. Of course we can't have 100% home town boosters but we can come so close that the home town knocker is a very miserable individual as he should be and he soon sees his selfishness is putting him out of business instead of bringing him more trade.

Boost the home town by trading at home and saying good things for every industry, individual and concern in it that deserves a boost. Bury the home town knocker face down so the more he wiggles the deeper he will go, is a doctrine that stands the test and makes the home town the best place on earth. Thats worth while.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

Did you ever notice how it tickles some folks to throw it into the other fellow sled length but how unearthly they squeal when the other fellow returns it with interest? Its a poor rule that is not double acting with a nasty rebound and its usually that way.

Here's to Al Lasker and his crowd of jolly good fellows he has invited to take a million dollar joy ride down to Cuba and back at the taxpayers expense. Wish we were able to take a ride on our boat but it takes all us poor taxpayers can scrape up to pay for Al's trip so guess we will have to keep on working during the hot spell.

Someone please tell us what our state coal commission is doing for the poor fellow these days? Remember when Groesbeck rushed a special session of the legislature together to create one at an expense of $60.000. Oh, well, what was expected from them anyway. Guess we must be a knocker to mention such perfectly legit things when there are so many hungry politicians who won't work hanging around and the poor fellows might get hungry if we didn't take care of them, so it must be o. k.

Chairman Wadleigh of the U. S. Coal Commission warns the common people to fill their bins as coal will be no cheaper. Wonder if he gets anything for his trouble? Wad also says that voluminous constructive recommendations will be made to Congress after while which it is hoped in several years will enable people to get relief. Probably Congress will take several more years to investigate after which the common poeple will be where it it so warm they won't need any coal. Yeh-uh these are great times for the gouger.

The Democrats don't want Ford and the Republicans can't take Ford because Warren is in the saddle but the people want Ford because they know he does things and the gougers and grafters can't handle him. Wall Street is in the throes of the shakes as the poll shows the people are 75% for Ford. The politicians are sitting up nights to head him off and the billionairs are losing sleep because of what might happen to them if he should get in. BUT the people don't rule now and unless they wake up mighty fast Ford will not be given a chance to get on any ticket for if he does you can dog my cat if he isn't elected by the biggest flood of ballots ever cast for any human being and then the old constitution as she was writ will again be put in force. Joy what a day should it happen.

Logan St., Tecumseh, Mich, says "Whenever I find my kidneys are out of order, or my back gets to aching, I go to Wright & Son's Drug Store and get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and it doesn't take them long to cure me. I suffered a lot with my back. I could hardly get through with my housework when these attacks came on and my kidneys didn't act as they should. I always checked the trouble, however, by using Doan's and I have no hesitation in recommending them."

The Man Loved by Two Women

By MYRA CURTIS LANE

After Dolly learned about the other woman she showed no change in her attitude toward her husband. Jim and she had been estranged for years, and they continued estranged.

Nevertheless, it rankled, eating into her very heart and soul. She would lie awake in her room at night with clenched fists, hating, hating—not Jim, but Alice.

She wondered what Alice was like. Because she herself was tall and dark, she pictured a slim little blonde person as the woman who had stolen the remnants of her husband's love from her.

And Jim never suspected that she knew, for Dolly never said a word.

Besides, he was all wrapped up in Alice—had been for years. Little by little, with grim persistence, Dolly learned little details about her. For instance, in the beginning there was that letter that she had found in Jim's old suit. Then there was the address—she found that out by [illegible] memorandum card. And Alice liked chocolates—she learned that when the bill was sent to their house instead of to Jim's office.

Dolly sent the bill back to the candy store, and it went to Jim's office, she supposed. Jim never knew.

And Dolly never said a word.

But her heart was burning in her, and she had never known before what it meant to hate so bitterly.

Some day, before she died, she would come face to face with Alice.

But it was Jim who died. He fell ill of pneumonia and died five days later, Dolly sitting beside him holding his hand and kissing his forehead. And with Jim's death something of her former love for him awakened in her again.

It was some time since Jim had been to see Alice. He had been kinder to her, too, of late. She wondered whether he were growing tired of Alice—after all those years.

A letter came from her for Jim the day after he died. Dolly put it away; she could not bring herself to open it. And she rejoiced in her grim fashion that Alice did not share her knowledge that Jim was dead.

But as the letters began to come more and more often—they were forwarded to Jim's office—Dolly began to be troubled. She supposed she would have to let the woman know. She could not leave her in ignorance forever. It was—she swallowed hard—it was fair to Jim.

She went to see her, and found her exactly as she had supposed—one of those slim little blondes that steal men's hearts away. Alice lived in an apartment in a middle-class hotel. Dolly wondered whether Jim paid for it; but she never found that out.

Alice rose to receive her. Her eyebrows were a little elevated; she was trying to put herself on the aggressive.

"My hubsand isn't coming to see you any more," said Dolly.

"Indeed?"

"No. You see, he's dead."

The instant she had said it she regretted it, for Alice took the news as if she were stunned. She dropped in a heap of lace and muslin on the lounge in her boudoir. Dolly stood beside her, at first triumphant, then pitying.

Alice raised her tear-stained eyes—Dolly had never shed a tear when her husband died. "Tell me about it," she sobbed.

So Dolly told her. She even told her to wrest the last drop of bitterness from her heart, that Jim had spoken her name three times before he died, while he was unconscious.

"I don't suppose you know I've known about this for years?"

"Listen to me!" Alice had risen and was confronting her. "Jim loved you more than me!"

"What!"

"It's always the way. Didn't you know? They always go back to the wife in the end. Your husband and I parted forever four days before he was taken ill. [illegible] when he didn't answer my letters that he meant it. And he did mean it. You see, I loved him, always loved him, never loved anyone but him. And he loved you more than me, deep down in his heart, although he hardly knew it himself."

And she burst into bitter tears. And with those all Dolly's hate and hardness seemed to dissolve. Gently she took Alice in her arms.

"We both loved him," she said softly.

DODGE BROTHERS
TOURING CAR

If there is one word which will sum up the average owner's impression of Dodge Brothers Touring Car, that word is dependable.

If there is a word to express the quality which Dodge Brothers have striven, above all else, to build into the Touring Car, it is —again—dependable.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that the word dependable has come to be definitely associated, the nation over, with Dodge Brothers Touring Car—and the other vehicles bearing their name.

Nor have Dodge Brothers built this enviable reputation through advertising. They have built motor cars, so dependable in fact that the word has presented itself automatically to the public mind.

KELLASTONE
IMPERISHABLE STUCCO

Kellastone is the original all mineral magnesite stucco. It binds the structural frame in one seamless weather-tight stone wall. Cool in summer, warm in winter, reduces coal bills, paint bills and upkeep costs—won't crack under ordinary settling strains like common stucco.

Make sure you get genuine Kellastone. Remember that all magnesite stucco is not Kellastone. There many imitations. Play safe by looking for the name "Kellastone" on every sack. Come in and see our exhibits or send for literature.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

The benefit to the patient when astigmatism is corrected with glasses comes from the conservation of the energy required to overcome the error. While headaches are a common result of the astigmatism, many other complaints arise as a result of it.

Thousands of patients who have reached middle life and who consult the Optometrist for a correction of their presbyopia or old sight, learn for the first time that they are astigmatic. If they had submitted to an examination many years before the error would have been detected and corrected much to their advantage.

THEY DO IT RIGHT.

It is very significant of good intentions to note how carefully motorists park their cars these days in accordance with the lines painted on the pavement.

We have not noticed a single violation of the parking rules since the lines were drawn and it sure gives 50% more room for parking purposes besides doing away with many tangles due to careless parking heretofore.

Just give the motorists a fair chance and then insist on strict obedience to the rules and all is well. Its a good sign of right intentions on the part of everyone. Good for the Mayor who ordered it and many thanks to Bill Coller who painted the lines.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS.

Antidote for Ivy or Oak Poison

Also for Eczema and Such Skin Troubles and You Get Results In Two to Three Days

Whitmarsh Blood Elixir drives out the poison of ivy, oak or sumach, clears the skin, acts as a specific or antidote for these poisons and does it in two to three days. And what is of more importance these poisons do not come back, they do not break out again as is usually the case, as the action of the remedy appears to utterly destroy the nature of the poison. This is remarkable as thousands suffer year in and year out, in fact it is held that the poison will return for seven years. It is generally conceded that much of the itching eczemas on hands and face are nothing but ivy or sumach poison. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is guaranteed to clear away these vegetable poisons in two to three days. Get a $1.00 bottle today and try it. If it fails take the bottle back and get your dollar. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is prepared only by Hart-Shaw-Miller Drug Co., Adrian, Mich., and if your druggist cannot supply you it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price.

PEOPLES STATE SAVINGS BANK SAFETY STRENGTH SERVICE BRITTON, MICH.

How Money Grows

Just the small sum of $1.00 deposited each year at compound interest for a period of 50 years, amounts to $307.75. That's how money grows.

Suppose a young man at 20 years of age decided to deposit only a dollar each year. At 70 he would have the above amount. Or, suppose he had managed to save and deposit $10.00 each year. At 70 he would have $3,077.50. Now suppose any young man could save more than that. Suppose he put $100 at compound interest each year. At 70 it would amount to $30,775.00. How many people at 70 have that much?

RAISES PERFECT BERRIES.

Geo. L. Wright who lives one mile south of Ridgeway surely raises the finest example of strawberries to be found. Last week he exhibited a box of Kellogg's Late that were as perfect a specimen of this popular berry as ever grew. The berries were not only very large but perfectly formed and of most excellent flavor. In fact they were simply luxurious and shows that scientific care will produce excellence in strawberries as well as in any other of natures products.

NOTICE.

If the date line after your name on the corner of this paper is labeled 1922, please send us your remittance today for another year if you want the paper as all papers going out of this county bearing a 1922 label will be stopped with this issue.

Those going in the county will be stopped soon unless paid for. We have large bills to meet and paper is four prices so that we cannot afford to stand it longer. We believe you will understand our position and remit if you want the paper. If not, please send what you owe and we will stop it at once. We have found only a very few on our big list who seem to want the paper free and they have been dropped and back dues collected so that we now have a 100 per cent paying list and we know you are as proud of that as we are. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williamson and family are at their cottage at Sank Lake.

METHODIST CHURCH BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED.

The Methodist church has undergone extensive repairs and complete redecoration making it one of the finest edifices in these parts.

Over $7,000 has been spent on the work and as it is about completed it shows an interior that is indeed most beautiful and one to be especially proud of.

The walls have been redecorated in tints that appeal to the eye in a most restful and artistic manner, new hard wood floors have been laid in the auditorium and new pews will seat the congregation in ease and comfort.

A new heating plant will make the building warm and comfortable in the coldest weather and everything has been done to make this church complete and a building wherein worship may be conducted with perfect adoration for the great Deity who has made it possible for man to live midst luxury and divine comfort. Great credit must be given our able and energetic Pastor, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, who has accomplished so much with scarcely an adverse comment and a loyalty of his people scarcely met with in these times.

It is a church home to be proud of and its members surely are proud of this splendid accomplishment.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the games.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Ellston of Toledo and Mrs. E. S. Coulson and Miss Lucile Garnar of DesMoines, Iowa.

A SAD DEATH.

Mrs. Grover Burg and infant daughter Barbara Jane died very suddenly at her home in Ann Arbor, Sunday evening, June 24th.

Mrs. Burg leaves a husband, parents and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

PLEASE

Get your ads ready for Monday next week as the Herald will be closed on the Fourth, Wednesday, and the paper will be issued on Thursday afternoon. Many thanks.

TELEGRAM RAISES RATES.

The Adrian Telegram has notified its advertisers that on July 1st the advertising rates will be increased about 13%. This puts the rates of once a week advertisers from 41 c per col. inch up to 45c per col. inch. Some rate we say for what you get.

Also when you buy the Telegram from the carrier boy you are paying just $7.80 per year, almost four times as much as you pay for the Herald which gives you five times as much Tecumseh news as the Telegram does.

No wonder Editor Perry and family are taking a trip to Europe while the rest of us stay at home and work. All right, maybe it appeals to the people if they don't realize what they are paying and what they get for their hard earned money.

The Herald will still stay at the same old rates and give its advertisers that same excellent service. We believe in low rates and plenty of space sold if it does take hard work to put it across. 90 per cent of our merchants appreciate it and do their part and we believe after while the necessity of being a home town booster instead of knocker will grab hold of the other 10 per cent and then we will all be pushing for better times instead of some riding with their feet dragging while the rest push the load.

Wonder what our folks would think if the Adrian merchants kept a paid solicitor on the streets here all the time soliciting business for Adrian? Wouldn't it make a commotion right soon? The Telegram keeps a paid solicitor here all the time in direct competition to the Herald and occasionally she gets plenty of assistance with no thought of cutting in on the home paper perhaps but it does and will finally injure business just as much as it does the Herald. How about it? Think it over.

CLASS ENJOY OUTING.

The girls of the class of '22 leave Sunday for Devils Lake where they will enjoy a week's outing at the Harris cottage. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. Clarence Alderdyce and Mrs. E. J. Haines.

The party will be composed of Frances Mominee, ClauDyne Newton, Euena Easlick, Arlene Gillespie, Dorothy Saums, Clara Wilson, Mildred Haines, Frances Alderdyce, Lavina Wallace, Marion Harrington, Gertrude Brooks, Bernice Lamkin, Juanita Goheen, Mabel Clark, Alice Whelan, Bertha Nortley and Wilma McKendry.

July 6th the boys of the class plan to be at the cottage and have a class reunion.

WEDNESDAY SHOW BEST YET

The street show given last Wednesday nght was one of the best ever seen here and we have had the best one obtainable from the vaudeville circuits.

The trapeeze performance by Garland and Smith was a thriller and brought forth strenuous applause. Joe Melvin as a juggler was one of the cleverest ever seen here and did some stunts that pleased th big audience immensely.

The rest of the performance especially the Ella Bard Trio was of exceptional merit and the big crowd gave its hearty approval by vigorous applause. Also, along came two bag pipers advertising and added a little spice to the program with their weird music.

A big crowd was out and everyone seemed to enjoy the affair immensely.

NOTICE.

I will be in my office on Saturday, June 30th at 10 a. m.

Dr. H. H. Hammel.

ROAD EAST OF TOWN WILL BE COMPLETED IN THREE WEEKS.

The last link in the road east of town will be completed in 3 weeks according to the Contractor and then the big mixer will be immediately moved into the city and the rest of street between Union and Adrian Sts. will be rushed to completion as the grading will have been completed and everything in readiness for laying the cement at a rapid rate.

At the present time because of the big crews put on by the D. T. & I R. R. to lay steel, it is hard to get help, and it is impossible to get all of the required kinds of gravel for both mixers at the same time so that it slowed up both jobs to keep two running and it was decided to operate the big one until the road east of town is completed and then rush the city job along.

From every angle it appears that this is a wise move and will result in better and faster work for both propositions than to keep two separate crews both handicapped by inability to get material and consequently losing time.

The contractor and the state men are co-operating to give the people a most excellent job of concrete work and when the road is finished it will certainly be as good as can possibly be laid.

SAND LAKE RESORT NOW IN FULL SWING.

Hundreds of people are now taking advantage of the Resort at Putnam's Hotel at Sand Lake, one of the prettiest spots in Michigan.

The hotel under the management of Carl Schleh who recently bought it is one of the most popular places for resorters in the state because it is one of most natural beauty and especially adapted for boating, bathing, fishing, dancing, ball games, athletic and acquatic sports and for special resort dinners.

The grounds are a natural bower of loveliness. They include a big shady grove where every advantage is offered for picnicers and those who love to wander neath the shade of the giant trees while the grounds are laid out into a beautiful park with flowers and shrubbery galore. Base ball grounds are near by while the dancing pavilion is right in the grove proper.

The hotel is on the east side of the lake and sets right at the edge of the water. This gives it all the western and nothern breezes and it sure is a cool place if ever there was one. The rooms are large and airy and the wide promenade porches on two sides gives the people the very finest and coolest place in which to while away the hours with the water playing a cool rythm on the shore right at their feet.

The lake is lined with cottages where thousands of people annually spend their vacations which makes it a social place of much interest and there is something doing there every minute. No lonesome ones ever found at this resort.

The hotel cuisine is one of the best to be found and one can get frog leg, fish or chicken dinners every day if they desire. It is certainly an ideal place in which to spend one's vacation and Manager Schleh sees to it that everyone of his guests are provided with every comfort and luxury for which this place is so justly celebrated. That's the reason why Sand Lake at Putnam's is known far and wide as a very popular resort..

Miss Ruth Reed left Monday for Detroit for a two weeks' vacation from her duties at the Lilley State Bank.

D. V. B. S. NOTES.

Last Friday the Daily Vacation Bible School held a picnic for all the children enrolled in the various classes. The smaller children had their picnic on the Presbyterian church lawn. The older classes went to a grove south of town. The teachers and ministers accompanied them. Miss McIntyre led the boys and girls in their games.

Tuesday was visitors' day, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the work of the school.

On Monday evening the Committee composed of representatives from all the churches met for consideration of business matters. The school is free to all children; however there is expense connected with such work, and within a few days a plan for raising the amount needed will be put into operation. Those who are familiar with the work of the D. V. B. S. are aware of its great value to the young people and to the town. Its object is to train for christian American citizenship.

OPEN AIR SERVICE.

The union service was held last Sunday evening on the Presbyterian church lawn. After the extreme heat of the day the fresh air and cool breezes were very refreshing. In the service Rev. Escolme offered the invocation, Rev. Buell read the scripture lesson, and Rev. Marsh offered prayer. Mr. W. S. Dickinson sang a solo. Rev. J. F. Kiskaddon gave the sermon using the text "And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come." Mark 4:26-29. The speaker emphasized the farmer's confidence in the soil and the seasons to produce a crop and his patience in awaiting maturity. The seed grows and the earth does bring forth a harvest. Those who sow the seed of truth and christian influence should have that same faith and hope that it too will produce a harvest of Christian life and service. The fact this seed does take root in the heart and does mature is a matter for the encouragement of all parents, teachers and ministers who engage in sowing such seeds. Many people make the mistake of expecting an immediate harvest and to see the results of their efforts at once. The growth of the kingdom of God, like that of the seed, is a gradual process. In this hope each one is encouraged to scatter the seed generously. We should never delay nor fail to do so because conditions seem unfavorable. The results often surpass our expectations, and the harvest will be greater than we had hoped. Thus the church has grown during the twenty centuries of its history and it will continue to do so.

NO SHOW NEXT WEDNESDAY.

There will be no street show next Wednesday, July 4th, and the two meat shops will be closed together with most of the grocery stores and all other stores as far as we are able to learn.

The good merchants of Tecumseh are entitled to a day off on the nation's birthday to help celebrate this great event and therefore there will be few if any stores open in Tecumseh.

Percy Bowen was a business caller in Detroit, Tuesday.

WHEELER-REMINGTON REUNION.

The annual Wheeler-Remington reunion was held Saturday, June 16th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gooding. About 45 were present, some being unable to be with us and we missed their smiling faces and joyous greetings.

The house was decorated with peonies, June roses and syringas and a bountiful pot luck dinner was served at noon. After dinner a short business meeting was held at which Mrs. Erwin Conklin and Mrs. Herbert Conklin volunteered to take charge of the reunion for 1924. The rest of the afternoon was spent in visiting and renewing family ties.

This reunion has been held every year for at least 83 years and how much longer we were unable to ascertain. It was held at first by James Wheeler and after his death was taken up by his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lenardo Remington. Of their children two were present, Mrs. Loraine Hunt and Mrs. Wesley Remington. The other two surviving children Mrs. Ella Temple of Detroit and Ransome Remington of Gardenia, California were unable to come. The oldest present was Peter Knight of Bridgewater who is ninety and little Virginia Anne Collins of Macon, six weeks old was the youngest. Mr. Knight has never missed a reunion this being his sixty-first.

The afternoon passed all too quickly and another pleasant memory was added to the memories of other happy reunions.

Miss Gladys Bailey was overcome by the heat at the Knitting Mill at Adrian, Friday, and was brought to her home here.

BRITTON CLUB GOING FINE.

The Britton Gun Club is going fine these days and a large number is on hand at every shoot. The boys are getting their eyes right on the targets if records count for anything.

Dr. Britton and Craig are shooting in fine style knocking out record counts at every shoot both at the local club and in state events. Others are coming along fine and the high scores indicate that Britton certainly has a live bunch that know how to handle a shot gun when the targets fly high and wide.

BETTER RECOGNIZE IT.

The plain unvarnished truth is that there must be greater efforts put forth by small towns to hold the trade that belongs there and which is the life of the town or lose it entirely.

This is due to the auto and the stone roads. The cities are alert to the fact that we are now closer to Toledo and Detroit by auto than the farmer used to be to us if he lived seven of eight miles in the country and had to come to town with a horse team.

The cities are doing their utmost to capitalize this and the other day we received a very nice letter from a house in Detroit saying that they had investigated us and had placed us on their list as entitled to credit we might desire. Gosh, this pleased us and it doubtless has pleased hundreds more. We very naturally want to try it out and show ourselves what excellent credit we have by going down and handing them our card and see if we really are on their list with credit to burn. See the result of the auto and good roads with alert city business men capitalizing it?

The little town of Clayton over here lost nearly half of its business houses because of the auto and stone roads. Other small towns are suffering and will soon be badly hurt but ARE THEY DOING ANYTHING?

Probably not. The small town seldom ever does do its best to boost itself. It usually has a motto like the high school graduate "Watch Us Grow" or "Nothing Like Us On Earth," and then they kid themselves into thinking this will prove effective in keeping business just pouring in while they let their stocks run down and fail to advertise so the public may know what they do have while the city papers are flooding every home in their territory with page after page of the biggest and most attractive ads possible to get up, while the stores back it up with personal letters saying your credit is good come on down and get what you want.

The result is that those whose credit is not good buy at home while the merchants family themselves are often the guiltiest ones in buying in the city while expecting the rest to buy of them.

Its a significant fact and must be acted upon with alacrity and energy that the small town merchant must do intense and active advertising among his own people or lose the trade to which he is entitled in this day of auto and stone roads. The cards are stacked against him and unless he sees the writing on the wall and gets busy, he will soon be too dead to do it. That is a fact deplorable as it may be and the sooner we recognize it the quicker we can head if off.

If the home merchant will act, he has the best chance in the world. No more excellent opportunity at such a low cost exists for advertising than the home town newspaper. It is read by every family in this trading territory and then kept and re-read from headline to foot rule because its all about the home folks. BUT merchants in some towns fail to recognize that this is the best and in fact, only way to fight back the invaders who are after our trade with result that towns like Clayton have gone by the boards because they have no paper to fight their battles. Deerfield sees the intense need of a paper and will do anything to get one.

Probably everyone who reads this will agree that its the truth, and most all our merchants are doing something to help hold the trade why not EVERY MERCHANT? Is it for a few to hold the trade while some play the leech and try to grab a share of what others bring to town? A good town is where everyone does his part and does it actively and cheerfully. Where everyone has a good word for every business and recognizes that the home town paper is the publicity end of the town and an important factor in it.

No town is ever better than its paper. Look around you and see. If you have a good paper that is giving the people all the home news, support it by good words and giving it the news ahead of any other paper. Do all you can for it instead of helping some paper published elsewhere that pays no taxes neither does a single thing for the town except take out of it all the money it can and put it in circulation in your competing town. Be wise and long sighted and don't fail to do the right thing by the home town paper. If you are a supporter of an out of town paper instead of your home town paper, you are a shining example of sending your money out of town for what you can better get at home and therefore a splendid example for those who wish to buy goods, to do the same thing. You are certainly not a town booster nor even a booster for your own business.

It takes but little wisdom to see what is fast coming upon us and is in fact already here, and if there is wisdom in the town it will show itself by acting with energy to attract through advertising and hold every bit of trade we can possibly command, and our own actions will either be openly and energetically on that side or we must be considered short sighted if not derelect in our duty to ourselves and our town. The small towns in Lenawee Co. which have a home paper should energetically support them instead of outside papers and unless they do, they will find that the cities will soon garner in the trade that has been theirs for many years. Which shall it be?

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

An error of vision is called an error of refraction by the Optometrist, because the eyes so afflicted are unable to properly refract the light entering them.

A far-sighted person may suffer because he sees too far, and strains his eyes in so doing.

A near-sighted person's distant vision is shortened, though in many cases he experiences no serious inconvenience therefrom.

An astigmatic person strains his eyes constantly for both near and far seeing.

In many cases these errors of vision are combined. In such cases the Optometrist prescribes a lense that corrects all the errors.

To be continued next Thursday. (adv)

POPLAR TREES AS DOWRY

Planted at Child's Birth, They Provide a "Dot" Demanded on Her Marriage.

In the southernmost part of Italy is the province of Calabria. One of the most charming of the customs here in Italy's toe is that relating to a girl's dowry. For, as in most European countries, a Calabrian girl has a slim chance of marriage unless she is the proud possessor of a "dot."

The Calabrians, to avoid such a tragedy as that of bringing up a daughter and not being able to endow her with a sufficient dowry to attract an eligible husband, make provision in her babyhood against such a misfortune. In some parts of Calabria, when a little girl is born, her father plants a row of poplar trees, which are hers. By the time she is seventeen years old the poplars are fine, large trees and ready to be hewn down. Then their wood is sold and the money is set aside for the daughter's dowry.

Calabria also is rich in historic interest. Scilla is one of the seaports. Across the straits of Messina is Sicily. It was here that the mythological monsters, Scylla and Charybdis, were supposed to menace mariners. Even the brave Ulysses was in never-ending fear of Scylla. It has always been filled with romance, and from this mountainous country come thrilling tales of highwaymen and brigands, for it was a favorite haunt for outlaws.

PLUTARCH'S RULE OF DIET

Philosopher Seems to Have Had the Right Idea Concerning the Satisfying of Appetite.

He that is hungry should eat necessary food and find it pleasant; but when he is freed from his common appetite, he ought not to raise up a fresh one. For as dancing was no unpleasant exercise to Socrates himself, so he that can make his meal of sweetmeats or a second course receives the less damage. But he that has taken already what may sufficiently satisfy his nature ought by all means avoid them. And concerning these things, indecorum and ambition are no less to be avoided than the love of pleasure and gluttony.

Therefore, when any rare or noble dish is before you, you will get more honor by refraining from it than partaking of it. Remember what Simonides said, that he never repented that he had held his tongue, but often that he had spoken; so we shall not repent that we have refused a good dish or drank water instead of Falernian, but the contrary. We are not only to commit no violence on nature; but when any of those things are offered to her, even if she has a desire for them, we ought oftentimes to direct the appetite to a more innocent and accustomed diet, that she may be used to it and acquainted with it.—Plutarch.

The Point That Counted.

Pat was a good husband and a good father and had taken care of his family—at times. He was well liked in his neighborhood, but occasionally he would go on a spree while his family got along as best they could.

When he died suddenly the neighbors were shocked and a kindly woman, chatting over the fence with Pat's wife, proceeded to comfort her by describing Pat's good points.

"He was such a man of principle," said the neighbor.

"And am I not the one to know it?" replied the bereaved woman. "Sure, and every Saturday night didn't he come home and place his pay envelope in front of me as regular as clockwork? Not a night did he miss all the time we were married. Of course, the pay envelope was always empty, but look at the principle of the thing!"—Chicago Daily News.

Words Wrongly Used.

The following are some words that are often wrongly used: "decided," for instance means "strong"; "decisive" means "final"; a decided opinion is quite different from a decisive opinion. "Each other" should never be used for "one another"; "guess" is loosely used for "suppose," "expect" or "intend," but such use is avoided by the best writers; "party" should never be used for "person"; "further" means "additional," "farther" refers to distance; "propose," meaning "to offer," should not be confused with "purpose," meaning "to intend"; "discover" is to find something which previously existed; "invent" is to produce something for the first time; "locate" is a vulgarism, when used for "settle"; "perception" means the inlet of all the materials of knowledge; "apperception" means the knowledge that one possesses these materials; a man with perception knows, a man with apperception knows that he knows.

Fired.

The head of a large shop, while passing through the packing-room, observed a boy lounging against a case of goods and whistling cheerily. The chief stopped and looked at him. "How much do you get a week?" he demanded. "Five dollars," came the brief retort. "Then here's a week's money, now clear out." The boy pocketed the money and departed. "How long has he been in our employ?" the chief inquired of the departmental manager. "Never, so far as I can remember," was the unexpected reply. "He has just brought me a note from another firm."—Chicago News.

His Experience.

"Have you ever been robbed?"

"Well, I've stopped at hotels and bought theater tickets in New York and had my car overhauled, but I've never actually had a highwayman put a gun to my head, if that's what you mean."

YOU DO IT TOO.

Tecumseh has excellent schools; churches, fine paving, the very best of city water, a good sewer system, splendid fire protection, capable efficient lawyers and doctors, the finest stores to be found, two strong banks and a good newspaper. Those are facts boiled down and it simply means Tecumseh is a mighty good town.

How many times have you said the same thing? Or do you say it about a few things and then quietly knock the rest? If everyone who lives in a community would do his part and say good things for every business in the town, it would be as catching as the measles and spread like wild fire.

Of course we haven't the best of everything, because the very best would not stay in a small town. The Herald is not the Chicago Tribune but IS one of the best if not the best country newspaper in these parts and if everyone did as much boosting for the town as the Herald does there would be a still better town here. We have excellent stores but not Chicago departments. We have as faithful and efficient doctors and lawyers as any town of many times our size and we should be mighty grateful for those who are ready to aid us at any time of day or night.

We have splendid mills, two excellent banks and about every luxury and comfort in civic affairs that any town could wish for. Do YOU say so every time you get a chance or do you turn up your nose when something is mentioned that don't happen to suit your particular fancy?

We don't suppose that the Herald suits everyone all the time. We don't want it too; for if it did it would stand for things that are not good for any town or community. It does stand for the best in everything and does its part faithfully and well and sometimes we think we should give a little more publicity to the individual knocker than we do just to convert him that boosting is much better for himself as well as for the community.

Say a good word for everyone and boost for every business and enterprise in the community if you want to live here and be a part of it. If not, spew out your piece, and then pack up and get out to a town where you can find better things is a good plan for those who must find fault with everything and everybody.

We are glad that the fault finder is so scarce in Tecumseh that John B. Smith couldn't locate him with his highly specialized adapation at locating hidden spots where evil might exist. Its a fine town we have and no mistakes.

Holiday Store.

I do not know whether I help my plane tree, but I do know that my plane tree helps me. . . . One glance at its gentle gestures opens up the vista and the vision of the great company of green angels far away. Somewhere is a paradise where the sky is not slashed and wounded by the sharp edges of roofs. I can see the little woods sleeping on the breast of the little hills. I can follow the flight of the old rooks as they come home at sunset. I can see the brown water sliding under the thirsty willows. I can watch the long, delicious shudder of the lake of corn as the wings of the wind caress it wistfully while it sleeps in the arms of the sunshine. . . .

One ought to hoard one's moods for the empty days when no moods come. After the retreat or vigil which a true holiday ought to be one ought to have a store of garnered emotions hidden in a hollow of the memory.—James Douglas.

Protecting Woodwork.

To prevent the woodwork behind a stove or range scorching, wash the wood with liquid asbestos paint, mixing the paint at home in this way: Three parts gumlac, four parts sodium borate, seven parts powdered asbestos, twenty parts water. Heat the water, add the gumlac and borate and when all have been dissolved stir in the asbestos. Half a dozen coats of this mixture, dried between the applications, are not too many, and will last indefinitely.

FAIR PREMIUMS REACH $100,000.

One hundred thousand dollars will be given away between August 31 and September 9 at Michigan's great $5,000,000 state fair in Detroit.

This big feature will be distributed among the raisers of stock and farm products who will show Michigan's best at the fair.

Early applications for entry blanks and other indications give promise that this year's exhibition will be the greatest ever held.

From the Ohio boundry on the south to the copper country of the north the signs of interest are so great that fair officials freely predict the smashing of records and unanimously declare that the farmers and city dwellers by turning out in great numbers will put the state's great exposition far in the lead of all others throughout the nation.

"We are convinced," said Secretary-Manager George W. Dickinson, "that we will be fairly overwhelmed with farm product and live stock exhibits. But the more the merrier. This is a state exposition and all concerned want the whole people of the state to feel that it belongs to them.

In addition to the agricultural exhibits there will, according to early plans, be horse racing, auto racing, midway shows worth over $100,000 and scores of other attractions that will make the Michigan State Fair this year the greatest show ever held in the country with the exception of the few big World Fairs.

"This is a chance for the people of Michigan to have the finest kind of a 10-day vacation," Mr. Dickinson said. "The fair is held at a time of the year when people can get away from work and at a time when the weather is ideal for real enjoyment. The big educational advantages and the chances for real sport makes the state's great show the best place on earth for father, mother and children.

"Half a million persons probably will visit the fair this year and plans are being made to make everyone of them comfortable."

Ivy Poison Returns Yearly

Most Eczemas and Skin Rash Are But the Annual Return of the Ivy Poison of Youth

Are you sure that those eczema rashes and scales or those red itching patches that come back to bother you are anything more than ivy poison that attacked you when young? In many sections where they use Whitmarsh Blood Elixir they pay no more attention to poison ivy, oak or sumach than to a rosebush as this remedy is a specific for those poisons. Its action is wonderful. In two or three days at the most, the itching is gone, the red spots are dried up, the poison has been driven from the system and it doesn't come back. It is the most remarkable blood remedy ever discovered and clears away eczema that no kind of ointment or other treatment could touch. It finds its way to the source and is certainly specific in its action. Get a $1.00 bottle today and try it. If it fails get your dollar back. Whitmarsh Blood Elixir is prepared only by Hart-Shaw-Miller-Drug Co., Adrian, Mich., and if your druggist cannot supply you it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price.

PLYMOUTH TWINE AGENCY

A Straight Tip

THERE is a real saving in the use of Plymouth Twine, to say nothing of the satisfaction, over the cheap kinds which do not have the necessary strength and uniformity, and which are invariably under measurement.

A recent comparison of a ball of

with that of another make which was made in the field last season showed that it would take 135 pounds of the cheap twine to bind the same amount of grain that 100 pounds of Plymouth Twine would tie. The cheap twine was not only greatly under measurement, but was decidedly inferior in quality and strength.

Better take no chances; place your order for Plymouth Twine with us and get full length and strength, which is guaranteed by the Plymouth Tag on each and every ball.

How Money Grows

Just the small sum of $1.00 deposited each year at compound interest for a period of 50 years, amounts to $307.75. That's how money grows.

Suppose a young man at 20 years of age decided to deposit only a dollar each year. At 70 he would have the above amount. Or, suppose he had managed to save and deposit $10.00 each year. At 70 he would have $3,077.50. Now suppose any young man could save more than that. Suppose he put $100 at compound interest each year. At 70 it would amount to $30,775.00. How many people at 70 have that much?

He was married to Alice Coryell in Oct. 1870 and to this union were born three children, Clayton, who departed this life in 1890, Bert of Utah and Mrs. Gertrude Birdsal of Albion, Mich., together with seven grandchildren and many friends. He was born and spent his entire life within one half mile of the present home. He has always lived an upright life and took great pains to see that all business transactions were carried out in a straight and honest manner. Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Yager of Oxford, Mich., a former minister here, officiated. Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Ernest Palmer furnished the music. The bearers were Charles Lowe, Richard Houseman, Ernest Palmer, Thomas Birdsall, Clayton Smith and Wendel Birdsall. The remains were laid to rest n Ridgeway cemetery. Among those from away attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foreman and Mrs. Charles Ray of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Alf Linn. Mrs. Clarence Exelby. Mrs. J. D. Martin and Dorothy. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cheever, Mrs. John Linn and son Vern, Mrs. Serena Gibson, Mrs. Walter Exelby of Britton: Mrs. King of Adrian: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gove of North Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Morse were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Sherriff.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lowe were down from Wamplers Lake the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Osburn and children in campany with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Osburn of Tecumseh spent Sunday in Ypsilanti with relatives.

Mr. Will Larkin has moved to Deerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Haag of Albion spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Nancy McCarbery.

Mrs. Ida Babcock, Mrs. Ernest Mills and Beatrice, Mrs. Clement Bowen and Ella Gene were Thursday and Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pocklington and attended the Strawberry Festival.

Mrs. Gordon Berry had the misfortune to scald her feet while canning strawberries, Monday.

WARING—MUNN.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized on Saturday morning, June 30th, at 10 o'clock in Adrian, when Miss LaMoyne Frances Munn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Munn, 120 Chestnut St. and Mr. Lester R. Waring, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Waring of Tecumseh, Mich. were united in marriage in their new home in the Bowen Apartments, on North Winter St. which Mr. Waring had just furnished, and where the Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, of Tecumseh, read the service. The bride was attractively gowned in sand colored arlite silk, wearing a corsage boquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. They were unattended and stood before a bank of green filled with June lillies. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the dining room where covers were laid for twenty persons, Mrs. Edward Kramer of Adrian and Miss Helen Terry of Lyons, Ohio, served.

Mr. Waring is a Tecumseh boy who is well known here and very popular among the younger set. He has a splendid voice and is in great demand at all occasions where musical numbers are given and he very graciously responds whenever needed. He has a good position with the Purity Ice Cream Co. at Adrian in which city the young couple will make their home with the very best wishes of a host of friends both here and in Adrian where the bride is very popular among the young people of that city. The Herald adds its congratulations and best wishes.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Munn and son Stanley of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Waring; Mr. J. Ira Rogers and Rev. Marsh of Tecumseh; Mrs. Mary Munn and Mr. Roy Munn of Crystal, Mich.; Mrs. Cora Terry and daughter Miss Helen Terry of Lyons, Ohio; Mr. Lee Terry, Tipton, Mich.; Mrs. S. J. Symonds and daughter, Mrs. Edward Kramer of Adrian and Mrs. M. J. Keller of Toledo, Ohio. The bride and groom left on an auto trip to Crystal Lake and other points in Grand Traverse Co. for a week.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

The engagement of Miss Ruby Reckner and Wilbur Werve of Wayne, Mich. was announced at a party at Reckner's Restaurant Friday evening.

Red rambler roses and white lillies and red and white lighted tapers in crystal holders carried out the color scheme and made the tables very attractive. A dainty two course dinner was served. At each place were nuts which when opened "broke the news."

After dinner the party went to the Reckner home on South Maiden Lane where music was enjoyed and a pleasant time spent in reminiscencing.

The guests were Miss Florence VanWinkle of Detroit, Katheryn Reed, Edna Taylor, Luella Lowry and Ruby Reckner.

School Meeting Is Next Monday

Duty Of Every Parent And Taxpayer To Be Present. Full Reports Will Be Given. Interesting Meeting Is Looked For. Come.

Next Monday night at 7:30 at the Library the annual school meeting will be held and it is urged that every parent and taxpayer come out and take part in this meeting.

It costs $45,000 per year to operate our schools and the future of over four hundred children depends upon this institution so it certainly behooves every good citizen to step forward and shoulder the responsibility that belongs to him and which he cannot shirk.

The future of our community and state depends on our schools which is recognized as the foundation of our government and this strenuously reminds us that we as citizens of the greatest government on earth must take an active part in all things that pertains to "carrying on" in this glorious work of keeping Old Glory flying high unsullied and unstained.

Good people the writer is but one among you and perhaps the smallest one at that, but we believe that you as the people of this splendid community will not shirk your responsiblities when it comes to such an important proposition as coming out to and taking part in our annual school meeting and instead of 40 this year lets have 400 and if the library room is not large enough, it is very easy to go where there is ample room.

Think it over and under present conditions, decide if it is not a very opportune time to show your loyalty and patriotism by going to our annual school meeting and taking your part in our community activities in which you are vitally interested.

State and university inspectors have rated our schools as highly as any in the state and they should be maintained at that standard everyone agrees. Those with special objects in view will come out and it is up to those who believe in high educational standards to come out or perhaps regret later on that they were remiss in their duties. It costs money to maintain good schools and these costs are necessarily mounting higher every year and unless you do come out to this meeting, you have thrown aside a responsibility that you cannot delegate to anyone else and you must abide by the results. Come.

ENTERTAINS "500" CLUB.

Mrs. H. S. Bredow entertained her "500" club Thursday afternoon at her home on West Chicago St. The house was very prettily decorated with daisies, bachelor buttons and other old fashioned flowers in baskets and each table was centered with crystal baskets of flowers.

There were five tables of players seated for the games after which a two course lunch was served by the hostess.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Don Heesen of Carrolton, Ill. and Mrs. Harry Scott of Detroit.

ENJOYS WEINIE ROAST.

Thos. Bridges' class of twelve boys of the Methodist Sunday School went to the Quaker Pond Thursday evening where they built a big fire and roasted weinies and drank lemonade. Games played by the light of the fire caused much merriment and the boys voted their teacher a splendid entertainer.

It is their plan to meet once a week for a social time in the future and the class [illegible] to grow in numbers.

DAVIS REUNION.

The annual Davis reunion was held July 4th at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Davis.

At noon a pot luck dinner was served on the lawn to twenty-five. A pleasant afternoon was spent in social visiting, this being the first time the entire family had been together for several years.

The out of town guests were: Mrs. Adela Davis of Sunfield, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davis and family of Langsburg, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis and family of Lansing, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Vermontville, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Agnew of Lyons, Ohio, and A. C. Halladay of Sunfield, Mich.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.

The annual meeting of School District No. 7 of the Township of Tecumseh, for the election of School District Officers and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it, will be held at The Public Library on Monday, the 9th day of July, 1923, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

Dated this 27th day of June, 1923.

C. F. Patterson, Director.

Mrs. Elzora Goff was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Collins at Milan over the Fourth.

Rev. and Mrs. H. J. B. Marsh, Miss Irene Marsh and Mr. Paul, Rev. and Mrs. H. A Buell, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Kiskaddon and Mrs. McClelland and Edward Escolme celebrated the Fourth by enjoying a delightful picnic supper on the banks of the Raisin River near Sutton.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH.

There was a large attendance at the community service at the Methodist Church Sunday evening. A selection was given by the Methodist choir and a solo by Billy Mally, boy soprano of the Episcopal Church of Kalamazoo, both of which were very much enjoyed. The meeting next week will be held in the Friends church.

Rev. Marsh took as a text, Psalms 16:16. The Jews were a patriotic race and boasted of the wealth of their country. We have the greatest country the sun ever shown on and we also have every advantage to keep it the greatest.

He took as a theme "The Americanization of an American." Americanization is a comparatively new term which is not so easy to define. We used to expect that every person that came to our country would become American, but still offered the privilege of living in colonies which is not Americanization.

This country does not date back to conquest, but was an answer to prayer. Other countries were won by conquest and are kept by conquest. No one need be afraid of the name Puritan, it is not to be ashamed of. If we were a little more Puritanical it would be better for us.

Every man and woman born in this country has a royal heritage. America stands for free speech, which means we allow people to have their own opinions; free schools, and the public schools of this country are good enough for any person born here or coming here to live, for some of our greatest men received their education in the public school.

Church and state are separated in this country but George Washington prayed to God for victory during the Revolutionary War, Abraham Lincoln prayed that the union might be preserved and during the great World War letters were sent from the government to every minister urging that special prayer be made on behalf of our country.

We must have reverence and respect for the prayers of our fathers, and strive to keep America a place where the friendless and oppressed may find life and peace.

CAR PLUNGES INTO RIVER.

Last Tuesday night about eight o'clock as Ernest Brown was driving south across the river bridge in Brownville, he met with a bad accident when his car swerved just as he was fairly on the north end of the bridge and turning sharply to the left, it went through the railing of the bridge and plunged into 12 feet of water.

Two half inch iron bolts were sheared off in the railing as easily as though they were wood and the car plunged through with hardly a halt. Mr. Brown was alone and was thrown through the windshield being badly cut about the hands and face. He is doing nicely at this time.

W. J. C. Hastings who lives close by hurried there and pulled Brown out with the assistance of a stranger. A cement wall kept Brown from climbing out if he had not been stunned by the fall.

Verne Pate dove in later on and fastened a hook to the Ford and it was pulled out by means of block and tackle. It was a lucky accident at that.

EDITOR ALDERFER KILLED.

The shocking news came Monday that Editor Alderfer who formerly owned and published the Onsted News was killed at Devils Lake Sunday.

He was playing water ball and dove for the ball but never came up alive. He was immediately taken from the water and it was found that no water was in the lungs hence death was caused either by striking an obstruction on the bottom or by heart disease. At this writing it has not been ascertained which caused his death.

Mr. Alderfer was a young man of much promise and his untimely death is a great blow to his friends and relatives.

TAG DAY JULY 11th.

The ladies of the Legion Auxilary will have a tag day sale Wednesday evening July 11th. The money raised will be used for the children of our dead and disabled soldiers. No provision has been made for their care and education so their comrades are trying to provide for 100 of them in Michigan this year. You will never have a more worthy object for your generosity than to help these little ones whose fathers gave their lives for you.

C. E. SOCIAL.

The regular C. E. business meeting and social was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mabel Lockwood on South VanBuren St.

A business session was held after which a social time was enjoyed in playing games and music. The fireing of the firecrackers was an important number on the program.

Light refreshments were served carrying out the Fourth of July idea.

WATER RENTS ARE RAISED.

At a meeting of the council held last Monday night, the water rates for the village were raised in accordance with a schedule printed in the council proceedings elsewhere in this paper.

This is an absolute necessity in order to make the water department self supporting. We have not raised the rates since 1914 and every year we have gone from 3 to 5 thousand dollars behind piling up that deficit on the general fund which was paid just the same.

Now the rates have been equalized so that the average man pays only two dollars per year more while the big water users have been raised much higher because the minimum rates were raised higher than the general rates.

Adrian pays $24 per year for an ordinary house with one bath and toilet. Also Clinton and Dundee are higher than we were which show the rates are still low compared to other towns.

Study the new rates which go into effect immediately and you can know definitely just what your water rates will be.

Mrs. Anna Lindsley who has been seriously ill is improving at this writing.

Henry Stevens left for Detroit Thursday to be gone five days, visiting relatives and friends.

Elwyn Hensen and Paul Harwood who are attending summer schol at Ypsilanti spent Wednesday at their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gaty entertained at a family reunion at their farm home south of town Sunday. There were seventy-five relatives present and at noon tables were spread in the yard with a bountiful potluck dinner and a pleasant time was enjoyed around the tables.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and music while the younger folks enjoyed games.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Westgate and family of Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. Amiel Kenzel and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meska and family of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. John Metz and family, Mrs. August Meska and Elmer Scholtz of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Scholtz and family of Lenawee Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Meska of Blissfield, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Burer and family of Palmyra, Mr. and Mrs. Henry and Albert Beublic of Birdsall, John Rosener and family of Detroit, Frank Rosener and family of Penn., Mr. and Mrs. Percy VanValkenburg and Mr. and Mrs. Kunnie Schweiger of Adrian.

LAWLESSNESS AND WHY.

In every paper printed in the larger cities these days there is unfolded a story of banditry that causes one to wonder if we are really becoming a lawless people.

The cause of this is probably due in a large part to the good people themselves because of our laxity in enforcing the laws, and the reason the laws are not enforced is because the people themselves will not stand squarely up to the duties imposed on every good citizen. We are directly to blame ourselves for this state of affairs for the following reasons.

A bandit figures that if he shoots down someone he stands a 50-50 chance of not being caught. If he is caught, he stands a 50-50 chance of not getting convicted. If he is convicted he stands a 50-50 chance of getting a new trial and more new trials until the case is worn out and dropped. If he is convicted and sentenced he stands a 50-50 chance of getting less than 10 years in prison, and finally if he goes to prison he stands a 50-50 chance of getting the sob sisters interested in his case and a pardon after he has done a year or so in a comfortable prison where his only punishment is not being allowed to spend his summer at a fashionable watering place.

All in all he stands better than 90 chances out of ever hundred of getting scott free and if he does any time he gets out in a year or so after having just a few of his liberties curtailed for the time he has spent in building up his health.

These are facts that are perfectly apparent to any thinking person who has given the newspapers the once over in their editorial columns or read the news thoughtfully. That it is a fact, is very bad for our social conditions which in the last analysis means the perpetuity of all government.

Further we do not blame officers for not enforcing the law as it is written. The people don't want it enforced and they take delight in making it just as unpleasant for an officer as possible who starts out to enforce the law. Instead of loyally supporting him, they criticise him and do nothing to assist him in any way.

Those who break the laws do their best to make the officers understand that he better be looking the other way and for these perfectly good reasons they do so most of the time.

Again we have so many fool laws on the statute books that to enforce all of them right to the letter would put most of the so-called good citizens in jail every day as none of us can escape breaking some law every time we perform our day's work or take the slightest recreation.

The combined result of all this is a letting down on respect for all law with the result that lack of law enforcement is fast becoming a very dangerous thing in our national life.

The boys as soon as they can ride a bicycle start breaking the law by riding the walks and parents wink at it as long as they don't get "pinched" and when they do, Mr. Parent just starts out cussing the officer and everyone who had a finger in such "dirty work." The kid soon finds that breaking a law is just fun and he grows up with that attitude toward all law or restraint.

The American home is one wherein the parents take orders from the children in far too many cases though the parents who take orders with the utmost humility deny this vehemently even while taking a few orders from Willie at that very moment.

What will the harvest be? You tell. Maybe there is no danger in it at all but it looks very much like conditions that just preceded several other great nations in the world. History records their final exit in double quick time under such horrible conditions that it makes the blood run cold to read about them.

Maybe history is no citerion to go by but the wisest ones tell us that the reason we study history is to show us how to avoid the mistakes that have been so disastrous to other peoples and for that reason is it not worth while to think about these conditions while the time for thinking is good.

The proper correction for these conditions is to make sane laws and then arouse the people to the necessity for their strict observance in both home and nation or otherwise we will soon go the way all others have gone who disregarded their individual responsibility and failed to realize that "observance of law is liberty" and the only way any nation or people can possibly endure.

We may not reap the full fruit of lawlessness in the day of this generation but unless it is severely checked in both the home and the nation and that soon, it will descend upon us like a scourge and wipe out the fairest country the sun ever shown upon just as it has done to all other nations who forgot.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

Where astigmatism is present, the axis of the correcting lense must be at precisely the correct degree. To determine what this degree is, and to prescribe and prepare a lense therefor, and to see that the lense is accurately adjusted to the features of the patient, are exacting duties and responsible ones, for which the Optometrist is especially trained.

In fact there is no error of vision, however slight or complicated, that can escape the scruting of the instruments he uses.

Which fact surely indicates the importance of the work done by the Optometrist, and its value to the public.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many A Tecumseh Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak,
Nature tells you about it.
The urine is nature's index.
Infrequent or too frequent passage,
Other disorders suggest kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.
Tecumseh people testify to their worth. Ask your neighbor.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says "I had kidney complaint awfully bad and suffered with my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills purchased at Wright & Son's Drug Store and they strengthened my back and regulated the action of my kidneys."

The above statement was given July 27, 1916 and on May 3, 1920, Mr. Langton said: "Since endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills I have used them several times. If thru taking cold, I have noticed a return of the trouble, Doan's have never failed to give me relief."

WHY RIGHT HAND IS USED

Mystery of the Brain That Has Never Really Been Given a Satisfactory Explanation.

There is little doubt that an infant, for the first six months of its life, is ambidextrous. It uses both hands equally in a number of aimless movements. There seems to be, however, a tendency to right-handedness, which is possibly inherited, because later in life most children become right-handed.

The center of the brain which controls movements of the limbs is a line slanting downward and forward from the crown of the head. It is generally understood that the use of the right hand develops the left of the brain, and vice versa; and in this connection the question of ambidexterity is bound up with the controlling centers of the brain.

Next to the movement center for the right side, in the lower part of the brain, lies the speech center. A predominantly right-handed man, it is supposed, develops vigorously his left movement center, and that originates a speech center next to it.

It is known that the right-handed person has a speech center in the left brain and the left-handed person a similar center in a corresponding position in the right brain.

Accepting it as a fact that people have only one center to start with, this means that they are born either right-handed or left-handed, usually the former.

LUCK IN SONG'S DISCOVERY

Melody Forgotten for Years Made Distinct Hit and a Million Copies of It Were Sold.

This is the story of a popular song which narrowly escaped a tragic fate. If for you there is no music save that of Wagner or Beethoven or Greig, you will not shudder as you read this tale, but if your taste runs to the melodies the office boy whistles you probably will, for the song is a lilting, haunting little thing which, no doubt, you have whistled yoursef.

Seven years ago, says the New York Sun, the song was submitted by an unknown composer to a large concern of music publishers. It was accepted and copies of it were printed. Then all trace of it was lost. Several months ago a song "plugger" came across the bundle of copies in the recess of a storeroom, still wrapped as they had come from the printers. Breaking open a package he glanced at the contents. The song was unfamiliar to him who had "plugged" all the "sure-fire hits" of the firm for ten years or more.

He tried the song on a piano. It was a "sure-fire hit" with him, and he traced its story through the copyright dates and the firm's records. The next day the company's "pluggers" were busy with the song. Today a million copies of it have been sold and echoes of it have gone trippingly down the corridors of time.

Strange Experience.

Not long ago I was visiting at my sister's home. Her little boy, a child of two years, was playing in the living room one afternoon when the rest of us were in the sewing room. Suddenly I called him very sharply. "What's the matter?" asked my sister. I blushed. I did not know why I had called him. I had no reason at all, for the child was not doing anything naughty. "I don't know," I answered her, trying to think of some reason for the sharp summons. In the meantime the little one ran to me. He had no sooner reached my side than the ceiling of the room in which he had been fell. Everything in the room was either broken or badly scarred. Had the baby been there he would certainly have been killed.—Chicago Journal.

Millet Studio to Be Museum.

The remarkable building in the main street of the art center Barbizon, where Jean-Francois Millet painted "The Angelus" and other masterpieces, is being restored to its exact condition when used by the master. It will be opened officially to tourists and art pilgrims.

The restoration is almost a work of love by Douhin, the last painter of the Barbizon school, who, after discovering a long-hidden set of camera plates showing almost every corner of Millet's home, bought the lease and commenced to rebuild and replace, covering the expense of his operations by the sale of copies of Millet's best known canvases. When completed, the house will be virtually a Millet museum.

White Buffalo Robe Prized.

In the old days Indians cherished the white buffalo robe as almost beyond price. In 1832 or 1833 the Mandans, hearing that the Blackfeet at the mouth of the Yellowstone had a white buffalo robe, sent a delegation with eight horses and with trading-goods the 200 miles to procure the robe if possible. The delegation left the horses and the goods and returned afoot with the robe. This was consecrated to the Great Spirit and hung upon a pole, out of touch, as powerful medicine.

It is said that not one in a hundred thousand buffaloes was white. Even at that the color was likely to be a yellowish white and the robe was known by the plainsmen as a "buckskin" robe. The pure white robe scarcely existed.

Appropriate.

"What are you going as to the fancy dress ball, Miss Ample?"

"I would like to go as 'Peace,' but I'm hardly the figure for it."

"Oh, but you would go down splendidly as 'Peace and Plenty.'"

LONG LIFE

In buying a motor car, consider what the cost will be when divided over a period of years.

What is the car's reputation for satisfactory service after the first year? After the second? And after the third—and fourth?

These considerations, in the final analysis, are the true basis of economy in motoring.

And it is this attribute of long life to which Dodge Brothers Motor Car owes its chief claim upon the unalterable loyalty of its owners.

PLYMOUTH TWINE
AGENCY

A Straight Tip

THERE is a real saving in the use of Plymouth Twine, to say nothing of the satisfaction, over the cheap kinds which do not have the necessary strength and uniformity, and which are invariably under measurement.

A recent comparison of a ball of

with that of another make which was made in the field last season showed that it would take 135 pounds of the cheap twine to bind the same amount of grain that 100 pounds of Plymouth Twine would tie. The cheap twine was not only greatly under measurement, but was decidedly inferior in quality and strength.

Better take no chances; place your order for Plymouth Twine with us and get full length and strength, which is guaranteed by the Plymouth Tag on each and every ball.

BOOKS IN REACH OF ALL

Time When All the Best Literature of the World Could Be Obtained for Small Sum.

We poke fun at the age of the penny dreadful and the dime novel, the golden age of the newsboy story and of Nick Carter. Yet that age was the golden age not only of these, but also of the book lover. Not, of course, of the bibliophile, but of the lover of books. It is a mistake to think that the cheap old books were all trash, declares the Nation. In the Seaside library of Munro, for instance, one could buy in the guise of the dime novel the works of Balzac and Hardy; one could buy "Don Quixote" and "Faust." The firm of John W. Lovell printed at ten cents a volume all the works of Carlyle, Ruskin and Emerson, of major poets and historians, and issues, in the same series, all of Morley's "English Men of Letters." From England Cassell sent his marvelous national library of little paper-covered books in which many a man first read his Plato, his Bacon and his Johnson. To have a quarter in those days was indeed to be free to enter all the realms of gold. Well-bound reprints of all the world's great books could then be had in such series as the Salem edition, issued by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and the priceless Canterbury Poets and Camelot Classics exported to us by Walter Scott. The Everyman Library at 35 cents a volume was the culminating point of the great age of cheap and handy English books.

VARYING OPINIONS ON LOVE

From the Selections Made, Some Will Disapprove and Some Will Read With a Smile.

The Married Man—Love is an illusion of youth, which only time, a wife and ten children will dispel.

The Bachelor—Love is a mythical emotion which was first foisted upon the world by a sap-headed novelist in need of "copy."

The Debutante—Love! Search me; I can't tell you, but it's nice.

The Old Maid—Love is the heavenly reward of all who withstand the temptations of this life. If it isn't, I've backed a loser.

The Cynic—Love is only experienced by fools and babies. Neither are qualified to give opinions.

The Married Woman—Love is like expensive face cream. It wears off quickly—but cannot be renewed.

The Chorus Girl—Love is an ideal way of getting ready cash, and a sure way through a breach-of-promise suit to single happiness.

The Average Young Man—Love is the most expensive form of gambling, with all the odds against the man.

All the World—Love is an emotion everyone seeks and no one is satisfied with when found.—Passing Show, London.

SAVAGE DEEDS IN HAWAII

Almost Unbelievable Atrocities Followed the Death of a Man the Islanders Ranked Highly.

Death was a catastrophe that was made the occasion of a great demonstration among the Hawaiian people, even within the last century. In private families this varied in character from the head of the household down to the humblest member. When, however, a prominent person died, the ceremonies were barbarous in the extreme. A chief's immediate followers, as well as many of his serfs, shaved their heads or cut the hair short, which was a tremendous sacrifice, and they knocked out some of their front teeth. Often these devoted people tattooed their tongues somewhat in the same fashion as it was customary to do on other parts of the body. All this was done to keep alive the memory of the dead chief. It was also a custom to bury alive some of the retainers around the tomb.

When a very high rank chieftain died, men and women, old and young, priest and laity, acted like those possessed with [illegible]. Property was wantonly destroyed, and dwellings fired merely to add to the confusion, while gambling, theft and murder were openly committed. No women, except the widows of the deceased, were exempt from the grossest violation, and in their state of mental intoxication, women made no effort to protect themselves.

ROOM OF BLACK MEMORY

Wholesale Murders Committed in Chamber in What Is Believed Oldest Inn in England.

The oldest inn in England is believed to be a certain hostelry at Colnbrook, Buckinghamshire. This place has a very black history, for here, many years ago, 60 murders were perpetrated by the landlord and his wife before the crimes were discovered.

In this gloomy abode there is, on the first floor, a large room known as the "Blue Room." Formerly it contained an innocent-looking bed in which quite a number of persons slept their last sleep. The part of the floor on which the bed rested was really a hinged trap-door fixed above the brewhouse's boiling vat.

Guests who were known to be wealthy always slept in the Blue Room. When the innkeeper had made sure that the guest was asleep, the trap-door bolts were drawn, and the unfortunate man tumbled into the vat.

The last victim was Thomas Cole, a clothier of Reading, who had three escapes before finally meeting his death. Once he was taken ill before reaching the inn, and so slept elsewhere; a second time he was in a hurry to get to London, and consequently drove straight on; while on another occasion when he stayed at the inn in the Blue Room was occupied by someone else. But at last his time came, and his body was later found in a brook.

Cool-Headed Little Girl.

The coolest act I ever saw, says Mr. Rex Stuart, a railway engineer, in the American Magazine, was some months ago on the run between New York and Albany. We were a little late and were traveling fast when I saw two little girls on the track straight ahead. A freight was coming north on the opposite track. One of the girls saw the danger and jumped clear. The other was caught.

There is only six feet between the rails of the two tracks, and she was trapped in there. She turned sidewise, then put her hands straight down at her sides, shut her eyes and stood perfectly still. I looked back after we hit the curve, and she was still standing there as stiff as a poker, waiting for the trains to pass. Of course, it would have been better if she had dropped flat on the ground, but she scarcely had time to do that. It was a very cool-headed deed as it was.

Another "Porterhouse" Story.

One of the most popular and widely known eating houses in southern Ireland at the time the corn laws and tithes in Ireland ran out along about 1836, was the "Two Pot House" in Cork. That meant that one could get potatoes and bread and butter and two pots of porter, together with getting one's steak cooked, for one shilling (or 25 cents).

The custom was for the wayfarer to Cork to buy a steak at some place en route and bring it with him to the "Two Pot House." Thus after a time it became the designation for the meal of porter and steak, and subsequently a porterhouse steak—meaning a steak of one's own at the porter house.

Thus, goes one of the numerous stories of its origin, came the term "porterhouse steak."

Combating Pinyon Jays.

Pinyon jays, inhabiting Rocky mountain states, are birds of the same family as crows and about half their size. Between nesting seasons they rove in large flocks, often containing hundreds of birds, and cause serious damage to grain crops. Successful experiments in methods of control of these birds when attacking corn were made by the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture in west-central Colorado, and a leaflet containing directions for using a simple but effective poison formula has been distributed in that territory. During the wheat harvest control measures are not so successful, and in large fields, where the birds can find ample food, the use of poisoned baits is not found profitable.

Still Looking for It.

Deacon—No, sir, I don't. You've been preachin' on the subject of resignation for two years, an' you haven't resigned yet.

HEARING STEPS OF SPIDER

Microphone Able to Detect Sounds Which Would Seem to Be Absolutely Inaudible.

Two scientists have been listening to the tramp of a spider.

By means of the ordinary carbon microphone very faint sounds can be detected, and long ago, David Edward Hughes, one of the pioneers of wireless and the inventor of the microphone we now use on our telephones, was able to hear on his microphone the tramp of a fly.

There are some wonderful crystals which, when subjected to intermittent pressure, give rise to electric currents and give forth sounds, and they, too, can be used to magnify inaudible noises. Crystals of quartz, tourmalin, feldspar, sugar, camphor, and so on, have these remarkable properties; but the crystals most responsible to pressure are the crystals of rochelle salt which are found in sedlitz powders.

By means of these rochelle salt crystals two electricians, Mrs. Russell and Mr. Cotton, have lately been able to hear a small spider walking about. They do not describe the sound of the spider's footfall; but we should imagine that it would be more of a shuffle than a fox-trot. Certainly not a two-step.—Montreal Family Herald.

SIGN USED FOR CENTURIES

Probably the Three Golden Balls Is the Oldest Symbol Known to Civilized World.

In the days when only a few people could read, emblems and pictures were used instead of letters for advertisement. One of the best known street signs surviving from those days is the pawnbroker's sign: three golden balls. One story of its origin is the legend of St. Nicholas and three dowries he gave the daughter of a pauperized nobleman in Asia Minor. Why St. Nicholas, or as we love to call him, Santa Claus, should be connected with pawnbroking, the story does not relate. Another theory is that the three gold balls originated as a coat of arms of three golden coins, meaning "money to lend," and that the balls were found an easier sign to make than coins. This coat of arms was used by the Lombard merchants in London, the money-lending class of the days of the Black Prince, whose father, Edward III, once pledged his crown with them to get money for the French wars. Lombard street, London, England, is named after these gentlemen who used to live there. The Lombards were the virile north Italians, of Teutonic stock, like the English. Pawnbroking is one of the oldest businesses in the world.

Collie Dog Saved Youngster.

A shepherd's collie found a boy of two and a half years of age who had been lost in the hills on the Scottish border for four days. The boy was the son of a shepherd. He had been taken by his mother on a peat cutting expedition about a quarter of a mile from their cottage home at Kerrhead, on the Solway firth. While the mother worked at the fuel the child lay down and fell asleep. But when she had finished her task the boy had disappeared. A three days' search failed to find him. On the fourth day a shepherd from the neighboring farm of Chaighouse steads was recovering some sheep which had strayed when his dog ran off. The collie replied to his master's whistle, and, looking up at him, again went off in the direction from which he had come. The shepherd realized that there was something to account for the dog's behavior, followed. He found the missing boy asleep in a bunch of rushes.

First American School for Women.

The first school for women on the American continent was begun by the Ursuline nuns of Quebec in 1639. The first white native American accessions to their ranks came from New England and through Indian agencies.

In 1686 a party of Maine Abenaki Indians raided the village of Salem, Mass., and after killing her parents and burning her home, carried into captivity six-year-old Mary Ann Davis, who was adopted by the sachem of the tribe and cared for with his own children. She grew up in Indian ways and customs until she was rescued in her seventeenth year by the Jesuit missionary, Father Rasle, who had her sent as a pupil to the Ursuline convent at Quebec. Here she became a nun herself in 1698, the first woman born within the limits of the United States to become a religious.

Fooling 'Em.

Old Aunt Sally enjoyed a wide reputation among her acquaintances in Virginia for all the household virtues of cleanliness. Once, however, in order to sustain that reputation, she admitted resorting to deception.

A neighbor in passing discovered Aunt Sally industriously scrubbing her piazza floor, and sought an explanation.

"Well," said Aunt Sally, "I kinder thought ef folks sees this piazzy clean they wouldn't suspect how mah kitchen looks today."—Los Angeles Times.

Famous Writers Dull Companions.

Many of the most famous and witty authors have been known to be very dull and uninteresting when engaged in conversation with other persons.

Descartes, the famous mathematician and philosopher; La Fontaine, celebrated for his witty fables, and Buffon, the naturalist, were all singularly deficient in the power of conversation. Marmontel, the novelist, was so dull in society that a friend said to him after an interview: "I must go and read one of your tales in recompense to myself for the weariness of hearing you."

CAROL E. BURG.

Mrs. Carol E. Burg died at her home in Ann Arbor at 8 o'clock Sunday evening.

She was born in Franklin township, Lenawee County, October 28, 1888, and was a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1906, also continued her education at Ypsilanti Normal and latter at Hillsdale College. After eight years of successful teaching she was united in marriage to Grover F. Burg of Ann Arbor, June 25, 1921 by Rev. Kiskaddon, who also conducted the funeral services Wednesday, June 26, 1923 at Ann Arbor and Tecumseh

After two years lacking one day of very happy wedded life, she and her little infant daughter, Barbara Jane slipped away at "twilight and the evening bell," to their heavenly home beyond, leaving her husband, Grover F. Burg, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kemp and Aunt Addie Butrick as her nearest relatives.

Only those who knew her best can fully appreciate the worth of such a life as was hers. Her sunny, cheery disposition, tender loving kindnesses shown to those about her during the few short years among us will be long remembered, as her Christian life was lived out every day.

PLEASANT VOICE IS ASSET

Too Many Think Little of Gift for Which No One Can Be Too Thankful.

To speak correctly—in the grammatical sense—is an asset. To be able to speak fluently, with an absence of "er" and "um," is another asset. To be able to command a choice of words is yet another asset.

And the greatest asset of all is to have a pleasant voice. Possessing that, grammatical slips and lack of fluency can, in moderation, be overlooked.

Some of us have inherited a pleasant voice, and for the gift we ought to be supremely thankful. But not all keep it. The gift is frittered away. A querulous temper not only puts its line-marks on the face, but in time the voice is affected.

The pleasant tone departs. The habit of grumbling also affects the voice. The cult of disagreeableness does the same. If we are in a position in which we have to rule others, our one-time pleasant voice, if we misuse our position and become snappy, tyrannical and domineering, will go.

To put it briefly, every vice affects the voice.

Remember that the refrain, "It's not exactly what he says; it's the nasty way he says it!" is particularly true.

PUT AWAY OLD ENMITY

Dinner Brought About Complete Reconciliation Between Disraeli and One-Time Opponent.

An interesting instance of a dinner of reconciliation between those estranged in politics was that at which Disraeli and Lord Carrington buried the hatchet in London. In 1832 Lord Carrington, then Robert Smith, was Disraeli's opponent at the hustings. The contest left them with such embittered relations that for six years they did not speak; but in December, 1838, Disraeli met on the road near Bradenham "a cortege of dandies and grooms" who were about to call on him conveying an invitation from Lord Carrington to dine at Wycombe abbey. At first Disraeli refused, but, pressed by Lord Forrester, Carrington's brother-in-law, he afterward consented.

The completeness of the reconciliation may be judged by some extracts from Disraeli's diary, remarks the Detroit News. "Our party was rather noisy, but very gay. I did not get home until past midnight, or rather near the chimes of 1. . . . I could scarcely resist their entreaties that I should remain and send for my toilette in the morning."

Privileged Mendicants.

Blue gowns, or Beadsmen, was an order of privileged mendicants of Scotland, of which the latest trace did not expire till 1863. The first appellation was due to the distribution among these persons of a gown of blue cloth, to which were added a loaf of bread, a bottle of ale and a leather purse containing a penny for every year of the ruling sovereign's age. Annually a new Beadsman, or Blue Gown, was elected. Each member of the body bore a pewter badge, on which were inscribed his name and the words past and repast.

The usage, which had its origin in the ancient practice of vicarious prayer, resolved itself into a public charity, of which the sources were forgotten, and in 1836 60 Beadsmen were on the roll. No appointments were made after that date, and the last survivor drew his allowance from the exchequer at Edinburgh in May, 1863.

YOUNG OF LOWER ANIMALS

Seem to the Observer to Be Strange Little Objects—Baby Giraffe Not Long Helpless.

Recently one of the tortoises at a large city zoo laid 42 eggs and hatched out the first tortoise to be born in the "zoo." At birth he was two inches long and weighed a little over an ounce. His mother was fifty years old when he was hatched out.

Young animals are always very strange little things when first seen. The porcupine is born with its spines, but they are quite soft and pliable. They soon harden when exposed to the air. The puma is born spotted, and has rings on his tail. At six months old his coat becomes tawny in color and his tail loses all its rings.

The tapir is born with curious markings of spots and streaks on his coat. But when he is four months old these all disappear.

Some of the young animals have a pretty good time. The woolly opossum of South America gives her youngster any amount of joy rides, and she will climb trees quite nimbly with as many as 12 of her children clinging tenaciously to her. The young black-necked swan from the same country often gets a ride in his mother's mouth.

The giraffe is one of the nimblest animals, even when very tiny. He disdains any carrying on his mother's part, and when he is only three days old will trot gayly along by his mother's side.

BEARDS ONCE WERE PRIZED

To Be Without One Was Considered Sign of Effeminacy in Civilization's Early Stage.

Back in the early stages of civilization the clean-shaven man of today, instead of giving the impression of power and strength, would have been looked upon as a very effeminate person, an outcast in worth-while society.

All nations in their early development cherished the beard as something almost sacred, a sign of strength and manhood. To lose the beard through an accident or as punishment was as degrading a thing as could befall a man. Tradition has connected wisdom with a long beard; artists have embodied it in their pictures. Most of the Biblical characters, even the first person of the Trinity, is given a beard by old painters and carvers.

The oath of the beard is as old as history. It is found in the first English political ballad when Sir Simon De Montfort swears "by the hair on his chin."

Large Supply Needed.

Eph Brown was a true believer and fond of any religious ceremony. When "de suction" caught him, he became a sort of unofficial chaplain in a colored labor battalion. He worked assiduously among his fellows, and finally persuaded a dozen or so to join him in an open-air baptizing on a day in January.

That it was necessary to chop a hole in the river ice to provide a space for immersion rather cooled the ardor of the converts, but not so Eph's. Seizing the nearest soldier, he plunged him beneath the icy water. He had not reckoned the swift current, however, and the luckless victim was snatched out of his hands and carried permanently out of sight.

Eph was not in the least disconcerted.

WHEN THE WORLD AWAKES

Then Is When Angler Who Really Loves the Sport May Be Said to Have Come Into His Own.

It carries us into the most wild and beautiful scenery of Nature, amongst the mountain lakes, and the clear and lovely streams that gush from the higher ranges of elevated hills, or that make their way through the cavities of calcareous strata. How delightful in the early spring, after the dull and tedious time of winter, when the frosts disappear and the sunshine warms the earth and waters, to wander forth by some clear stream, to see the leaf bursting from the purple bud, to scent the odors of the bank perfumed by the violet, and enameled, as it were, with the primrose and the daisy; to wander upon the fresh turf below the shade of trees, whose bright blossoms are filled with the music of the bee; and on the surface of the waters to view the gaudy flies sparkling like animated gems in the sunbeams, whilst the bright and beautiful trout is watching them from below; to hear the twittering of the water birds, who, alarmed at your approach, rapidly hide themselves beneath the flowers and leaves of the water lily; and, as the season advances, to find all these objects changed for others of the same kind, but better and brighter, till the swallow and the trout, contend, as it were, for the gaudy May fly, and till in pursuing your amusement in the calm and balmy evening you are serenaded by the songs of the cheerful thrush—performing the offices of paternal love, in thickets ornamented with the rose and woodbine.—From "Days of Fly Fishing" (1828).

FERTILE LAND NOW DESERT

Changing of the Course of the Gulf Stream Affected the Ancient World.

There is a place in Chinese Turkestan, called Lukchun, that is far below the sea level. This forbidding region is one of the most interesting in the world. Everywhere in it are found ruins of human habitation. Great cities are here, with their mines, farms and industries, dead as though time had stricken them as they stood.

When Atlantis stood high the Gulf stream played on one side of it and Arctic currents on the other, but there was little or no intermingling of the waters. In consequence storms as they passed here were deflected down into Europe, exactly as Alaskan weather comes to the United States.

But the instant there was a gate by which the Gulf stream could enter the Arctic ocean all this was changed. A great suction whirl was set up which lifted the storms from all surface contact with the ocean and switched them into the purer air, to descend, dry and thirsty, on Turkestan.

There is every reason to believe, scientists say, that this is the true explanation, for the sinking of Atlantis and the North sea correspond in time to the formation of the deserts in Asia and Africa.

First American Fire Engine.

The first fire engine in America was received in Boston January 27, 1697. It was a crude contrivance, to be drawn by men and operated by hand power. No great improvement was made in fire-fighting apparatus from ancient times until the Nineteenth century, when the steam engine was invented. Fire engines are said to have been invented by Ctesibius in the year 250 B. C. A hero of Alexandria describes those ancient "siphons used in conflagrations." The mechanism consisted of two cylinders and pistons connected by a reciprocating beam which raised and lowered the pistons alternately, and this, with the aid of valves opening only toward the jet, projected the water from it, but not in a continuous stream, as the pressure ceased at each alternation of the stroke.

Caterpillars' Eyes in Odd Place.

Caterpillars with eyes on their abdomens, and male insects growing female wings, have been raised by Stefan Kopec of the government institute for agricultural research at Pulawz, Poland. He had removed the simple eyes and their surrounding tissue from the heads of caterpillars and grafted them on the abdomens of these insects. The germs of these mature eyes developed normally, notwithstanding the absence of any junction with the nervous chain.

He performed a similar operation and exchanged the wings of the male and female caterpillar moths. These wings continued to develop, but retained the color and characteristics of the sex from which they had been taken, instead of showing the hue of the specimens on which they developed.

Salt-Spilling Superstition.

Ask ten people why they are horrified at the idea of spilling salt, and nine of them will admit that they think it is unlucky, but do not know the reason. It is the same with most of our superstitions, many of which are as old as the human race.

Salt is one of the necessaries of life, and to eat it in a man's house in the East is today a sign of friendship, as it was in the days of Abraham. If you refuse to eat his salt you offer him the deadliest insult, while the accidental spilling of it could easily be mistaken for a willful act, and might cost a clumsy man his life.

If, however, he picked up a pinch and threw it over his left shoulder he signified that the spilling had been unintentional.

His System.

She—Why do you applaud everything in the theater, whether it is good or bad?

He—Oh, that's an easy one. I applaud a good thing because it's good and a bad thing because it's over.—Boston Evening Transcript.

How Money Grows

Just the small sum of $1.00 deposited each year at compound interest for a period of 50 years, amounts to $307.75. That's how money grows.

Suppose a young man at 20 years of age decided to deposit only a dollar each year. At 70 he would have the above amount. Or, suppose he had managed to save and deposit $10.00 each year. At 70 he would have $3,077.50. Now suppose any young man could save more than that. Suppose he put $100 at compound interest each year. At 70 it would amount to $30,775.00. How many people at 70 have that much?

CAMP FIRE GIRLS.

On account of the County Campfire organizer, Miss Marie Gategar, being ill for the past three months, the Campfire organized here late last fall has not been progressing as it would have otherwise. But the campfire leader has now returned to her headquarters in Adrian and the organization has become active again.

To face the problem of financial backing, Miss Gategar suggested the plan that has been carried out in Adrian, which is to have as many citizens as possible pledge themselves to pay a dollar amonth to aid Miss Gategar in her work with the girls. This plan is being carried out in Tecumseh, but the citizen is only required to pledge for the remaining two months of the summer, so that at the end of that time he can see if the work is progressing satisfactorily. Mrs. Mary Shull has been appointed chairman of this so-called council, and all money is to be turned in to her. Quite a few pledges have already been received, alto' as yet practically no canvassing has been done. The organization will be glad to receive any voluntary offers.

Probably the greatest service Miss Gategar will render in return for this financial aid is to take the girls camping. It is expected that every girl will want to go when she reads of the advantages of this camp, which will open at Vineyard Lake, July 19th for a period of twenty days. The camp site and equipment of the Adrian Y. M. C. A. will be used; three special women teachers, all from Ohio colleges, will instruct the girls in swimming, Indian Folk Lore, and physical training, besides several other camping guardians who have been with Miss Gategar thru her three years of camping experience. The camp is for all the girls of the county, so the Adrian and Tecumseh Campfires will camp together, while Clinton and Blissfield will go together at another time. The cost will be about seventy-five cents a day for ten days. Any girl in Tecumseh is eligible for this camp, no matter if she is a Campfire Girl or not, if she is willing to abide by the campfire rules while in camp, and to pay the necessary money. Girls wishing to learn more about this special opportunity should see Miss Gategar at Tansley's Meat Shop, Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

The reader will find elsewhere announcements of the bake sale and tag day the girls are putting on Saturday to earn money for camp.

Plant a Tree.

Every year we cut in the United States wood enough to measure 26,000,000,000 cubic feet of lumber. Each year we cut over 10,000,000 acres of land. At that rate the last of our merchantable lumber will have been exhausted in between 30 and 40 years. Even now we are approaching the forest bankruptcy. We all know the disasters that follow in the path of such a state of affairs. Trees do not mature in a day. The fact that a timber crop is so long in getting here discourages many from doing their share in the work of reforestation. If the land owner will look but a short distance ahead, he will learn that in planting trees he can turn much waste land into a source of profit and at the same time he will be performing a duty to this country and the human race.—Exchange.

What Are We Worth?

What are we worth? By that we mean—what are we worth to the community.

We realize that we exist only through community patronage. We realize that we are in facta public institution, depending upon the public liking and confidence for our very existence, and if we are to succeed we must maintain that liking and confidence, and it can be retained only through serving just a little better.

Permit us to demonstrate our desire and willingness to extend a service particularly fitted to your needs. We believe you will find it worth while.

Prominent Men Killed By Train

W. M. Calhoun and Allen Robinett Lose Lives At Sutton's Crossing. Struck By South Bound Freight. Three Year Old Boy Saved.

A terrible accident occured last Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock when W. M. Calhoun and Allen Robinett both prominent farmers living in Raisin Township were struck by a south bound freight train at Sutton's Crossing while driving home in their car, and both men were instantly killed.

Just how they came to get in front of this train and be struck will probably never be known as there were no close eye witnesses other than the train crew and at the inquest no one seemed to know positively whether their motor stalled or not.

The car was completely demolished and the men were thrown into a ditch lying close together when found and both were dead, probably instantly killed. The three year old son of Mr. Calhoun was thrown forty feet and buried under several inches of loose dirt but save for minor bruises and cuts he was unhurt, almost a miracle.

The bodies of the two men were taken to the Belding Funeral Home after the inquest held by Justice Holloway. The jury summoned for the inquest returned a verdict of accidental death by being struck by a south bound freight train at Sutton's Crossing.

It was a shock to the entire community when the news spread that these men had met death in such a manner and the families have the deepest sympathy of everyone here. Mrs. Calhoun was the Holloway Correspondent of the Herald and as such was most excellent and the Herald extends its most profound sympathy to both these families who are so bereaved.

Mr. Calhoun was born August 28, 1880, on the farm where he spent all his life. He was married to Irene Pilbeam of Britton June 26, 1907. They had two children, Lyle, who was with his father at the time of the accident, and Catherine, aged 13 years. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home and the burial was made in the Holloway cemetery.

Mr. Robinett was born August 24, 1880, in Wyandotte county, Ohio. He was married March 27, 1900, to Miss Anna Wurm. They moved to Raisin township three years ago and since then have lived on the farm across the road from the Calhoun place. He is survived by his wife and five children: Marie, Floyd, Frank and twin sons, Charley and Harley. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home and burial was made in the Holloway cemetery.

UNION SERVICE AT FRIENDS CHURCH.

The Union service was held Sunday evening at the Friends church with Rev. Edward Escolme as speaker. The ministers of town were present and took part in the service and the meeting next week will be held at the Presbyterian church and will be in the interest of the Daily Vacation Bible School. The hand work which the children have been making will be on display and a program will be given by them.

Previous to the sermon a vocal duet was given by the Misses Naomi VanWinkle and Mabel Lockwood.

Rev. Escolme took as a theme, "Christ the Crucified One."' In the library of Harvard University it is said there are 2000 volumes dealing with the life and letters of the Apostle Paul and in these we learn that this theme was one dear to the heart of Paul.

Christ crucified was the basis of Paul's message, which was to the Jews a stumbling block and to the Greeks, foolishness. Paul preached Christ crucified the means of our redemption.

When Christ wished to teach us of the father's love he gave us the story of the prodigal son; when asked who is my neighbor, he gave us the story of the Good Samaritan; when a lesson in watchfulness, the parable of the ten virgins and when a lesson in faithfulness, the parable of the talents.

A great artist once was asked to paint a picture of Alexander the Great and when he saw Alexander and the scar on his face he was dismayed for a time being, but finally hit upon a plan. Alexander was painted in a thoughtful pose with his face resting in his hand which covered the scar. God's hand of love will cover the scars of sin in our lives if we will allow it.

Christian service may be of two kinds, worth while or well nigh worthless. These may be represented by two sets of symbols, gold, silver and precious stones and hay, wood and stubble. Both classes may love God but one is always found at church and working for the interest of the kingdom, while the others are only on hand when a good time is in store.

We can well ask God to help His children to realize their privileges in Christ and to render to Him the acceptable service.

TERRIFIC RAIN STORM STRIKES TECUMSEH

One of the hardest rain and windstorms for years struck Tecumseh and the surrounding country last Tuesday afternoon and the rain fell in torrents for about one hour.

The rain was accompanied by hail and a high wind which leveled the ripened wheat in many localities so badly that it cannot be but partially recovered. Tree were blown down and limbs strewed the streets. Telephone and light wires were torn down and much damage was done. Tuesday night another terrific electrical storm passed over and the water fell again in torrents.

The weather has been terrifically hot and this seems to be the result of it. The damage to the county was exceedingly heavy.

PLANT WAS CRIPPLED.

Last Friday and Saturday the Electric Co. had the misfortune to burn out a generator and shortly after they were running their auxiliary with the steam engine it blew out a cylinder head and to top off the water was so low in the river that water power could not be used hence the people were out of power for two days.

The Electric Co. has given the people the best kind of service at all times and they were greatly embarrassed by the series of accidents which kept them from having a perfect score but it is often said that when it rains it sometimes pours and this was one of the times when it poured accidents on our electric service with the result that some inconvenience was forced upon us.

The Company did everything in their power working night and day to repair the damage at the earliest possible moment and everyone took their inconvenience philosophically knowing that this very efficient concern would get power to us as soon as it was humanly possible to do so and they did. Power was ready Monday morning and everything moved along in the old way again.

As long as there is machinery, it will bust and everyone knows it and the most excellent service the Electric Co. has always maintained here gives them the complete confidence of the people and for that reason we failed to hear a single "crab" when hard luck did come their way. Good for the Company and for the people too.

WANTS LOADS OF POULTRY.

The Manager of the Rivard Poultry Co. located at 318 West Church St., Adrian, was in the office last Saturday night and that he was buying all the poultry stated he could get and paying the highest market price for the same. He said they always paid spot cash and went after the poultry themselves.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find his ads and if you have any poultry to sell you had better get intouch with him to see if he can make you any money. Farm products are very low and if you can make money by selling your poultry at the highest price, it will pay you to do so. At least try him out.

Smith, Patterson Are Re-Elected

Over 200 Out To Annual Meeting. 164 Votes Cast For Trustees. Biggest Meeting Held In Years Was Adjourned To Presbyterian Church.

The Herald is pleased to be able to say that the largest annual school meeting held in many years resulted last Monday night when over 200 people crowded the Presbyterian Church almost to capacity and 164 votes were cast for trustees.

This is a very healthy sign and the Herald is always pleased to see the people turn out in mass to attend to the people's business. We hope this turning out to meetings will spread like the measles and that the people will once more assume control of their own affairs, the surest safeguard to our great Americanism.

The meeting was first opened at the Library where it has usually been held with about 30 people present. But it at once became apparent that the library was far too small for the crowd coming out to this meeting and it was adjourned across the street to the Presbyterian church which was filled almost to capacity. John Nyland, Pres. of the Board of Trustees, offering the use of the church which was gladly accepted.

The meeting was called to order by Pres. J. H. Smith and the regular routine of business including the reading of the minutes, the annual report of the school district and the treasurer's report together with the library report were read and approved.

At the conclusion of this nominations to fill the expired term of J. H. Smith were called for and Atty. Rathbun took the floor and made a plea to return J. H. Smith who has served 30 years on the board. When the ballots were counted, Mr. Smith received 117 and the remaining 47 were scattered among a large number of candidates. Mr. Smith was declared elected. Atty. F. B. Wood then nominated Chas. Patterson to succeed himself while Ira Ladd nominated Frank Turner. When the ballots were counted Mr. Patterson received 116 and rest were scattering as Mr. Turner refused to run.

It has not been fully determined just how that one vote got away but it is thought that someone got to looking at his surroundings and put a penny in the hat instead of his vote when the tellers passed his way.

After the election the meeting adjourned with everyone feeling it was the kind of a meeting we should have every year instead of just a few. It was announced during the meeting that Mrs. Julia Ketcham has resigned her position as kindergarten teacher and the Board will proceed to elect another to fill the place.

It was also announced that there were 31 more pupils last year than the year before with the prospect of still further gains for the coming year which necessitates the opening of the old East Branch school to take care of the overflow in the present rooms and the increased attendance sure to come. The Board will proceed to do this.

The Library Report showed a splendid year with many new books added, many more readers than last year and many more books read. Rev. Buell has donated several books to the library which were thankfully received and the Catholic Church donated some valuable works which were also thankfully received.

Atty. F. B. Wood acted as chairman during the election and J. N. Satterthwaite, H. S. Waring and John Boyce were the tellers.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST.

Mrs. Wm. Fsher entertained Tuesday evening in honor of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Taylor and guest Mrs. Riggs of Chicago, who came the same day to visit.

A delicious three course dinner was served, covers being laid for twenty. Roses were used for decoration and made the tables very attractive and dainty place cards marked each plate.

The oldest guests were Mrs. Lydia Coryell who is eighty-eight years of age and Mrs. Taylor who is eighty. Mrs. Cass Zeluff of Britton was the out of town guest.

A REAL FOURSOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kopka celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on the Fourth of July and greatly enjoyed the day. Their four children were present to make them happy and in this lies a tale.

Four children and two sons-in-law and two daughters-in-law with four grandsons and four granddaughters. Quite a foursome and all certainly enjoyed the day at the old home. A bounteous dinner was served with everyone doing full justice to Mother's good cooking.

NOTICE.

NORTH SHORE HOTEL ENJOYS GOOD SEASON.

The North Shore Hotel at Sand Lake is enjoying a good season this year under the management of Henry Schirm who is a very hospital host thus making that pleasant spot a very enticing place for the summer vacationists who enjoy the cool breezes of the lake for a season.

This hotel is located upon a high bank above the water with a wonderful view of this lake. Its extremely wide veranda used for dancing and as a rest place during the day is one of the finest in the state and as the hotel is located high above the lake, one gets the benefit of every breeze that blows.

The rooms are large and airy and the dining room service is most excellent. One can get fish or frog-leg dinners there at a very reasonable rate as well as chicken dinners at any time and you sure get a real dinner with the service unsurpassed by any lake resort in these parts.

The grounds are high and dry and a beautiful grove lends enchantment for those who like the forest primeval and its cooling shade during the day. A new dancing pavilion is almost ready for use and after July 15th dancing will be held there regularly.

Mr. Schirm is a splendid host and makes his guests as comfortable as it is possible to do. When making your rounds of the summer resorts dont fail to stop over and give the North Shore Hotel at Sand Lake a call and see for yourself what a fine place this now is.

STOLEN CAR FOUND.

Ladd & Weir are in receipt of a telegram from the sheriff of Roscommon County stating that the car which was stolen from their garage some time ago has been found at Roscommon.

At the time the car was stolen several tires were taken and these were subsequently found in Ann Arbor.

A suspect who formerly lived here has been locked up at Roscommon and is held pending advices from here. The name is withheld at this time as it is his first offense and he has undoubtedly been badly influenced by others if indeed he is implicated in the affair.

GEORGE HARRIOTT DROPS DEAD.

This village was stunned last Wednesday when the news spread that Geo. Harriott one of the best liked men in this community had dropped dead while riding in his buggy on Chicago St.

Mr. Harrott was riving east and in his usually happy manner waved at an acquaintance when death touched him and he dropped back dead.

Mr. Harriott was one of the most pleasant and genial men we have ever met, always happy and the very essence of courtesy and gentlemanly conduct. He could honestly call every man he met his friend and he numbered his acquaintances by the legion. Truly a most gracious and kind man has gone to the better land.

Mr. Harriott had been a sufferer from heart disease for a number of years and about five years ago had a severe sick spell with the same disease. He was born Jan. 6, 1851 and was 72 years old when he passed on. He was born in Saline Township and always lived near here residing in the city for the past twelve years. He leaves a wife and one sister, Mrs. Geo. Avery, to mourn their loss.

The Herald extends its profound sympathy to the bereaved ones knowing that in his passing this community has lost a truly good and gracious man.

ROAD EAST OF CITY COMPLETED.

The last bit of cement has been poured on the new concrete road east of town and we now have a solid cement or macadam road from Tecumseh east to Monroe, a distance of thirty miles.

The road will be opened in due time and the residents east of town will have a splendid road to Tecumseh, the hub of the universe. The Contractor has done a most excellent job and the road will be there a hundred years from now unless torn up.

The boulevard in the city is fast being completed and the big mixer will make short work of this job when it gets at it as it is planned to use that machine to complete this job as soon as it is released east of town. Two short patches, one by the bridge and one on the new fill are being put in on the road east and then all is complete on this job.

POLITICAL CHARITY.

The old adage that charity begins at home is just as true in state affairs as it is in family affairs but when the problems might stir up local conditions so that the suave politician would become embarrassed in trying to explain his do-nothing policy, they try to direct our vision high and far so that we will not see the trouble right in our own door yard.

When a pick-pocket wants to work he yells "see the airplane or look at the balloon" so that we will not notice him at work in our pockets, and the political bosses in both parties are commencing to yell world court and foreign policies so that the people will not ask them what about the price of coal and sugar and other necessary commodities that have gone sky high under the manipulation of the protected gouger who has become nothing more than a legalized robber who is extorting the last cent from the pockets of the people and at the same time is actually protected by the laws of this country in his piracy.

What excuse is there for coal costing $17 per ton now when it never cost over ten dollars for years until the coal operators got together and run the price up beyond all sense or reason aided by the railroads who have to have big dividends on millions of dollars worth of water poured into their capital stock?

We beileve there is no more excuse for sugar going up to ten cents than there is for coal going to $17 per ton except that the profiteers are out to make a killing and rob the people of everything possible to obtain.

But the political leaders who make politics and bossing the people their business as the hired men of these profiteers, are commencing to yell Foreign Affairs, World Court, etc. meaning we believe, see the balloon or the airplane while the protected profiteers get their hands into our pockets and extract what little remains without our knowing it

We are not setting up that either of the old political parties are above the other but we do believe that unless we as a people commence to think and act as individuals, taking an active part in everything that pertains to the election of our representatives who go to Washington to represent US in affairs of state, and make them go on record directly and unequivocally on such questions as "what are you going to do with the coal barons and sugar gougers and others who are unmercifully gouging the people" so that we will have some measure of relief extended, we must throw up our hands and reduce ourselves to absolute serfdom.

What is wrong with asking our representative in Congress what he has done or will do to prevent such a state of affairs as now exists in the coal industry? If you are not interested enough to write a letter or ask a question do you expect that those who represent us will sweat blood fighting a gang of wolves who tear him to pieces for daring to interfere with their business? If he does fight for you what is his reward? If it is like those who have gone before, it will be ungratefully kicked into oblivion because the party bosses asked it and you played the game of party slave and killed the fellow who dared to stand for your interests.

It takes nerve to fight the crowd for they fight back, but the people—they just take it like a whipped pup and the gang keeps the aforesaid people hoodwinked and buncoed into silence if not into actual approval of their own doom because they are slaves of party and rather be called a good party man if coal is $17 per ton and they freeze while standing in an attitude of sublime reverence before the picture of the party boss.

Is there any wonder our representatives can't hear the people's voice? There isn't any people's voice as long as the people are the slaves to the party boss. Who nominates our representatives? Do you as a free born individual, an American with responsibilities as such decide for yourself that you believe in sending someone to Congress who will fight for your interests, and forthwith say who it shall be and then you fall in line and boost for the choice of the boss who is named by the very interests you seek to defeat and who are the very ones who are holding you up so unmercifully.

Will the people ever wake up and act or will we continue in the hands of those who make politics a business and who do the bidding of the coal gouger while we see our farm products become worth little or nothing and the farmers slowly but surely reduced to bankruptcy?

Its the plain people's fault that such conditions exist and they always will exist until the plain people think and act for themselves instead of playing follow the political boss Political independence in thought and action is a crying need right now if the plain people are to get anything like a square deal.

Mid-Summer Clearance Sale

Every year in January and July, Glasgow Bros. hold a Clearance Sale. This year we have gone through our stock and have made some decided reductions. The cold, backward spring has left us with larger stocks of goods than we want to carry over, so we have cut the prices on them to a very low figure. This loss will be your gain. We carry nothing but dependable merchandise. This has been our endeavor ever since we have been in business and by this method we have built up an enviable reputation of carrying nothing but high grade goods. In former sales we have made some very big reductions, but our MID SUMMER CLEARANCE SALE now will eclipse any we have ever had.

Coats, Capes, Suits, Silk Dresses, Sweaters, Blouses, Petticoats—all at greatly reduced prices.

Cash Goods of all kinds cut to the very heart. We must sell them.

LONG LIFE

In buying a motor car, consider what the cost will be when divided over a period of years.

What is the car's reputation for satisfactory service after the first year? After the second? And after the third—and fourth?

These considerations, in the final analysis, are the true basis of economy in motoring.

And it is this attribute of long life to which Dodge Brothers Motor Car owes its chief claim upon the unalterable loyalty of its owners.

PLYMOUTH TWINE
AGENCY

A Straight Tip

THERE is a real saving in the use of Plymouth Twine, to say nothing of the satisfaction, over the cheap kinds which do not have the necessary strength and uniformity, and which are invariably under measurement.

A recent comparison of a ball of

with that of another make which was made in the field last season showed that it would take 135 pounds of the cheap twine to bind the same amount of grain that 100 pounds of Plymouth Twine would tie. The cheap twine was not only greatly under measurement, but was decidedly inferior in quality and strength.

Better take no chances; place your order for Plymouth Twine with us and get full length and strength, which is guaranteed by the Plymouth Tag on each and every ball.

OBITUARY.

Hyman Armour was born in County Antrim, Ireland, July 26, 1851. His boyhood days were spent on the farm. In 1876 he was married to Nancy C. Stevenson, and the same year they emigrated to America where he began life as a farm hand near this village. To this union were born two sons, one died in infancy and the other at the age of 23 years.

Honest and industrious he was soon able to buy a home of his own where he prospered and became one of the honored and respected citizens of the community. Of a kind and loving disposition he was a friend to everyone. Five years ago he retired from farm life and moved to Tecumseh where he resided until his death, June 28, 1923.

He is survived by his wife, one sister Mary Armour McCoy, a brother John Armour of Pennsylvania, also several nieces and nephews.

His kind and genial face and joyful greeting will be missed by all his friends and acquaintances.

Card of Thanks

I wish to sincerely thank all who so kindly assisted me in the hour of my affliction. Also those who donated their cars and those who furnished the flowers. And especially Rev. Kiskaddon for his comforting words and to Mr. Belding for his untiring attention.

Nancy C. Armour.

Red Crown

Vaporizes to the Last Drop

To use Red Crown is the essence of economy—not from the standpoint of purchase price alone but from the results earned.

When Red Crown is mixed with air in your carburetor it causes perfect combustion—this means the irreducible minimum of carbon deposit, consequently less fouling of spark plugs—it means less expense for grinding valves—it means a smoother running motor—it means little, if any, pre-ignition. When you use Red Crown

There Is No Waste

either of money or energy. Every drop is converted into power—clean, sustained, usable power. It is obvious that 800° of heat in your cylinder heads under working conditions is all and sufficient to burn the heaviest ends of Red Crown. That is why you get such extraordinary mileage when you have Red Crown in your tank.

How Money Grows

Just the small sum of $1.00 deposited each year at compound interest for a period of 50 years, amounts to $307.75. That's how money grows.

Suppose a young man at 20 years of age decided to deposit only a dollar each year. At 70 he would have the above amount. Or, suppose he had managed to save and deposit $10.00 each year. At 70 he would have $3,077.50. Now suppose any young man could save more than that. Suppose he put $100 at compound interest each year. At 70 it would amount to $30,775.00. How many people at 70 have that much?

It is not an ointment but an internal medicine that seems to find its way to the source and has the magical effect of clearing the skin before you can realize it. There is nothing more utterly foolish than treating skin disease such as itching eczemas and the poison of ivy, oak or sumach by smearing the skin. This is proved beyond question by the action of Whitmarsh Blood Elixir. Get a $1.00 bottle and try it. If it doesn't act in your case take the bottle back and get your money. Facts About Optometry

By
KARL A. BRAMAN

The practice of optometry embraces other considerations than the determining the character and extent of errors of vision.

Optometrists attempt to give their patients COMFORTABLE VISION. Generally speaking, the greatest value of Optometrists to the public is not in giving their patients the most acute vision. Many patients see TOO WELL. To these the Optometrist explains the conditions, and in striving to give the patient comfortable vision it may be necessary to reduce the acuity of vision.

Or where an error of vision has existed for years without correction, the Optometrist must exercise his judgment in deciding how much of the error should be corrected at a given time.

RESIGNS AS CASHIER.

Frank Snell, Cashier of the Tecumseh State Savings Bank, has tendered his resignation as such the same to take effect November 1st when he expects to locate in Denver, Colo.

Mr. Snell has been in the Tecumseh State Bank for the past eleven years and has made a most excellent record in that institution working his way up to cashier by sheer merit at every step. He is a quiet unassuming young man who has devoted his best energies to the duties of the bank and he has made a host of friends and enjoys the complete confidence of this entire community. We know of no man who is better fitted for such responsibilities and whose careful considerate work has commended them more highly to the public. He will leave behind him a legion of friends who wish him abundant success in his new field of labor.

Mr. Snell will move his wife and two children to Denver the coming fall where he intends to locate permanently.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. F. E. Snedecor entertained her "500" Club with five tables of players. Summer flowers made the home more beautiful and the hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon.

Ralph Boyd Killed At The Gravel Pit

Found In Bin Caught In Conveyor. Two Tons Of Gravel On Top Of Him. No One Saw Him Disappear Accident Shocked The Community.

A sad accident occured at the Fisher Gravel Pit last Monday afternoon about 3:30 p. m. when Ralph Boyd aged twenty years, son of Jas. Boyd of Raisin Township lost his life in a tragic manner.

Mr. Boyd had worked at the pit for several months and when last seen was on top of one of the bins seeing that the gravel dropped into the conveyor at the bottom of the bin as it sometimes becomes clogged or a crust forms over the top which has to be broken.

No one saw Mr. Boyd disappear but it is thought that perhaps a crust did form over the bin and that the gravel was sucked out from beneath it and that Boyd stepped on this crust not knowing it was hollow below and that it fell through with him and the sides caved onto him throwing about two tons of gravel on him. When found he was in the conveyor with his feet sticking through which attracted the attention of the foreman who promptly shut off the power and he was immediately extracted.

When brought out he was dead and it is thought that he was crushed by the weight of the sand on top of him as well as being bruised by the conveyor. It was a very sad accident as he was a quiet unassuming young man who attended strictly to his work and was most highly thought of by everyone.

The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the home with burial in Brookside. Rev. Kiskaddon officiated. The sister, brothers and father have the deepest sympathy of everyone. The services were conducted by the U. R., K. of P. of which the deceased was a member.

GIVES FORMER PASTOR RECEPTION.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Lawrence Linton and daughter Lois of Damascus, Ohio, came Wednesday to spend a few days with friends. Rev. Linton is a former pastor of the Friends church and their many friends were very glad to see them again.

On Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wonders a party of friends gathered to give them a welcome and a very pleasant evening was spent in music and visiting. Refreshments were served.

They started on a motor trip Monday morning to Indiana where they will visit for a time and later they plan to motor to Nebraska where they were located before coming to Michigan..

D. V. B. S. Is SUCCESS.

That the Daily Vacation Bible School, conducted by the Tecumseh churches for the past five weeks has been productive of much good among the small people of the town was evidenced on Sunday night when the last meeting of the course was held at the Presbyterian church. This has been a community affair and not only were the youngsters taught much about the Holy Writ but many other things of value and the tie between the churches was cemented stronger than ever and that Union of the churches is a great point among our people.

The last of the week Braun & Bridges donated the use of their west window to the little folks for a display of the manual work they have been taught. Among the articles were hammocks woven in full size, kites with long tails, doll sets of furniture, a beautiful display of baskets, etc.

On Sunday night the church was decorated with boughs of green and all the little people were keyed up to do their best. Each department was in charge of their instructors, as follows:

Kindergarten—Miss Drury and Miss Mildred Haines.

Primary—Misses Gertrude Turner and Ellen Snedecor.

Junior—Miss Irene Marsh and Mrs. C. E. Moorman.

Seniors—The Misses Alice Whelan, Clara Wilson, Geraldine Gillespie and Bernice Austin, by turns.

The following program was given with Rev. Buell conducting the singing and Miss Marsh the musician:

Processional—Miss Marsh.

Flag salute.

Prayer—Rev. Escolme.

Living pictures — Kindergarten Department.

Song—Leila Linger and Louise Leighton.

Bible verses and song—Primary Department.

Family worship exemplified—Juniors.

"The Wind Song" and school yell—D. V. B. S.

Song, "Onward Christian Soldiers"—Primary Department.

Dramatizations by Seniors.

"The Good Samaritan" Samaritan—Fay Whelan.

"Ruth," part of Ruth by Eleanor Reed.

Each pastor has been in attendance every day and taken his full share of the work of the school. The whole community came across with the necessary expense and already another school for next year is proposed.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

On July 4th Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Wyman of Franklin township celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. The day was very happily spent at Sand Lake together with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Willard LeRoy Wyman and daughters Katherine and Pauline of Star City, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Seeber L. Wyman and children Howard, John and Alice and Mrs. Adeline Holdridge of Tecumseh, the later being a sister of Mrs. Wyman.

A wonderful dinner was served and the day passed only too quickly. Mr. and Mrs. Wyman were married at Bakers Corners near Lyons Ohio, and started housekeeping on a farm in Fairfield where they built them a home and have resided there for about thirty-five years. They have been prominent workers in the M. E. church for over forty years and have a host of friends all over Lenawee County. About three years of their married life was spent in Butler, Ind. and they have spent twelve years in Franklin, actively engaged in farming until the past few months.

They are prominent social workers and interested in all of the affairs of the day.

"A half century has passed,
And we are still together,
Our bonds grew closer, closer clasped
When we had stormy weather."

GIVEN A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Mrs. Leonard Mangus was pleasantly surprised Tuesday when her three sisters, Mrs. Matie DePuy, Mrs. Ida Spencer and Mrs. Willis Smith and niece, Mrs. Wm. Spaulding came to spend the day with her and help her celebrate her birthday anniversary.

They came with well filled baskets and a bountiful pot luck dinner was served and a pleasant social time enjoyed during the afternoon.

Legion Will Hold Home Comer's Day

August 8th Set For Big Event. Sports Of All Kinds, Concessions, Base Ball Game, And Big Dance On Pavement In The Evening. Fun For Everyone

The next big event will be the home comer's day held on Wednesday, August 8th under the auspices of the American Legion right here in Tecumseh, the center of everything worth while.

When the Legion puts on a big day it is the real thing and this event promises to be without a peer in the entertainment line for they have secured the use of the streets from the council and plans are rapidly being matured to make this an event that will attract the people for miles around.

Everything in the lines of shows that ought to be seen will be offered and concessions will dot the streets offering their alluring attractions to the people who wish to take a chance on blankets, dolls and whatnots. Bands of music will furnish the inspiration and entertain the people.

A base ball game between Tecumseh and some fast team of prominence will also furnish amusement for the fans who are devotees of the all American sport. And a big dance on the pavement will give the lads a chance to swing their best girl around to the syncopated strains of that alluring jazz. In fact everything worth while for fun and amusement will be right on hand so that not a dull moment can be found for young or old.

Remember the date and be on hand to help celebrate and renew your youth and vigor. Something for everyone every minute. Come.

CLASS PICNIC AT WAMPLERS LAKE.

Some weeks ago the Dorcas Class of the Methodist Episcopal Church composed of the young married women and taught by Mrs. H. U. Abbott dared the Young Married Men's Class to a membership contest. Let it be said that this was done in no spirit of rivalry but with a friendly spirit on the part of the ladies, they felt that the men needed something to put a little "pep" into them and cause them to wake up. To make a long story short the "girls" won out and lost out too, they lost the membership contest but gained their point as usual as they got the "boys" coming to Sunday School.

The final result of the contest was seen last Thursday night at the summer home of the Waldron family at Wamplers Lake where the members and friends of both classes to the number of about seventy sat down to an elaborate dinner prepared by the young housewives.

The evening was ideal and visiting and bathing and other forms of recreation were enjoyed until a late hour everybody going home tired but happy.

ENTERTAINS HONORING MRS. E. J. ROGERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner entertained at their cottage at Sand Lake Friday evening honoring Mrs. E. J. Rogers who leaves soon for her new home in Detrit.

A delicious dinner was served and boating and swimming were enjoyed during the evening. Those present were the Misses Ruth and Katherine Reed, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Temple and son Jimmie, F. J. Temple and daughter Miss Vie.

PARKS—MOBBS

Mrs. May Mobbs and Edwin M. Parks of Grand Rapids were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at Adrian at the home of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Marble. Rev. Earl R. Rice, pastor of the M. E. church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. The bride wore a beautiful gown of black crepe de chene.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Aylesworth of this place and is well known in town, having worked at the Webster Anderson store for a number of years.

They will make their home in Grand Rapids where Mr. Parks has a position and the best wishes of their many friends in town go with them.

TUTTLE FAMILY REUNION.

The Tuttle family reunion was held Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Dell and seventy-eight were present. A bountiful dinner was served at noon after which a business session was held and the invitation was given and accepted to go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tuttle at Seneca next year.

The company were very much surprised when the announcement was made that a bride and groom were present, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tuttle. They received their share of rice and congratulations.

Relatives were present from Flint, Detroit, Monroe, Ann Arbor, Seneca, Sand Creek, Brooklyn, Jackson, Cement City, Billing Montana, Florida.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith at their Sand Lake cottage were Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Cotton of Saline and Edward and Miss Florence Frensdorf of Hudson.

COUNCIL MET MONDAY NIGHT

The village council met last Monday night at the council rooms with all members present except Trustee Lidke and it proved an interesting session though void of much excitement.

The usual bills were audited and allowed and discussions held relative to water rates, etc. Trustee Heilman says that there is plenty of water in the standpipe and in the 2 wells to supply all the water necessary to fight any possible fire but no data was given to substantiate this claim. It seems there is a different opinion held by former trustees who have devoted several years to the study of our water system. Mr. Heilman also pointed out that the engineer was now pumping less water than he did last summer because the flush tanks had been closed and leaks stopped which show progress in cutting down expenses.

Henry VanDuzer brought in a pitcher of red lemonade and the council did ample justice to it from the very start. The thirsty reporter looked on with longing eyes but it was evident there was barely enough to supply the council drought so all he got was a look. We are sure that it must have been pink lemonade for Henry is now deputy marshall and nothing stronger would he tolerate under any conditions. However, after Ben Pulver had taken his second glass he looked over at the people's favorite trustee, Dr. Hendershot and yelled, "look at the bug." R. K. Anderson who occupies a seat next to the Dr. rushed to the rescue and hit at what he thought was a bug. This startled the dignity of our popular village President who waved both hands in the direction of his stomach and looked appealingly at the village clerk to see if Mr. Bug had taken refuge on that portion of the said village President's anatomy which for some years has been hardly visible to our worthy executive. Being assured that there was no bug to be seen, matters gradually assumed normal but it was noticed that the honorable councilmen refrained from any more refreshments except Ed Heilman who with Ben Pulver took another glass but then they belong to the party which has recently been denied political refreshments and doubtless they thought it but fair to take a little extra.

Altogether it was a very amiable and business like meeting and the request of the American Legion to hold a sports day with the use of the streets was granted for August 8th.

It is probable that light posts will be installed in the boulevard as the commerce club has already put in the cable and when completed we will have one of the prettiest streets in Michigan bar none.

The Herald reporter was pleased to note the businesslike manner in which the city fathers transacted the business at hand and the air of pleasant relations that prevaded the room at all times but cannot forget how thirsy we were and how good that pink lemonade looked even if we could not see any bug and we looked as closely as possible.

It is very noticeable that Henry keeps the building just like spotless town and the rooms as if some one with an eye for cleanliness was on the job there at all times.

TECUMSEH MAN'S LUCKY FIND.

Will Interest Readers of the Herald.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Tecumseh man.

Geo. Harriott, prop. of wholesale butcher business, 205 Oneida St., says: "I don't know of any remedy I could recommend more highly than Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were weak and the secretions were unnatural. Backache was especially troublesome when I went to lift anything heavy as it caught me just over my kidneys. I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them from Wright & Son's Drug Store and they weren't long in curing me up in good shape. I have never been bothered since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harriott had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Slight Charge for Alteration

An Event Famous For Its Reductions Respected for Its Integrity!

Many men are skeptical about sales and we don't blame them. Yet there is one acid test by which the validity of a sale may be proved. "Is it Regular Merchandise, and are the Reductions made from actual former prices and not arbitrary valuations?" No man who applies that test to a sale announced by this store is ever disappointed. He knows that the merchandise is regular stock. He knows that the reductions are genuine. And he knows that this store's integrity is still operating at sale time!

Thief! Thief! Thief!

It takes more than a double barred lock, a double barreled shot gun or even burglar alarms on the windows to protect the home. There's one very stealthy thief who ignores such precautions.

Decay attacks where least expected and is ever at it day and night.

Such places as the window frames, which are seldom examined closely are favorite spots for decay to get a foothold. This is the best time of the year to paint. Your home may never burn but it will surely decay unless painted.

We can sell you the best paint for every purpose. We carry a complete stock of Sherwin-Williams mixed paint. Also Pure Linseed Oil and White Lead to meet every need.

This is paint time—Do it now.

Annual Report of Public Library
School District No. 7, Tecumseh, Michigan, July 1, 1922—June 30, 1923

Circulation.

Last year we had the pleasure of reporting the largest circulation in the history of the library, and 1921-1922 still remains the banner year, as the year just closing has seen a slight falling off in the number of books circulated. The total number of books issued for home use in 1922-1923 was 19,900, an average of a little less than 8.2 for each inhabitant of the village, as against 9.8 in the previous year. This falling off in circulation from the large figures of last year is a condition reported by many libraries and is gratifying in one way since last year even in our small town the number of book borrowers was increased considerably by men who were out of employment and therefore had much leisure for reading. This year these men are employed and have less time for reading. Another fact that may partially account for the reduced circulation is that a collection of books has been installed in the high school building for the use of the students.

One hundred and sixty-four new borrowers were enrolled and seven names dropped, leaving a total of 2394 cards in force at the present time.

Of the 19,900 books issued, 60% were fiction, 21% juvenile, and 19% solid.

Magazines were issued for home use to the number of 3206.

The reading rooms and reference shelves have been well patronized, the seating capacity of the reading rooms having been over taxed sometimes in the winter evenings.

Book Collection.

One hundred and sixty-seven books have been added this year, of which 78 are fiction, 8 juvenile, 62 solid, and 19 bound volumes of magazines.

Sixteen of these books were gifts, six from individuals and ten from public sources. A gift of seventy books has been received from the Rev. Mr. Buell and the Catholic encyclopedia in seventeen volumes was presented by the Catholic church. None of these books have yet been accessioned so are not included in the number of additions for this year. Several persons have kindly responded to the request for back numbers of magazines for which we extend our thanks.

One hundred and thirty-two books were added by purchase, at a cost of $234.15.

Fourteen books were discarded, leaving a total of 7838 books in the library at the present time, exclusive of the unaccessioned gifts above mentioned.

Forty-two magazines and other periodicals are now regularly received in the reading rooms, five of which are gifts and thirty-seven are paid for from library funds.

Financial Report.

Receipts

On hand July 1, 1922	$ 1.98
Received from fines	120.77
Received from rentals	13.80
Received from sale of old papers	1.30
Total	$178.16

Expenditures

New books	$125.58
Recasing books	25.80
Sundries	10.05
On hand June 30, 1923	16.73
Total	$178.16

It is interesting to know that the amount per capita of population spent for the support of the library was $ .77, aside from this $178.16. Library experts consider $1.00 per capita the least that should be required for adequate support.

General

A pleasant feature of the library year was the Round Table conference which was held here in March, conducted by Miss Walton of the State Normal School and attended by librarians from the neighboring counties.

Our card catalog has been improved by the addition of an index to collected biography making the books of this character much more useful.

The librarian wishes to extend her thanks to the school meeting of last year for their gracious act in increasing her salary, and hopes that she may show her appreciation by serving them acceptably.

Respectfully submitted,
Edith L. Ingersoll, Librarian.

The meeting then proceeded to elect by ballot trustees to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Joseph H. Smith and Charles F. Patterson.

The president appointed as tellers, Newton J. Satterthwaite, H. S. Waring, and Jno. T. Boyce who were duly sworn before proceeding with their duties.

President Smith then called Trustee Wood to the chair.

Chairman Wood called for nominations for the vacancy caused by the expiration of J. H. Smith's term of office.

The name of J. H. Smith was placed in nomination by Geo. A. Rathbun. No other nominations being made a vote was taken, resulting as follows: whole number of votes 164 of which J. H. Smith receiving 117 and a majority of all votes cast was declared elected to succeed himself for the ensuing three years.

President Smith then returned to the chair and called for nominations to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of office of C. F. Patterson.

The name of C. F. Patterson was placed in nomination by F. B. Wood and Frank S. Turner's name was placed in nomination by Ira Ladd.

No further nominations being made a vote was taken.

The number of ballots cast was 163 of which C. F. Patterson receiving 117 and a majority of all votes cast was declared elected to succeed himself as trustee of the district for the ensuing three years.

The meeting then adjourned.

C. F. Patterson, Sec'y.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

The profession of Optometry is unique in that so large percentage of the public require eye attention without being aware of the fact.

As before stated, probably forty percent of the total population need an optometrical service to some extent.

Please note that word service. Possibly the greatest change that has taken place in Optometry is in the constantly growing reference to the work of an Optometrist as service. The public habitually refer to an Optometrist as doctor. The Optometrist does not encourage the use of the term, though he realizes that the service he renders his patients is as strictly professional as that of any other profession.

Pocket Money--

Which is the better? The dollar in your pocket, or the one safely deposited at our Bank? There can be but one correct answer.

The dollar in your pocket is elusive. It is where you can easily reach it. You "obey that sudden impulse" and away goes the dollar. After it has gone you wish you had it back, but it takes more than wishes to get another dollar these days. Put your dollars in the bank, thus avoiding temptation to spend them. Soon they will be working for you.

MOTOR CARS

Why Buick is "The Standard of Comparison"

It has been a fixed Buick policy always to anticipate motoring demands by developing new and advanced features of design and construction.

This has been one of the many factors contributing to Buick's great popularity—a popularity tangibly expressed in the fact that Buick is well on its way towards the manufacture of its two-millionth motor car.

Buick recognizes it as a distinct obligation to live up to the spirit and letter of its slogan "When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them".

Famous Tree in Park.

General Grant National park, in California, is but six miles from Sequoia by good road. It became a national park in 1890 to preserve the celebrated General Grant tree, the second in size and age in the world, being superseded only by the General Sherman tree, the largest and oldest living thing in all the world. The General Grant tree has a diameter of 35 feet, while the General Sherman measures 36½ feet in diameter. This park has an area of but four square miles, yet every mile of it is packed brimming full of unusually attractive scenery.

Why Worry?

The fussy station master of a small village near Edinburgh found, one night, a fellow countryman standing, nonchalantly smoking, with his feet half over the edge of the "up" platform.

"Don't you know that the Edinburgh express is passing here directly at 60 miles an hour?" said the station master. "Come back, come back!"

The other slowly turned his head and, taking the pipe out of his mouth, replied: "You're awfy feered for your train!"—Exchange.

BOAT RACING IS MODERN

It Once Was Considered Form of Manual Labor, and Appropriate Only for Slaves.

Boat racing, except among professionals, is quite a modern sport, which dates, roughly, from the commencement of the last century. It was first brought into fashion about that time by the two great Thamesside public schools, Eton and Westminster, from which young oarsmen took their favorite pastime with them to Oxford and Cambridge. Previously "tugging at the toilsome oar" had been considered a form of manual labor fit only for slaves or the poorest class of citizens. It was also the kind of punishment reserved for the worst class of criminals, the Detroit News remarks.

The first amateur boat race of which there is authentic record was a match between the barristers of the Temple and the Boys of Westminster school, which the schoolboys won because the men of law were fat. But boat racing did not really obtain a recognized place in amateur sport until the '30s of the last century, when Henley regatta was established and the Wingfield sculls were founded.

AND WAR WAS ON AGAIN

Facetious Minneapolis Man Did His Part in Giving New Life to the Old Animosities.

In an attempt to settle the war of rivalry that has so long existed between the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, it was decided by the civic organizations of the two cities to have a banquet and get-together meeting to see if ways and means could not be found to bury all animosities.

After partaking of good food and pre-Volstead refreshments, speeches were in order. The chairman called on a prominent citizen of Minneapolis, who, in a very forcible manner, eulogized the Twin Cities, their resources, their advantages and the pleasure of living in the united city. When he had finished a gentleman from St. Paul arose and stated that there was just one question he wanted to ask: "What shall we name the united city?"

The gentleman from Minneapolis arose and, after considerable thinking, said: "I would name it Minnehaha—'Minne' for Minneapolis, and 'Ha! Ha!' for St. Paul."—Forbes Magazine.

Sincere, but Mistaken.

A neatly dressed man, with a black mustache, stood, during the fall months, just outside our station, and as passengers came out would stop them and inquire: "Have you any old clothing you'd like to sell."

My husband recently bought a new overcoat, and I decided to sell his old one. I remembered the man with the black mustache. I watched for him for some time without success. Finally, one evening, I saw him in his usual place.

Delighted and confident, I walked up to him, and said: "Are you the old clothes man?"

"Am I what?" he asked.

"Don't you buy old clothes?" I inquired again.

"I do not," said he, frankly amazed.

I mumbled apologies and departed hastily.—Detroit Free Press.

Science Explains Top Spinning.

Everyone who has ever whirled a string to which a stone is tied must have noticed the strong "pull" as the stone tried to get away. Every part of a spinning top is trying to fly away from the center of the top in exactly the same way. This pull is called "centrifugal force"—the tendency to fly from the center. As each particle of the top has an equal pull, none of them can upset the balance of the others. So long as this force is strong enough—that is, so long as the spin lasts—it counteracts the ordinary power of gravity, which has to confine itself to the peg of the top, the only point actually touching the earth. When the top slows down, the centrifugal force relaxes, gravity comes into its own again—and the top falls over.—Scientific American.

Borderland of Sleep.

"Once you cross the threshold of sleep," said Dr. Hereward T. Carrington, lecturer, psychologist and student of the occult, "you begin to dream. Often you do not remember dreaming, and rarely ever do you remember more than the sketchy outlines of your dreams, but the dreaming has been continuous just the same."

It is with this threshold, this borderland state, when the conscious is becoming quiet and the subconscious is becoming active, that the study of the nature of sleep chiefly is concerned. It is in that period that most of the important discoveries about sleep and dreams are made. A few instances have been found where the figures of dreams, dream impressions, have been so vivid as to remain with the dreamer for a short time after waking.

Let the Goods Speak, Said Buyer.

"Now," said the voluble salesman, "here's something that speaks for itself."

"All right," interrupted the weary buyer, "suppose you keep quiet a couple of minutes and give it a chance."—London Tit-Bits.

Old Educational Institutions.

The grammar school of Aberdeen claims to be the oldest school in the British empire. The prospectus says that in the register of the abbey of Arbroath, under date of 1262, one Thomas De Bennum was designated Rector Scholarum de Aberdene.

Merton college, Oxford, is the most ancient educational institution in the south, the date of her founding being 1274. The oldest school in England is Winchester, which dates from 1387.

GUESTS OF B. Y. P. U

The C. E. Society of the Friends church were guests of the Baptist B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening and conducted the service. Russell Comfort was leader of the meeting and many interesting points were brought up and discussed, relative to the social life of the young people of the present day.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Mina Lamkin and Miss Helen Sheldon and a mixed quartette from the Friends church composed of Mrs. Peter Hensen, Russell Comfort, Sayson Hensen and Mabel Lockwood gave the musical numbers on the program. The meeting was a profitable one and well attended.

TAKES BAD SPILL.

Last Friday as Wm. Beardsley and John Bell were driving between Clinton and Tecumseh, they turned out to pass Fred Temple and lost control of their Ford which turned over in the ditch and was considerably damaged.

No one was hurt except for minor bruises and it was a lucky accident. Some of these days it may be more serious.

HARPER—BOWEN.

The following clipped from the Washington C. H. Herald is of interest to our readers as the Bowen family is well known here and the parents of the bride called Tecumseh home for many years.

A full column was given to the wedding of this couple in the Washington C. H. paper and a very elaborate write-up showed the event to be one of great social prominence there.

"Both bride and bridegroom have been extremely popular members of the younger society and the marriage is of social importance in a widely extended circle. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. C. Bowen and, a girl of rare charm and sweetness, combining with the equipment of the modern young woman, college bred a winsome personality which has inspired delightful friendships. Following her graduation from the Washington High School, she completed her education at Western College, Oxford, and returned to successfully take up the duties of Physical Director of the Young Woman's Christian Association. Last year she taught in the city schools and was re-engaged for the coming year. She belongs to both the Chi Delta Chi and Phi Beta Psi Sororities.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Harper and inherits an ability and temperament which peculiarly fits him for the field of journalism, and possesses a happy faculty of readily making and keeping friends."

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT.

Sunday morning about ten o'clock when the Misses Elizabeth and Gertrude Stelzer and Mr. Noland were on their way to Sand Lake to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCann at their cottage, the car struck some loose gravel at Springville and slid over an embankment turning once over and landing on the wheels right side up.

The occupants were not thrown out of the car but were all unconscious when found. Mr. Noland crushed his left hand and was badly bruised. Miss Elizabeth Stelzer received a very serious scalp wound which required eight stitches to close it and some minor bruises. Miss Gertrude Stelzer received two scalp wounds, a broken collar bone and a sprained right shoulder and hip and many bruises. Belding's ambulance and an Adrian ambulance brought them home and Dr. Hammel was called and cared for them.

The car which was a Studebaker touring was badly broken up and had to be towed into Adrian for repair.

Mrs. C. W. Price of Holloway is caring for them.

SAFETY STRENGTH RELIABILITY

REV. BUELL DELIVERS SERMON.

The union service was held at the Baptist church Sunday evening with a large attendance. The choir sang a selection after which Rev. H. A. Buell delivered a splendid sermon.

He took as a text Galatians 6:7, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Whatever the character of the seed we plant, we expect a harvest of the same kind in multiplied form. It is best to plant only the best seed and the farmer will use the nubbins and lay away the best for next seed planting time.

In the olden times the farmer planted by throwing the seed broadcast and now it is done by machinery and the same harvest is reaped, so it is the character of the seed and the soil and not the manner of planting.

He gave an interesting example of a worldly man, yet a professing christian. He is an enthusiastic business man, which does not hurt him as a Christian, but he is too absorbed in his business. When the call comes to help the needy and suffering and to contribute to missions he is too busy with his business; he is not at prayer meeting and fails to attend morning worship, too absorbed in business.

He was once a humble earnest Christian with a testimony, but he had a family to raise and educate and became more and more interested in raising money and God prospered him but he failed to honor God and lost his testimony.

People who spend their time in getting this world's goods and fail to take Christ into consideration will some day be sorry they have failed, and will not be able to slip even inside the gate

There are many ways of being intemperate but we usually think of drinking to excess and people must stand by the 18th amendment or our country will suffer.

It is too bad some men are trying to change our laws but if the people will stand true they will not be able to.

Other ways of being intemperate are giving vent to your feelings to excess and going too far in seeking for pleasure. Some people say young people must sow their wild oats, but it is not necessary, what the world needs now is young people of stable character.

The world needs Christian sowers and the Bible says, "He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed, will doubtless come again rejoicing, bringing his sheaves wth him."

WRIGHT—PALMER.

The marriage of Phena M. Palmer of Highland Park, Michigan and Donald F. Wright of Tecumseh, Michigan was solemnized in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, Detroit, Michigan., Thursday afternoon, July the nineteenth. Reverend Charles Mieres officiated.

The chapel was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers. The bride wore a gown of gray brocade with hat to match. Following the reception a dinner was given for the bride and groom and immediate relatives at the Dixieland Inn.

Mrs. Wright has been a teacher in the High School at Highland Park, Michigan for several years, and guests were present at the wedding and reception from Highland Park, Detroit, Adrian, Tecumseh, and Ridgeway.

Mr. Wright is one of Tecumseh's most successful young business men and is held in the highest esteem by his friends and acquaintances which means about everyone in these parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be at home in Tecumseh, Michigan after an automobile trip. Congratulations.

BOULEVARD IS COMPLETED.

The last of the cement has been poured on the Chicago St. boulevard and the road is completed as far as cement laying is concerned up to Adrian St. the western terminus of the boulevard.

One mile of road east from the Franklin town line has been graded and is ready for the cement which will be laid as soon as possible with the big mixer which pours cement at a rapid rate.

Everyone will be glad to know the road is completed in town and it will be a great thing for Tecumseh as soon as the link west of town is completed.

DREWYOR—AVERY.

Miss Mary Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Avery and Clyde E. Drewyor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Drewyor, both of this place, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage in Toledo by Rev. P. R. Smith.

Mrs. Drewyor has been employed as bookkeeper at the American Express Co. office for a long time and is popular among the young people of town. Mr. Drewyor is a member of the firm Drewyor & Robison and both have many friends who wish them a long life of happiness together. The Herald adds its congratulations.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST.

Miss Arlene Gillespie entertained Monday evening honoring her guest Miss Winifred Berchfield of Lansing. A six-thirty dinner was served, covers being laid for the Misses Marion Harrington, Frances Mominee, Clau Dyne Newton, Clara Wilson, Mildred Haines and Bernice Lamkin.

A social time and music was enjoyed during the evening.

NEWS GETS IN WRONG.

The following statement taken from an article printed in the Jackson News of July 19th shows how unreliable the "news" is that is sent to that organ from Tecumseh. The statement is as follows:

"Repeated editorial utterances in the Tecumseh Herald, edited by E. Armstrong, that in case of a large fire here the water supply would be insufficient to fight the flames were branded as false by Edward C. Heilman, chairman of the city water board, at the city council meeting Monday evening."

The only thing wrong about the above statement is that it is a downright lie and the author of it will please take notice.

When shown the statement as published in the News, Mr. Heilman said he had never branded any statement appearing in the Herald as false and that further he had not even read the article referred to.

The facts are that the discussion between Mr. Heilman and Mr. Armstrong at the council meeting were perfectly friendly and conducted with the utmost propriety without the slightest trace of any personality whatsoever.

And the facts are that the Herald published but one editorial concerning the water supply and that was last winter. And in that we gave the people such information as was available from the most trustworthy source possible to get it and every word written in the article was the absolute truth and unassailable. Further no one took any exception to the article at the time and many agreed that it was very timely and just the information that the people should have and the Herald stands squarely upon it as a very accurate and worthy discussion of a condition that should be thoroughly investigated.

Mr. Heilman gives it as his opinion that there is plenty of water in the stand pipe and in the wells for any emergency but he has no figures to back up his opinion. Mr. E. M. Campbell who was in charge of the water department for many years says otherwise and points to the fact that the normal consumption of water will lower the stand pipe 20 feet per hour and that the upper half of the standpipe is the only part useful to fight a fire as the lower part is practically on a level with the buildings and therefore useless to fight a fire with. He also says that at 6 o'clock at night when the standpipe had been filled with water, that the wells were often pumped dry. Does this look like plenty of water to fight a bad fire?

Someone wrote also that Mr. Heilman had said he could only use two hoses as each hydrant has two nozzels. Doesn't the boob author of that article know that in case of a bad fire or where a fire breaks out in more than one place that several hydrants are often used. And doesn't he know that a discussion was held sometime ago about making the threads on our hydrants conform to standard so if we should have to call for aid that Adrian could respond and use its hose on our hydrants?

Both Mr. Campbell and Mr. Arner who is our most efficient water superintendent and who know more about our water supply than all the rest put together we believe have opposed Mr. Heilman's views and their opinion concerning such a very important matter which vitally concerns the entire property owning public, should carry much weight regardless of the opinion of us uninformed. It is not a question of politics or passing the buck, but one of prime importance to everyone and our opinion is that a reliable survey should be made by a competent authority to determine what the conditions actually are and make such recommendations as are necessary for the good of the public.

Regarding the News article, it looks to the Herald as if someone with a very broad yellow streak up his back tried to use Mr. Heilman's opinion very properly expressed as a means of slapping the Herald while hiding his own identity which we trust will be known soon. In other words it appears to us that it is a shot from ambush which methods are too contemptible for further consideration and the author of the article should know now what the Herald thinks of his nefarious methods with which the general public will promptly agree we believe.

DR. MARSH LOCATES HERE.

Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, son of the Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, pastor of the M. E. church, has located in Tecumseh for the practice of his profession.

DODGE BROTHERS
TOURING CAR

In the cool of a Summer morning, it is gratifying to take your seat at the wheel, conscious that the Touring Car will do your bidding faithfully the long day through.

It is that time-tried dependability—so vital to the pleasure and economy of motoring—which, more than any single factor, has endeared Dodge Brothers Touring Car to so many hundreds of thousands of owners.

One-eighth of the total weight of the car consists of chrome vanadium steel. Many more pieces of alloy steel are used in vital parts than normal wear requires.

Facts About Optometry

By

KARL A. BRAMAN

The Optometrist attaches far more importance to the value of the service he renders the public than to the title by which he is known.

The better informed patient who consults an Optometrist does so for the good of his sight which he hopes to receive. No person should visit the Optometrist to buy a pair of glasses, but rather to consult him regarding the vision of the patient, and to undergo an examination to determine the condition of his eyes.

That is, the patient makes a professsional call upon the Optometrist. If the result of the visit should show the need of glasses, of course the Optometrist will supply them, otherwise not.

To be continued next Thursday. (adv)

AUTO RACES AT JACKSON.

The biggest auto race in this section of the state this year and the only one on the fast Jackson fair grounds track during the 1923 season will be held Sunday afternoon, July 29 when star drivers from many states will compete in a 50 mile race. This is the longest race that has ever been held in central Michigan and a great crowd is expected. The state police will have a special detail of men here to keep the crowd from the turns. The race is under the management of the Mich. Speedway association which held the 100 mile event on the state fair grounds at Detroit June 10th before a paid attendance of 16,500 people the greatest crowd that ever attended a race in that city.

Commenting on that race the Detroit newspapers said it was the best handled of any auto racing event in Detroit and Manager Geo. W. Dickinson of the state fair said the same thing.

The 50 mile event at Jackson will start at three o'clock, the gates will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. The cars will be examined at noon and the qualifying trials will start at 12 o'clock with the fastest eight cars starting the race. The Indianapolis scoring system will be used which means a huge score board on which spectators at all times can keep tab on the positions of each car in the race.

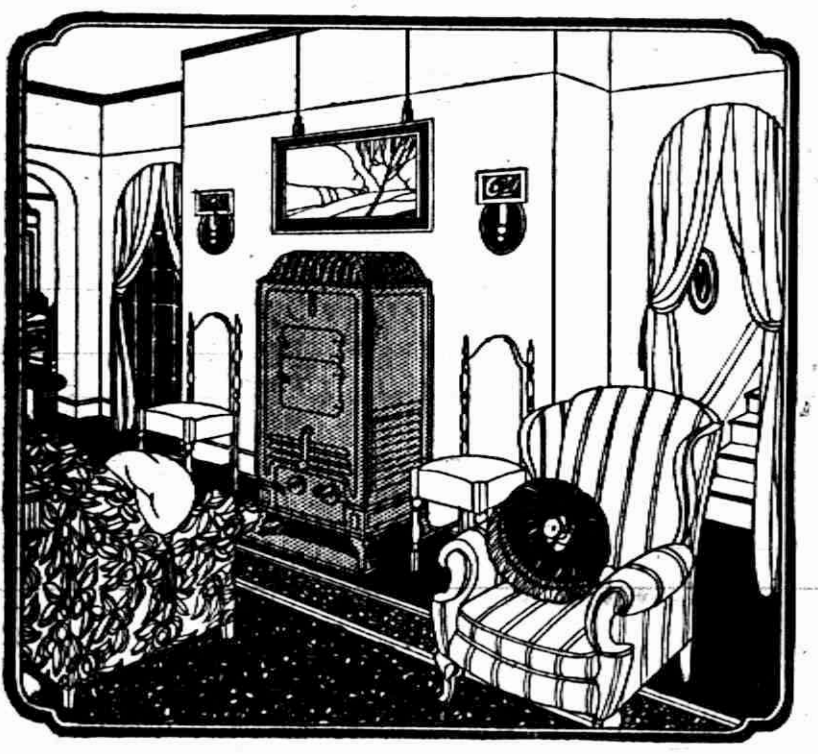
Everybody Welcome Home Comer's Day Wednesday, August 8th.



Have you joined our HEATROLA Club?

ONE TON of coal FREE to all who join before Aug 12th

This is our offer: To all who join our HEATROLA CLUB before August 12th we will give absolutely FREE ONE FULL TON OF COAL. The club fee is $2, which applies on the price of the Heatrola. The balance is payable in easy installments. Here is a chance to get one of these wonderful new-day heaters and a supply of fuel for the price of the Heatrola alone. Installation of the Heatrola will be made at any time specified by the purchaser.

$2 puts an Estate HEATROLA In your home! Order it Now!

All over the country, Heatrola dealers are making this offer on a limited number of Heatrolas and for the period from July 22nd to August 12th. Last year so many people waited for cold weather before ordering their Heatrolas that the factory was swamped with more orders than it could deliver. To prevent this congestion this year is the reason for this very attractive special offer.

Installed in one of the living-rooms, the Estate Heatrola supplies moist warm air to all connecting rooms, upstairs and down, just like a furnace. Beautifully finished in grained mahogany enamel, it looks like a handsome cabinet phonograph. Beautiful enough to grace any parlor, in its handsome form and rich grained mahogany enamel finish.

And how it heats! Come in and read the book of letters testifying to its heating capacity. Read—not claims we make, or the manufacturers make, but what people who have Heatrolas say about this new-day heater.

The Heatrola heats by circulating warm, moist air—not by radiation. It is just the thing for small homes, bungalows, stores, offices, etc.—with or WITHOUT BASEMENTS. And it is economical. With the fuel needed for one stove it will do the work of a furnace. It is easy to keep clean. No iron to black, no nickel to polish. Just rub it and dust it with a cloth, as you do your furniture.

Join our HEATROLA CLUB now. The number of Heatrolas offered is limited, and the club closes August 12th. So act quickly. On joining you pay $2 down. The balance is payable in easy installments. We then make an installation of the Heatrola when you want it, and we deliver to you FREE ONE FULL TON OF COAL.

Don't delay—Act at once!

Are You Keeping Up Your Insurance?
Lead and oil paint for a good sized house costs from $20.00 to $30.00—about $5.00 a year for decay insurance.
That is about what you pay for fire insurance yet your house may never burn, and if not kept painted it is certain to decay.
Painting Time Is Here
May we suggest that you now consider what painting you would like to do, and how you want it done; then let us help you estimate the cost. We may also be able to help you select colors that will be serviceable as well as beautiful.
It costs no more to use the best paint and varnish than to try to make something else do, and the results are much more satisfactory.
